TEXAS VOLUNTEER UNITS IN THE MEXICAN WAR 1846-48

Part 3

This continuing feature is a compilation of data found in National Archives Microfilm Publications Microcopy No. 278. This consists of 19 rolls of microfilm of the "Compiled Service Records of Volunteer Soldiers Who Served During the Mexican War in Organizations from the State of Texas." (Some of these organizations no doubt included non-Texans, but The Handbook of Texas (I:185) states that 8,018 Texans enlisted during the War with Mexico.)

The jacket-envelope for each soldier typically contains (1) card abstracts of entries relating to the soldier as found in original muster rolls, returns, and pay vouchers; and (2) originals of any papers relating solely to that soldier.

For further explanation of this feature, see pp. 113-14 of AGS Quarterly XIX:4. Several books on the subject are recommended therein, to which should be added Texian Press's Soldiers of Texas, particularly pages 28 and 32 pertaining to the first unit being abstracted.

Thinking that readers would be interested in knowing how many of these soldiers remained in Texas after the war, we have looked them up on the 1850 census. In Part 1 we found a name in Accelerated Indexing Systems' index which seemed likely to be the same as a given soldier, and noted what page of what county's return he was on. Then we laboriously sought an identical man in Mrs. Carpenter's index and transcription. Since then, we have bypassed Mrs. Carpenter's voluminous work and gone directly to the microfilmed census.

Therefore, in the list which follows, an asterisk precedes each name which bears a reasonable resemblance to one that appears in the 1850 census. With the more common names there is, of course, less assurance of identity. By showing all the details given in the census, we hope to enable readers to locate their ancestors. Many may be found in the Handbook, especially Volume III, the supplement.

Sequence of Data from 1850 Census of Texas: NAME; COUNTY & ORIGINAL PAGE NO.; NUMBER OF FAMILY VISITED; AGE; f or m (if sex is not obvious from name); OCCUPATION; VALUE OF REAL PROPERTY; PLACE OF BIRTH; OTHER INFORMATION. Having found page on the census in Accelerated Index, the numbering of the visitations leads one to the entry in Mrs. Carpenter's transcription, to which I am indebted in some instances (where microfilm is illegible), but which often may be interpreted differently.

OUR WISE AND FORTUNATE ANCESTORS

Our pioneer ancestors had many hardships: They had to clear their own fields, build their own houses, grow their own food, provide their own transportation, fend off Indians, outlaws and wild beasts by themselves -- but they didn't have to endure the nuisance of Daylight Saving Time. No re-setting of clocks for them, no sheepishly walking into church late because they forgot to do so, no sudden change from arising in the daylight to stumbling around in the pre-dawn dark.

Scenes of Ancestral Church Viewed at Terrell/Tyrrell Family
Gathering, as Reported by Descendant Alice (Duggan) Gracy

+ +

On 25 March 1979, the descendants of William and Susannah (Waters)
Terrell of Virginia met in the home of Dr. and Mrs. David B. Gracy II.

All were impatient to see the slides taken in 1963 by the David Gracys, when they visited All Saints Church, East Horndon, England. This before the church was vandalized. They took interior pictures of, among other treasures (relics), the helmet and gauntlets worn at the Battle of Agin-court. When the church was vandalized a year or so later, these were stolen, as were the four bells from the church tower; these were cast in 1621, 1622, 1635, and 1735.

We were equally interested to see the 1978 slides taken by Mrs. Barron and her family. These showed the church after restoration, which was made possible by money raised in the United States, mainly Texas, by Mr. Stuart.

The group was then addressed by Mr. John J. Stuart, who is International Appeal Secretary for the All Saints Society of Brentwood, Essex County, England. The purpose of this Society is to restore and preserve All Saints Church, which is on former property of the Tyrrell family and was its family church. The church itself dates back to the 13th century.

Following Mr. Stuart's remarks, his sister, Mrs. Frank M. Taylor, who is the Terrell family historian, told us something of the period when the first Terrell left England for Virginia. She also mentioned two books on the Terrell family: one on the genealogy of the family, the other

BOOK REVIEWS

EUROPEAN ANCESTRY OF THE PRESCOTT FAMILY OF AMERICA, compiled by Doris Cline Ward. Privately published 1976, revised and enlarged 1977. Enameled stock cover, ca 5½ x 8"; viii + 159 pp.; full-name Index 25 pp. Bibliography + References throughout. $10.50 from author at 42 Larchmont Road, Asheville NC 28804.

