MUSTER ROLLS OF COMPANIES THAT ENGAGED
IN THE STORMING OF BEXAR, 5-10 Dec 1835

For about two months the Texian Army had camped near San Antonio de Bexar without attacking the Mexican troops who held the city. On 3 December 1835 Col. Edward Burleson ordered the volunteer troops to withdraw to Goliad, but the next day Col. Ben Milam returned and challenged the Texans to capture the city with him; three hundred responded enthusiastically. In five days Gen. Martín Perfecto de Cos and his 1200 men capitulated, and San Antonio remained in the control of the Texans until 6 March 1836, when the Alamo fell.

This "Siege of Bexar" or "Storming of Bexar" was accomplished with the loss to the Texans of only four men killed and 15 wounded.

From the Texas State Archives, several muster rolls of companies that participated in this engagement have been copied by Mrs. J. B. Golden, our Archives Records Research Chairman. The filing area of one document reads: "List of those engaged in Storming of Bexar, A.D. 1835. Capt. John York's roll," below which, with dittos fore and aft, appear the names of James Cheshire, James G. Swisher, John Crane, George English, Wm. H. Landrum, Thos. Lewellyn, T.F.L. Parrott, Wm G. Cook, Thos. H. Breece, J.W. Peacock, Thos. Alley, H.H. Edwards, and P.J. Dunchan [Peter J. Duncan]. *(See p. 166)

Captains Cooke and Breece led troops collectively called the New Orleans Greys, which were treated in our June and September issues. The small companies of Captains Parrott and Cheshire will be examined first in this issue, after which will appear the units that were in the First and Second Divisions, in that order.

An Act of the Republic of Texas, approved 30 Dec 1840, required the Secretary of War to issue "320-acre bounty warrants to all those who had entered Bexar between the fifth and the tenth of December [1835] and had remained until the surrender" (Thomas Lloyd Miller's Bounty and Donation Land Grants of Texas, 1835-1888, p. 27). This was called a "special bounty" because it gave 320 acres for less than the usual three months' service in the army.

In 1837 the Republic had granted donations of 640 acres to those who had participated in certain engagements of the Revolution: the Battle of San Jacinto (plus those wounded the day before and those who were detailed to guard the wounded and the baggage), the Siege of Bexar (but only one certificate to those who participated in both), the Massacre at Goliad (19 Mch 1836, under Fannin and Ward), and the Fall of the Alamo (amended in the latter cases to "heirs of").

On 10 Oct 1855 the original list of bounty warrants was lost in a fire--arson is suspected, perhaps to destroy traces of fraudulent practices. Some veterans did not apply for grants until late in life, after the prohibition of sale of the land and the indigency requirements were rescinded. Passage of sundry Acts stimulated men to apply for their grants at various times; perhaps if a man had all he could farm, it was too much bother to claim the balance due him.

Many of these men also received headright grants of land as early settlers in Texas. One place their names can be found (in variant spellings, such as Thomas H. Breace/Breas/Brease/Brece/Breece/Breice/Breies/Brieece/Bruce) is in the three-part index to "The Lost Book of Harris County." This was painstakingly transcribed by Gifford E. White and published in 1980 by the Chambers County Historical Commission under the title of Board of Land Commissioners, Harris County, Texas, 1838 Class 1 and 1838 Class 2 [GEN 976.4141 / H24b].

Each name on these rosters has been looked up in Miller's Bounty... cited above, under every spelling I could imagine. The rosters appear to be reconstructions or copies, judging by the errors in copying or remembering names (e.g., Hugh McCollum appears as H. M. Cullum), and from the fact that more than one company is listed on the same page.

When a name on a roster also appears on a "Detailed Report," the number and spelling on the report are listed second; then, if different, the spelling in Mr. Miller's book. Following his format, the data indicate that the man received a Donation Certificate or Bounty Warrant of --- acres on --- for --- battle or term of service. Then the number of acres in --- County (Cty) that was patented to him (or his heirs or assigns) on --- date concludes the record.

Sometimes when the file says land was patented to the veteran it apparently is an error for "to his heirs", since land had been patented to his heirs at an earlier date. In other words, you cannot be sure he was alive on the date it was patented "to him."

N.B. I did not copy Bounty Warrants for service after the war ended; many veterans re-enlisted and received additional grants.

USTIN GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY is looking for a few special people with big hearts and willing hands (and at least one with a strong back) to learn the technique of bulk mailing. Barbara and Jerry Goudreau have carried this responsibility (almost alone) for lo these many years; it's time someone else took it over, or at least gave them some assistance. Barbara has it so well organized that it requires very little time and effort now, but you do have to plan your vacations with mailing time in mind! Give these faithful members a call at 345-6034 and offer to help mail our newsletters and quarterlies.

Meanwhile, let's give the Goudreaus a big hand!

Daniel M. Crist

Subscribed and Sworn to before me this 19 day Oct A.D. 1853

Francis T. Duffau
Notary Public, Travis Co.

I have examined & compared the foregoing list with the Roll on file in the Adjutant Genls office & find it Correct.

Jno M. Swisher
Auditor."

This interesting item was found in Texas State Archives by Mrs. Michael Selman, whose husband's great-grandmother, Lee Della Crist, was the granddaughter of Capt. Daniel M. Crist.

