PACKARD FAMILY BIBLE RECORDS

An old leather-bound family Bible is owned by the Rev. Robert C. Parker, assistant rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Austin, Texas. The title page is missing, but the title page of the New Testament is intact and reads: "New Testament of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ: Translated out of the Original Greek ... American Bible Society. Stereotyped by James Conner, New-York. ... Published by N. & J. White, No. 108 Pearl Street. D. Fanshaw, printer, 150 Nassau Street. 1833."

Judging by the handwriting in the Family Register section, all births, marriages and deaths through 31 May 1833 were written in a beautiful script at one sitting, probably by the mother, Lucretia (Chapman) Packard. Farther down the Deaths page appears "Lucretia Packard my wife died January 10 1862" so we deduce that this was the Bible of Harvey Packard, 1794-1862. (His L has a loop that makes it look like Leuecretia.)

Perhaps because the Bible was bought when she was a baby, Fanny Mariah (Packard) Coleman fell heir to it. The last entry in the death records is that of her daughter, Emma (Coleman) Hatch, maternal grandmother of the Rev. Mr. Parker.

In addition to the printed Family Register pages there are many sheets of paper inserted in the Bible, obviously family history obtained from different relatives, for some are duplicative.

For the sake of chronology, we have placed data on the earliest ancestors first.

+ Samuel Packard, wife and one child came from Windham near Hingham, Norfolk Co., Eng., to Hingham, in Plymouth Colony, in 1638. He removed thence to Bridgewater about 1660. His sons, probably he himself, were soldiers under Capt. Benjamin Church, in the Indian war with the famous King Philip, in 1675 & 1676. He had 12 children - Elizabeth, Samuel, Zaccheus, Thomas, John, Nathaniel, Mary, Hannah, Israel, Jack, Deborah, & Deliverance. He was appointed to office in Bridgewater in 1664, was licensed to keep an Ordinary in 1670, his will was dated 1684, and it is supposed he died not long afterwards. His age was probably between 70 & 80 yrs.

+ Zaccheus, born in Hingham, married Sarah, daughter of John Howard, of W. Bridgewater, had 9 children. Israel, Sarah, Jonathan, David, Solomon, James, Zaccheus, John, and Abiel. He died in Bridgewater Aug. 3, 1723, about 80 yrs. old.

+ John - born in Bridgewater, Oct. 8th 1695 - married Lydia Thomson, of Halifax - 1726. He died June 3, 1738. His widow died at Cummington - in 1774 - they had 5 children - Lydia, Abel, Abigail, John, and Barnabas.

+ Barnabas, born Mar. 3rd, 1738, married Sarah Ford, in 1764 - had 7 children - Barnabas, 1764 - Molly 1766 - Polycarpus 1768 - Bartimemus 1769 - Cyrus 1771. The family removed to Cummington, and two sons were born there - John and Philander.

Dear Sister,

You will have to draw this of(f) if you want to send it away for I am getting to be such a poor writer that I am almost ashamed to write any more. We are getting along finely with our house. The cellar is 7 feet high and it is three feet above the ground with nearly 2 feet of blockwork. The upright is 16 x 26 and 16 feet high and the linter (?) is 16 x 24 and 14 feet high and Henry is a going to cement the bottom all over like yours so I think that will be the best part of the house. They have got all their spring crops in. We have some over a hundred bushels of wheat to sell and Elmer thinks full two hundred. We had over a hundred dollars worth of clover seed last fall. It give us some of a lift towards our house. We are going to brick it up when we get it done. I want you to come out and see me and house to(o).

(this part was written upside down on the same page)

I got your letter last night and as Henry was going to the burg this morning I thought I would answer your letter before I forget. I thank Emma for writing only I wish she would write oftener. I do all my own work except washing. Write soon and often.

Electa

This sheet seems to have been sent to a relative for completion, and the way it was filled in (underlined here) is very confusing. By comparing birth, marriage and death dates elsewhere, I have interpreted the data as shown below. The latest date on this sheet is 30 Jan 1885. Of the 10 Packard sisters, five were alive on that date: Phila C. Fralick [Froelich?], Rhoda Ann Green, Electa Jane Brown, Fanny Maria Coleman, and Emily Everett Fraser.

BOOK REVIEW

WALTHER FAMILY RECOLLECTIONS, by Emma Gene Seale Gentry (Austin: privately published, copyright 1978). Hard cover, charts, map, illustrations, index, 8½ x 11 in. format, xii + 222 pp.