European Ancestry of the Prescott Family of America, a godsend to Prescott descendants, could also be of inestimable value to thousands who have no Prescott lineage but may trace back to William the Conqueror and wife Matilda, to Isabel de Vermandois, to Alan, Lord of Galloway, to Charlemagne--the possibilities are endless. Three Prescott wives whose lines are extensively traced are Alice Standish, Alice Molyneux, and Mary Gawkroger.

This book is the culmination of many years of intensive research and the revision of Doris Ward's first edition which was built around a manuscript delineating the lineage of Charles W. Fairbank back to King David I of Scotland. Then Mrs. Ward's attention was drawn to the works of Dr. F. L. Weis (Eight Lines of Descent from Alfred the Great to John Prescott of Lancaster, Mass., etc.) in which that author traced his Prescott ascendancy to Alfred, King of the West Saxons 871-899/901. After much additional study, Mrs. Ward amended the early data in her book and prepared to mail revised sheets to people who had purchased copies.

At the ninth hour she learned from a professor of Scottish history at the University of Glasgow that Alan of Galloway must have had a so-far unidentified first wife, which invalidated another presumption in her book. While re-working this lineage, Mrs. Ward wove in related lines that were seated in Sweden, Norway, Brittany, Normandy, Flanders, Ireland, Kiev and other areas in the East--we all know how hard it is to cut off the tangents! The fine Index of this edition is a key to a condensed encyclopedia of Medieval nobility.

With refreshing honesty, the oft-frustrated author wrote this reviewer about yet another stumbling block that has been placed in the path of her book: "It was based on the work of Dr. F. L. Weis - his assessment of the connection between John and James Prescott of America and a specific Prescott family in England. The validity of this connection is under fire by Walter Lee Sheppard who is the person revising Dr. Weis' book Ancestral Roots of Sixty Colonists. Mr. Sheppard thinks Dr. Weis' proof is not sufficiently conclusive, so as it stands, the relationship has not been proven sufficiently, nor has it been disproved. ... if anything develops, I will immediately notify everyone" who buys the current edition of European Ancestry.

This is an attractive book, very readable and professionally typed, using a format typical of those dealing with ancient lineages which so often lack exact dates and even names of wives, but are full of awe-inspiring names. So much data has long been and must be taken on faith, with only a passing reference in an obscure history book for proof, that I was almost lulled into missing the ridiculousness of the statement on page 54: "whether these are his total life dates is uncertain because he could hardly have been five years old at the birth of his son." [underlining mine] Let's not be so overawed by the peerage that we fear to challenge a statement of fatherhood at the age of five!

Since this book will be used as a reference, with frequent turning from one section to another, one could wish that it had been more substantially bound; but it can be warmly recommended to all who are interested in the kings, lords and ladies of Merrie Old England, their peers in the royal courts of Europe, and their descendants in America.

SOME EARLY TRAVIS COUNTY, TEXAS RECORDS, Abstracted and compiled by Jane Sumner. Southern Historical Press, Easley SC 29640 (1979). 160 pp. + 28-page Index, $27.50.

This book goes from the general to the specific. First, is the land; the amount of it, the disposal and management of it, and the necessity for properly housing the voluminous records created by it.

"Land was given away to encourage immigration, reward good citizens and veterans for military service, encourage settlement and improvement of land; help the growth of railroads and other internal improvements, and for educational purposes and systems."

There is a brief background on the City of Austin, which was the capital of the Republic of Texas, is the capital of the State of Texas, and is the county seat of Travis County. "Texas was a Republic for TEN years, ONLY, but the Travis County Records continued, uninterrupted by the change from REPUBLIC to STATE, and through the difficulties of the War between the STATES."

Following the Travis County Records of transfers of land by grant, deed, will, and so on, land records are included from 23 other counties: Austin, Bastrop, Bell, Blanco, Brown, Burleson, Burnet, Caldwell, Coleman, Colorado, Fayette, Gonzales, Hardin, Hays, Lamb--part of whose land was payment for the building of the present State Capitol Building--Lampasas, Lavaca, Lee, Llano, Milam, Somerville, Williamson and Yoakum.

The citations to each legal document are noted by book and page number. There is a very useful list of abbreviations which are common in such instruments, and 28 pages of index.

Scattered among the records are cemetery records, marriages, affidavits (which give so much family information), marks and brands, and (from Somerville Co) a unique list of "Commercial Travelers, Drummers or Solicitors of Trade" with dates of their licenses.

An Addendum contains data on the Earnest, Hamilton and Wright families that should be a windfall to many researchers.

Miss Sumner is well qualified for compiling a book of land records (especially Travis Co) for she was a title lawyer (1930-1946) with the Gracy-Travis County Abstract Company before she opened her own law office. But for the benefit of those who lack such experience, it would have been helpful to include a Texas map of the period. That would have aided the reader in understanding land records cited in other counties, such as those later cut out of Travis.

ANNUAL AGS WORKSHOP WILL CONCENTRATE ON CHURCH RECORDS
DISCUSSED BY PROMINENT SPEAKER

On Saturday 25 Aug 1979 the Austin Genealogical Society will sponsor a genealogical workshop featuring research in church records, with F. Wilbur Helmbold as the eminently qualified instructor. Other speakers and their topics will be announced later, states Mr. Tommy Miles, Workshop Chairman. Alabama research will also be discussed.

Dr. Helmbold is University Librarian at Samford University (the "Mecca" of genealogists) in Birmingham AL, and Director of the Institute of Genealogy and Historical Research. He is secretary of the Board for Certification of Genealogists, and author of several books, including Tracing Your Ancestry and the companion Logbook.

Dependable information about the location and genealogical content of church records is hard to come by, so Dr. Helmbold's lecture is certain to be valuable. Time permitting, there will be opportunity for questions that may be of general interest.

To be held at Quality Inn South (2200 S. I-35, Oltorf exit) from 8 to 4 (Registration 8-9 a.m.), the workshop is open to all who are interested in family history/genealogy.

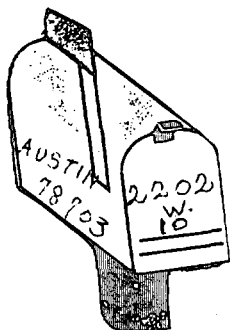

The fee, including the Quality Inn's generous buffet, is $15 at the door, or $12.50 for those registering before 10 August. Send check (made out to Austin Genealogical Society) to the treasurer, Mr. H. L. Lemburg, 6008 Belfast Dr, Austin TX 78723. Registration blanks will be included in the next few AGS Newsletters, and may soon be available in the Genealogy Section of Texas State Library for those who go there in person.

Mark your calendar NOW and don't miss this fine event!

That 1820 Census Puzzle . . . . . An item in Family Puzzlers No. 597 inspires me to pass on (with gratitude) Mary Bondurant Warren's wise reminder that a male youth 16, 17, or 18 was counted twice on the 1820 census: once (16-28) for the population count, and once (16-18) as a potential member of the militia force. . . . One can learn more from Family Puzzlers (Heritage Papers, Danielsville GA 30633) than from many genealogical publications twice its size!

TRACING THOMAS MCNEAL

My great-great-grandfather, Dr. David Franklin Brown (1801-69), on 14 Oct 1829 married Jane Frances McNeal (1813-52) in Bolivar TN (Marriage records of Hardeman Co, TN). When I was a child, my great-aunt's voice took on a special quality when she informed me that Jane's grandfather was Col. Ezekiel Polk, grandfather of the president. I could tell by the timbre of her voice that she was proud of that name, but she seemed to hurry over the intervening generation: Clarissa Polk (1782-1846) who married Thomas McNeal (1771-1830).

I have come across several indications that Jane (McNeal) Brown had an over-abundance of family pride, but after all, how many women in the new state of Texas were first cousins of the man in the White House (1845-49)? One impression of her attitude was recorded in the diary of a young man from Maury Co, TN (where Jane and David grew up) who stopped by the Browns' place on the San Marcos River one spring: "At Dr Browns 11 A.M. he is not at home his lady is a very affected haughty old lady but treated me very kindly but I was dissatisfied in her company and did not wait long for the Dr." (Diary of R. K. Campbell, 1849-59; #2K304 in University Archives, Barker Texas History Center, Austin TX 78712)

It intrigued me to note that the solid, pioneering, red-blooded Brown family, following almost the same migration pattern as the Polks, did not intermarry with that socially elite clan until their blue blood was "diluted" (as I supposed) by Clarissa's marriage with an orphan. I fully expected to find something at least slightly embarrassing in his background when I started tracing Thomas McNeal's line.