Walther Family Recollections is a real family treasure, a book that will be handed down from generation to generation. It encompasses not only expertly researched vital statistics but also loving (yet not maudlin) insight into the characters and lives of the author's grandparents.

It may be cruel to review a book that is so hard to find--it was compiled just for the delectation of family members. But for those who knew Henry and Emma Augusta (Pratt) Walther it will be a glad reminder of their sterling qualities and amusing quirks; for younger generations the book should be a source of pride and a means of seeing their ancestors as living, lovable persons.

This nostalgic flashback to a small Louisiana town and a bygone way of life in a large, happy family would be appealing even to those who had never known anything like it. If properly filmed, this book would put "The Waltons" in the shade!

Handsomely bound and gold-stamped, beautifully typed (and remarkably free from errors) with generous margins, the volume contains some 20 photographs of identified family members, their homes and stores, a map of Alsatian villages, charts of Walther and Gutapfel lineages, letters from the grandparents and an aunt, and--a most happy idea--recollections about the Walthers elicited for the book from most of their children and grandchildren.

Research by Mrs. Gentry (a long-time, highly valued AGS member) has traced this family back to early 17th Century in Alsace, and involves the surnames Walther, Gangolf, Kappes, Schaeffer, Sonntag, Moritz, Rutschmann, Stud, Gutapfel, Leimer, Stern, Kocher, Frey, Hertzog, and Mutz--all Lutheran families in a predominantly Roman Catholic area.

Since the book was not written for the genealogy-oriented, Emma Gene disposes of the "ancient history" in fewer than 15 pages of interesting narrative leading up to the descendants of Philip and Margaret Louise (Scheffler) Walther. Philip, his children and grandchildren are assigned Arabic numerals (35 in all); beyond that, Roman numerals and then lower case letters are used. Since this section comprises only about 35 pages, this system is easy to follow (up to the present for each grandchild) and provides adequate biographies.

The author's maternal grandparents (No. 2, Henry Walther, 1852-1936, and wife Emma Augusta Pratt) are the focal characters in Walther Family Recollections. The historical facts of their lives as well as anecdotes illustrating their personalities are effectively presented by means of reminiscences written by their children and grandchildren, by taped interviews, and by old letters.

Although rabid genealogists might decry the absence of source citations for the foreign research, the fortunate people for whom the book was written may well rejoice in the inclusion of an excellent index which will enable them to find whatever part they wish to re-read at any time--the topping on a delightful treat.

TEXAS VOLUNTEER UNITS IN THE MEXICAN WAR 1846-48

Part 2

This continuing feature is a compilation of data found in National Archives Microfilm Publications Microcopy No. 278. This consists of 19 rolls of microfilm of the "Compiled Service Records of Volunteer Soldiers Who Served During the Mexican War in Organizations from the State of Texas." (Some of these organizations no doubt included non-Texans, but The Handbook of Texas (I:185) states that 8,018 Texans enlisted during the War with Mexico.)

The jacket-envelope for each soldier typically contains (1) card abstracts of entries relating to the soldier as found in original muster rolls, returns, and pay vouchers; and (2) originals of any papers relating solely to that soldier.

For further explanation of this feature, see pp. 113-14 of AGS Quarterly XIX:4. Several books on the subject are recommended therein, to which should be added Texian Press's Soldiers of Texas, particularly pages 28 and 32 pertaining to the first unit being abstracted.

Thinking that readers would be interested in knowing how many of these soldiers remained in Texas after the war, we have looked them up on the 1850 census. In Part 1 we found a name in Accelerated Indexing Systems' index which seemed likely to be the same as a given soldier, and noted what page of what county's return he was on. Then we laboriously sought an identical man in Mrs. Carpenter's index and transcription. For Part 2 we have bypassed Mrs. Carpenter's voluminous work and gone directly to the microfilmed census.

Therefore, in the list which follows, an asterisk precedes each name which bears a reasonable resemblance to one that appears in the 1850 census. With the more common names there is, of course, less assurance of identity. By showing all the details given in the census, we hope to enable readers to locate their ancestors. Many may be found in the Handbook, especially Volume III, the supplement.

THE GERMAN-TEXAN HERITAGE SOCIETY

Announcement of the recent organization of the German-Texan Heritage Society should be of extreme interest to many of our readers. In the 1840s and '50s the wave of German immigration swept upwards from the coast of Texas (Karlshaven/Indianola and Galveston) through Central Texas to the Hill Country. Most of us have occasion to study the ethnic culture and genealogy of those people.