But, although it was on her mother's side that Jane was related to President Polk, she really had nothing to apologize for in her father's line, as far as I have been able to determine.

Thomas McNeal did suffer one embarrassment that has been publicized: he "had to enter Jackson's army as a private in 1813, because the prejudices of the members of his company 'against men of wealth and tallents' prevented his expected election as captain." (C. G. Sellers Jr., "Colonel Ezekiel Polk," William & Mary College Quarterly, 3rd Ser., Vol. X, p. 94 ff.) But on 19 May 1813 he was commissioned (through the influence of his father-in-law?) a captain in the 46th Regiment, according to Mrs. J. T. Moore's Record of Commissions of Officers in the Tennessee Militia, 1796-1815, p. 208.

Captain McNeal (sometimes called "Colonel" by courtesy) apparently carried his leadership qualities over into civilian life, for he is described as a "prominent farmer and early leader in Hardeman County" by Dr. Herbert Weaver (Correspondence of James K. Polk, Vol. I, p. 164). And C. G. Sellers in the abovementioned article stated that McNeal took a prominent part in organizing Maury Co, also.

Nor did Jane need to belittle the patrimony or social standing that her father brought to the marriage. He and his sister Prudence had inherited a third of their Grandfather Spratt's plantation plus another one on Sugar Creek in Mecklenburg Co, NC, and a "Patent of Lands" in Tryon Co, besides about 275 pounds derived from the sale of their mother's personal estate. And ever since he was about four, Thomas had been a part of the household of his uncle-in-law, General Thomas Polk, who entertained the Marquis de Lafayette after the Revolution. Thus it seems that the boy was exposed to the social graces and, no doubt, as well educated as the circumstances of time and place allowed.

SO . . . I delightedly reached the conclusion that Aunt Fanny's slighting of the McNeal family when she called the roll of our ancestors was not because she had something to hide but because she knew nothing to relate about Thomas's antecedents. (Or could it have been because the only live McNeal she knew kept game cocks, of which she violently disapproved?)

For an adequate biography of Thomas McNeal, anyone interested may check pages 134 and 217 of War of 1812 Soldiers of Maury County, Tennessee, by Jill K. Garrett. The purpose of the present sketch is to identify his parents.

Through correspondence I was kindly furnished with a copy of a will discovered among papers left by a Polk descendant. Written by Martha McNeal in Mecklenburg Co, NC in 1775; it directs that her children Prudence and Thomas be sent to her sister Susannah Polk. Several histories of that county state that Susannah, daughter of Thomas Spratt/Sprot (who was probably the first settler of Charlotte), married Thomas Polk.

The will of Thomas Sprot (Abstract of NC Wills by J.B. Grimes, p. 356) names daughters Susannah Polk and Martha Sprot (unmarried in 1757 in Anson Co). He willed two tracts of land to Martha; in her 1775 will she referred to "all my real and personal estate" and "the Patent of Lands in Tryon Co" (which was taken from Anson Co ca 1768). I obtained photocopies of these wills and was able to correct some former misconceptions, such as reading Bassett for Barnett, etc.

After an almost fruitless search in the court house at Charlotte (in one index I found her as "Neal, Martha M."), I enlisted the services of a native of the county, and she found what I had looked in vain among probate records for: Letters of administration were issued to "Martha McNeal, wife and relict of Archibald McNeal, Dec'd" during the April Term of Court, 1774 (Mecklenburg County, North Carolina, Court Minutes, Book I, 1774-1780, abstracted by D.F. Briscoe in 1966, p. 201).

Several Archibald McNeals (various spellings) are mentioned in NC Colonial Records, many after the Revolution. Possibly father or grandfather of our Thomas was the "Arch. McNeale" who was granted 320 acres of land in Bladen (parent county of Anson) in 1741, and eight more in 1746. Caution in using the index of Colonial Records is urged.

No marriage record for Archibald and Martha has yet been found, but I'm hoping for the miraculous emergence of a Bible one of these days. It is possible that they married as early as 1765 and that Prudence was born before Thomas (1771), since she was twice mentioned before him in their mother's will--when males were still paramount.

Much remains to be found--I need to search cemeteries around Charlotte for the graves of Martha and Archibald McNeal, parish burial records, marriage records for the subsequent history of little Prudence (who had many namesakes), deed books, etc. But at least Thomas McNeal is no longer a potential skeleton in the closet!

B. Parents of N. E. Howell- David Howell (b. 1831, Gryson Co. Virginia; d. 1906, Okla.) and Martha Ann Payne (Paine)-- (b. 1844, Ind.; d. 1912, Ind.). Other names in this line are Brandon, Hutchins, Cox, Trent, Watkins, Sherman and Brasswell. Most from Va. and N. C.

MARY SHEEGOG -- parents were C. Avis Beatrice Stephens (b. 1881, Ky.; d. 1958, Ky.) and D. Elzie Willis Sheegog (b. 1877, Ky.; d. 1960, Ky.).

C. Parents of Avis Stephens - James and Margaret (Jones) Stephens. Both were born in Wales in the 1840's. They came to U. S. in 1876. Dupnt brought him over to help run coal mines in Ky. His parents were George Luke and Sarah (Evans) Stephens. Her parents were David and Mary (Williams) Jones.

D. Parents of E. W. Sheegog - 1. Richard William Sheegog (b. 1846, Tenn.; d. 1917, Ky.) and Henri Ellen Brawner (b. 1857, Ky.; d. 1944, Ky.).

1. R. W. Sheegog's parents - John G. Sheegog (b. 1825 Ireland; d. 1850's, Tenn.) and Emily E. Jones (b. 1820, Tenn.). I think John came to the U. S in 1841. I have alot on the Sheegog's in the counties around Nashville. I have nothing on Jones but a picture of Emilys of a Rev. Sam P. Jones of Cartersville, Ga.

2. H. E. Brawner parents - John T. Brawner (b. 1824 Ky.; d. 1892, Ky.) and Susan Morgan (b. 1836, Ky; d. 1888, Ky.). I have quite a bit on mst lines of this family. Brawner names - Carlisle (Carlile) Cates, Speake, Wade, Gardiner, and Meek. Morgan names - Bunch, Brown, Kirk, Springer, Prickett, and Garretson.

I would appreciate any help or advise on any of my lines. I will gladly share any information I have.

This led me into tracing the families of many names, some variations of the spelling of the names, in which I was primarily interested. My first family history "The Scarritt Clan in America," was published in 1938, the year I started my column, "Your Family and Mine," as "Your Clan and Mine." This first book was published because my father-in-law said that after years of travel as a business man, that there were few of his name. This proved to be untrue - directly related people were located in all of the then 48 states, and a couple of missionaries.