"The primary function of the Society will be to provide a Newsletter through which interested persons may inform the public and communicate with others, sharing a variety of topics such as preservation of artifacts, book reviews, "how-to" articles, folklore, vestiges of the German language in Texas, field work methods, archives and research topics, and a calendar of German-Texan events in the state."

NOTES FROM THE EDITOR

To those who would like to order the 15-map set called NORTH CAROLINA IN MAPS with descriptive brochure by Wm. P. Cumming: the address is State Department of Archives and History, Division of Publications, Box 1881, Raleigh NC 27602. These fascinating maps (from about 12x15 to 36x17 inches) sold for $5 in 1970.

About CONVERSATION IN TEXAS STATE LIBRARY: We all enjoy the helpful, friendly atmosphere in the Genealogy Section of our State Library, in contrast to the cold, inflexibly silent attitude of some other libraries. But some people (especially the frequent visitors) are abusing the privilege, and carry on five- to ten-minute conversations, sometimes not even about genealogy. Shrill, sibilant or booming voices can disturb dozens of researchers who have only a limited time in the library. It is to be hoped that we members of Austin Genealogical Society will set a good example in this matter.

To Mrs. W. H. Ligon, a new member of AGS: Many thanks for your excellent help in abstracting data from microfilm on soldiers in the Mexican War for AGS Quarterly.

To those who call the college "Exayvier" (Xavier) and spell the verb "zeroxing":

Words in English that begin with x (except X-ray) are almost all of Greek origin and are pronounced with a z sound like the Greek letter xi. For example, Xanadu (Kubla Khan's city), Xanthippe (the wife of Socrates), xenophobia (fear of strangers), xeroderma (dry skin disease), xerography (dry method of producing photographic images--What a blessing to us genealogists . . . Note the ALogists, not OLogists!). Other examples are Xerxes (king of Persia) and the familiar xylophone (musical instrument made of wooden bars).

The corporation that capitalized on the blessed process of xerography registered the trademark Xerox, which should always be capitalized (pun intended). However, now that it has become a household word, used as a verb more often than as a noun, perhaps the lower-case x can be condoned.

But whenever a journal or a letter comes to my house with the word spelled ZEROX, I put it on the floor and stomp on it.

To those who receive this issue IN SPITE OF NOT HAVING PAID 1979 DUES: You will miss your chance to present your problems to readers all over the nation if you don't get your $6/$9 to our treasurer (See inside front cover) RIGHT AWAY. Our June issue will contain a roster of current AGS members, each of whom is eligible to submit 2 pages (totaling 4 for $9 memberships) for publication therein.

To those who wish to participate in the annual (June) ANCESTOR LISTING ISSUE: You may have two facing pages of queries, tables, narrative, or charts, as long as they (1) are "camera-ready" (clear, black, legible) and (2) do not contain material under copyright (YOU are responsible). Put name & address on each page. Allow for three holes in inner margins. . . . Deadline for RECEIPT AT 2202 WEST TENTH STREET (78703) is the 10th of May.

FOLLOW-UP TO ARCHIVAL WORKSHOP

The recent workshop held in Austin on Archival Research Techniques, sponsored by Texas State Genealogical Society and Austin Genealogical Society, was pronounced highly successful. Dr. David B. Gracy II, State Archivist, and Assistant Archivist Michael Dabrishus held the large audience spellbound by their interesting instructions and enlightening information relative to the Texas State Archives.

In their quarterlies from time to time the two sponsoring organizations have published examples of many of the resources discussed by the archivists. Thinking it might be helpful to researchers to see in their local libraries what kind of information found in the State Archives has been printed, before making a trip to Austin, we cite the following hastily compiled references.

For definition, discussion and outlines of material in the Archives: Stirpes XIV:4:100-06; XV:1:6-17 ("Finding Aids"--a MUST); XIII:3:31; XVI:2:74. Also AGS Quarterly VII:4:91-93. In September 1973, Archivist C. Jean Carefoot began a series about the State Archives that appeared in Stirpes thereafter as follows: XIII:3:31; XIII:4:125; XIV:1:10; XIV:2:34-38; XIV:3:67-71. ABOUT THAT MILK OF MAGNESIA & CLUB SODA CONCOCTION

Dr. Gracy opined that the effect on newspaper clippings would be short-lived at best, and may be destructive in the long run. A better way to preserve the content is to Xerox the clipping (perhaps several for economy) on a full-size, fileable sheet of 100% rag bond. You can then write on your best guess as to name of paper & date, if lacking.