This research led me first to study the history of "Scarritt College," later the college at Berea, Ky., started by the Rev. John Gregg Fee. I heard years ago about the finding of Santa Anna's cork leg, during the Mexican War - and forty years later when I contacted great-great-grandsons I received a lengthy autobiography of Captain W.L. Duncan, whose company took a Mexican position and found the General's carriage, a chicken dinner, gold and the leg. He discusses the war in detail, and also going to Calif., for the gold rush in 1849. Earlier I said that ancestor hunting makes history come alive. This is one example. Another, in 1978, I took the part of Moses Austin, in "Gone to Texas." I found little in the reference books on Mr. Austin, but did dig up a clippings, from the days at the U. of Mo., which told more than the reference books. This led to contact with Dr. David B. Gracy, II, of the State Archives who is writing a book about Moses Austin. When you are interested in tracing ancestors - no matter whose - you'll get side effects that are of historical interest. I was contacted by a Mrs. James E. Wolford, who was interested in tracing her own family to prove a connection with that of my own mother. She was referred to me by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, who have purchased several of my books for their library. She referred me to a Mr. W.V. (for Vandall) Masterson of Bull Shoals Lake, Ark., who claims an ancestor who had the name, Gertrude Westlake. About the same time Dr. Thomas Allen Bruce, of Little Rock, Ark., was referred to me by an old friend, Mrs. A.C. Taylor of Rose Hill, Va. He contributed a considerable amount of data to my Fee History. He had a question about the Noe family - Do you know anyone who is tracing the Noe family? I checked a letter written in 1972, and got considerable data for him that was furnished by a lady in Dallas. As this is written a lady from White Salmon, Wash., wrote that she had seen my Fee History, as a result of that had spent three days on Colonsay Island, and now wanted to purchase all of the data I had on the Fee Family. Checking an index, one day, I came across the name Wolford. I could not remember who it was, because I remember that very good correspondent of many years as Mrs. Charles Fee, of Zeiring, Iowa, who had forwarded a letter to me, dated 1972 from a lady who was not only a Wolford but traced her descent through marriages to about 20 of the families that lived on Nantucket Island. She and her brothers and sisters were also descendants of Thomas Macy, who first went to Nantucket. Dr. Bruce was delighted with the Noe data, Mrs Wolford with the Wolford data, and Mrs. Fee sent me the current addresses of her relatives, born Wolford. I needed data on them to add to my Macy history (my paternal grandmother). Thus I believe that this shows that the world is a small place after all - and many who say that they are not related to so-and-so, haven't checked the facts. When I heard from Ms Marilyn Adams, of Decatur, Ga., who was interested in the Westlakes she loaned me a new book on the Cherrington family, which added a new section to my Westlake history. This interested Mrs. Wolford who had not known about the Gilboa Meeting House where many Cherringtons and Westlakes of Va., later W.Va., were buried. Two people had written of visiting the cemetery there. And so it goes. Letters come in, you get long distance calls from people who have found a letter of 1966 or some such date when going through the things of a deceased parent. One such letter from Neb. Fee, led to Wash., where it turned out there was a lady, maiden name Westlake, 98 years young, born in a sod cabin in Kan. This led to another man, in Wash., who sent pictures of an uncle named Westlake, of the Ohio branch, (from Va., later W.Va. I am frequently asked what I charge to do research. My answer - I do not do such I leave that to those who make such a business. Instead I reproduce and sell copies of the family histories which I have developed. C. "The Mirror Crysedale History." B. In addition I have more than 500 pages on Pearsons, there were 100 in the FW. (only part is indexed.) "The Scarritt Clan in America," mentioned earlier, Vol. II (1948) and now an addenda, including 30 pages from a society in County Galway. In this connection I recently started research on the Scarrett branch and found they came from Galway, as did the Skerretts and Scarrotts). I have found directly related Scarretts in New Carlisle, Springfield, Columbus, Granville, and Newark, O. so far. These are only some of the 1,500 family histories compiled, or written. I have a copy of "The Secret Family of Samuel Houston," "The Eskridge Family," and of course the complete ancestry of President Lincoln. A member of my paternal ancestor's family was a member of Lincoln's cabinet. (I got interested in this as the result of a newspaper article, about the six Ohioians who had been U.S. Attorney Generals. Likewise a drama critic's review of a film about the famous dancer, Isadora Duncan, was added to the Scarritt addenda. Recently there was a review of another book about President Lincoln, by a UT professor. Another recent one was written by a UT graduate. Mr. Carl Sandburg is reported to have said, in 1928 that at that time, 50 years ago, 4,000 books pamphlets and articles had been published about the 16th President. Most of them, like the article in TIME, 8-12-1977. not true. To show how much trouble you may have with your ancestry, various writers have credited Nancy (Hanks) Lincoln with at least 51 fathers. It is apperent from dates that some conclusions are ridiculous. Imagine the number of allied families, just in the list above. Many of the people named are certainly related, although not yet documented. The greatest source of help can be queries, letters to the editor, and letters to people of the name in which you are interested. Include SSAE. You never know who will reply, or when.

I started ancestor hunting 60 years ago. I believe that ancestor hunting makes history come alive for young people and permits older people to contribute to history, and receive mail.

I started tracing my own ancestry. Eventually I have found it interesting to trace the ancestry of many other families. Those of Mrs. Pearson, of my sons-in-law, and daughter-in-law.

WILL APPRECIATE ANY INFORMATION ABOUT MICAHAH LINDSEY b. abt. 1774, S.C.

This page ties in to page 40 of the June 1978 Quarterly. Your editor apologizes for omitting it at that time; Mr. and Mrs. Tumey sent in extra pages, and I inadvertently held back the wrong one.

My grandparents were both Ligans. My grandmothers line goes back to the George Lygon mentioned above. I have only been able to trace my grandfathers line back to Joseph Josiah Ligon married to Evaline Griffin. I would appreciate any information on this line if anyone could help me tie these two lines together. I have no other information on Evaline Griffin. They are both buried in Alvarado, Texas.

Also helpful would be an explanation of the arrangement of the land records to be followed, and tips on what a genealogist should watch for. Incidentally, the passports mentioned on page 155 are in the papers of individuals, not grouped as passports per se.

On balance, the wealth of factual data in this book far outweighs picayune criticism, and Austin Genealogical Society can take pride in this praiseworthy addition to the list of valuable genealogical books that have been produced by its members. [Adjectives added by Editor; Mrs. Gracy is one of our authors!]

JESUS RAMÍREZ

My paternal great-grandfather, Jesus Ramírez, was a Mexican Indian. He, his parents and brothers and sisters came to Texas in the late 1860's.

Jesus Ramírez was a supporter of Benito Juárez, the Indian who became president of Mexico. Juárez was opposed by the aristocracy and conservative forces in Mexico. It was this strong conservative side which threatened Jesus and caused him to leave the country. According to family stories, Jesus, around twelve or fifteen years of age, had to be hidden among the pigs because the conservative federales were coming after him for his avid support of the liberal-minded Juárez. Shortly after this, the entire family fled to Texas. At the border, Jesus was dressed up as a girl since no boys were allowed to cross because they were needed for the Mexican army.

Jesus was raised in La Vernia near Floresville, Texas. It was here that missionaries converted him from the Catholic religion to the Methodist. Frequently he and his brothers would gather and speak in an Indian dialect, their native tongue. In 1872 he married Urbana Ramos. They lived in Seguin, Texas where they raised eleven children.

Jesus was a hard-working, religious man. He was a shoemaker by trade. He, along with German settlers, helped build a Methodist church in Seguin for Spanish-speaking people. When he died, he left a will which provided for all of his children, grandchildren and his old widowed mother who was still living in Wilson County. The will distributed personal property, mules, horses, a cow and calf, farming implements and cash in the bank all totaling approximately $4300.

This was an outstanding accomplishment for a man who signed his last will and testament with a nervous X.

MCCLENDON ANCESTORS--Proof is still lacking for my earliest McClendon ancestors, but at this time, it is believed they are: Dennis Macklendon, one of three sons of John MacLennan of Scotland who arrived in N.C. ca 1696-1705. Dennis and wife Elizabeth were in Perquimans Co., N. C. in January, 1696. Dennis married second, Deborah Astine Whedbee, a widow.

Dennis had four known sons: Brient, Dennis, Francis and THOMAS. Thomas Macklendon m. ca 1716 Elizabeth Bush (Wm. Bush, Sr's will 1716, Chowan Co., N.C.) They had 8 children: Joel, Dennis, John, Isaac, Jacob, THOMAS, JR., Jemima, and Stephen.

Thomas McClendon, Sr. was b. 1728-1730 N.C.; d. Henry Co., GA. He m. 1st Louisa F. ____? 2nd) Sarah Cooper. Children: THOMAS, Joseph, Jephtha, Wiley, Jacob, Cynthia, Lydia, Sophia and possibly others. There were at least two Thomas McClendon/McLendons in Henry Co. at the same time. Thomas left a will dated 1831, but did not name his children except a deceased daughter, Elizabeth. (Will of Thomas III)

Thomas McClendon III m. Elizabeth Calloway and lived in Baldwin Co., GA before settling in Henry Co., GA. O'NEAL ANCESTORS--There is still much to be discovered and proved about this family line. Samuel O'Neal is the first ancestor we have definite data about that shows he is my ggg-grandfather. He possibly was the son of Micajah O'Neal and grandson of John O'Neal/O'Neill. One John O'Neill came from Londonderry, Ireland to N. Y. on the Ship Westpoint 23 Nov. 1811. The 1820 census, Johnston Co., N. C., lists both Micajah and Samuel O'Neal.

IGO ANCESTORS--Lewis Igow/Igou and his wife, _____? are the earliest known Igo ancestors who came to America probably from France in 1730. Lewis came from a high-caste family. His first wife died leaving a son of whom nothing is known. He then married a girl from lower caste named Mary____? His family ostracized them and disinherited Lewis. That, plus religious persecution, caused them to come to America. He bought Friends' Discovery (a plantation) in 1735 in Baltimore Co., Maryland (now a part of Baltimore City). His will is available from the Hall of Records and also is in a series of Will Books available at most large libraries.

Most of the following has been proved except the connection between No. 3 and No. 4 below. Census records and various other information passed down by family members lead us to believe there is a connection.

FOUNDING FAMILIES IN WALL STREET JOURNAL

One of the founders of AGS calls our attention to a new feature in The Wall Street Journal which promises to be valuable to genealogists. A series of sketches of present-day members of the Founding Families of America will include data on their immigrant ancestors. It seems logical to assume that anything printed in the prestigious Journal will be accurate and may correct or add to data we may have previously acquired.

EARLY TRAVIS COUNTY CITIZENS

William D. Glascock grew to manhood in Pittsylvania County, Virginia where he was born about 1815. He was a descendant of an early Virginia family from England, that was in America by 1643. It is believed that he and his brother, Zebulon Pike Glascock, attended Princeton University in New Jersey about 1833.

He was in Madison County, Alabama by 1834, where he married. He brought his wife Salina A. and daughter Anne Elizabeth to Texas about 1839, settling in Bastrop County. The family probably lived on part of a 474-acre tract of land, owned by Glascock, on Sandy Creek, east of the Colorado River, on the south-west half of the Enoch Harris League.

The Glascocks' four sons were born in Bastrop County; three of them fought for the Confederacy during the Civil War. The youngest daughter was born in Travis County.

In the spring of 1842 he was a private in Captain James H. Gillespie's Company of volunteers from Bastrop County, under General Edward Burleson in the Vasquez Campaign. They were dispatched to San Antonio for six weeks when General Rafael Vasquez and his men were a threat to that city. His two brothers, Thomas G. and Zebulon Pike Glascock, also served in the Campaign.

The family was on the move again, by 1850 the Glascocks had settled in a pecan grove north of Williamson Creek in southwest Travis County, part of a 320-acre tract of land deeded to him by his uncle, Thomas Anderson.

The homestead land was cleared, log houses were built for the family and slave quarters, both with rock fire places. The building logs used were brought from a saw mill in Bastrop County. One of his slaves was an aged Negro man by the name of Moses Hind.

He is believed to have changed his cattle brand after he came to Travis County from "WG" to a "Texas Star", probably so as not to conflict with his neighbor, William Grumbles's brand.

Sarah F. Barker, widow of Leman Barker of Bastrop County, was living with her son, William D. Glascock and his family in 1850. She is believed to have operated the Barker House, with her son Thomas G. Glascock, which was located between Pecan and Bois d' Arc. Streets, (6th & 7th ). The Barker House was formerly the Eberly House, owned by Mrs. Angelina Eberly, who was famous for food as well as her part in the Archives War in 1842. Sarah was the daughter of Colonel Daniel Coleman of Pittsylvania County, Virginia. She died in February 1860.

William D. Glascock owned several tracts of land in Bastrop and Travis County at the time of his death in June 1853, including a town lot in the City of Austin at Pine (5th ) and San Jacinto Street, where part of the present day drive-in facilities of the Austin National Bank are located.

He is believed to be buried in an unmarked grave in a small family cemetery on the old home place near Williamson Creek. The Glascocks were the first settlers in the area now known as Oak Hill, Texas.

Who is my neighbor? It has been suggested that we all examine the Society's roster and find members living nearby. Neighbors can arrange to share rides, and in that way we can save gas, enjoy more fellowship, and increase attendance at meetings.

AGS membership includes 32 from Texas towns besides Austin, and 13 out-of-staters, from AZ, CA, FL, GA, IL (3), LA, NM, OK (2), TN, and WA. We would like to welcome them all in our spacious meeting room in the new Central Library. Come and bring a friend!

"Sir" vs. "Esq."

Recently the phrase "Sir Thomas Blank, Esq." caught my eye in a genealogical listing. Webster's Unabridged tells us that an esquire was "a man of the English rank of gentry next in dignity below a knight." The title "Esquire" thus belongs to the eldest sons of knights (and their eldest sons) and to the eldest sons of younger sons of peers (and their eldest sons).

Thomas Blank may have been a squire (shield bearer to a nobleman) before he was knighted, but when he acquired the title "Sir" he discarded the "Esq." which he had advanced beyond.