Captain Crist's little company was mustered into the Army of the Republic of Texas, under Brig. Gen. James Smith, to guard the Northwest Frontier. Perhaps the reason the men were discharged after only a month's service was that in 1841 "the Indians were less bold The terrible chastisements they had received had taught them caution. ... expeditions against them were practically fruitless, as, on discovering parties penetrating their country, they fled beyond pursuit" (John Henry Brown, History of Texas, Vol. II, p. 197).

Daniel M. Crist was born 15 Apr 1817 in Franklin County, Indiana, to George and Elizabeth (Gard) Crist. Michael and Cindy Selman have learned from family Bible records. (Ericson's Nacogdoches--Gateway to Texas seems to be in error in giving his birth data as 1814 in Alabama). Daniel came to Texas with his brothers Stephen, Reason and John. (Stephen's "Certificate of Entrance into Texas" reveals that he was sponsored by Daniel Parker who had led a congregation from Illinois to Anderson County where they became the Pilgrim Primitive Baptist Church at Elkhart.)

Daniel's headright certificate for one third of a league of land states that he entered Texas as a single man in November 1833. He joined Capt. Michael Costley's company of mounted rangers 11 Sep 1836 and (in 1854) received a 320-acre bounty warrant for three months' service from that date.

Thomas Lloyd Miller's Bounty and Donation Land Grants of Texas does not show a donation certificate for Crist, but Cindy has found evidence that he received one. In 1881, R.V. [Revolutionary Veteran?] Donation Certificate #428 for 1280 acres was issued to D. Crist, signed by W.C. Walsh, Commissioner of the General Land Office. Since donation certificates were given only to veterans (or their heirs) of the Siege of Bexar, the Alamo, Goliad Massacre, or San Jacinto, it is believed that Daniel participated in the last named battle. The published lists of such veterans are admittedly incomplete. The number of acres (twice the bonus for a battle) indicates that he served in the army about six months.

Daniel Crist married Sarah Ann Childers/Childress (records often vary on this name) about 1839-41, and they had ten children. The tax rolls of Anderson Co, TX, indicate that he died there ca 1891.

The Handbook of Texas has six paragraphs on James Smith, the commanding officer of the force of which this company was a part. He was born in South Carolina in 1792, served in the War of 1812, then married Hannah Parker. They resided first in Lincoln Co, TN, then (in 1835) opened a plantation in Nacogdoches Co, TX. Early in 1836 Smith was elected captain of a troop of cavalry, becoming colonel by November. He patented his bounty land in Rusk Co.

In 1841 he was again made commander of a part of the Texas Army, guarding what was known as the Northwest Frontier. At that time he was commissioned brigadier general. In 1844 he was called to military service to help put down the "Regulator-Moderator War" in Shelby County.

General Smith represented Rusk Co in the first State Legislature of Texas in 1846-47, during which time a new county was named in his honor. He died in 1855 at Henderson, his home in Rusk County.

Another prominent name appears on this document: Francis T. Duffau. Born 1808 in New York, he had come to Texas in April 1836 with the volunteer cavalry company organized at Natchez MS by John A. Quitman. After Texas had won her independence, Duffau stayed in the army until 20 Dec 1837.

In 1841 Duffau was working in the General Land Office in Austin, but in 1842 he participated in the campaigns against Rafael Vásquez and Adrian Woll. In 1850 he married Mary G. Davidson in Austin, and engaged in the drug business (with Benjamin H. Thompson at one time) and in other enterprises and civic offices.

1860 brought military duties again to Duffau, as he was appointed aide-de-camp to the commander of the 14th Division of Texas Militia, for home defense. Death came to him in 1871 in Bell Co, but he was buried in Austin.

Stewart/Steward Alexander Miller, born 1805 in Virginia, came to Texas in 1839. He was a member of the 1843 Snively Expedition ("an unsuccessful attempt to capture the rich Mexican caravans ... crossing North Texas To retaliate for indignities heaped upon the Texans resulting from the Texan Santa Fé Expedition, the Mier Expedition, and Gen. Adrian Woll's raid on San Antonio," to quote the Handbook). Miller kept a diary of the abortive campaign. On his return, he married Rebecca Frances Whitten; dying in 1893, Miller was buried in Crockett TX.

In the absence of source-book references to Jacob Snider (by any spelling), and given Miller's association with Jacob Snively, I submit that on this muster roll (compiled 12 years after the event), "Snider" may have been a slip of the pen for "Snively."

Jacob Snively (ca 1809-1871) had come to Texas by April 1835, when he was surveying for the Mexican government around Nacogdoches. Between March 1836 and September 1837 he rose in the Army of the Republic from lieutenant to colonel. He later served as army paymaster general, and was sent by Sam Houston to parley with the Indians. The Handbook does not mention his whereabouts between 1839 and 1843--it might be that in 1841 he enlisted in this short-lived company because he enjoyed the life of a ranger. Ever venturesome, Snively went west in the Gold Rush era (after the fiasco of his expedition in 1843) and became a citizen of California. He was killed by Apaches in Arizona.

Checking only The Handbook of Texas and T. L. Miller's Bounty and Donation Land Grants of Texas produced possible references to other men listed on this document as follows:

Adams, John Q. received a Bounty Warrant.

Berry, Thomas O. received a Bounty Warrant.

Carr, James--not found, but John Carr who received a Bounty Warrant is a possibility. The Handbook writeup of James Kerr [pronounced Carr] does not preclude him from being in this company.

Duffau, Francis T. [spelled Duffan in Miller's book] received a Bounty Warrant.

Hughes, Thomas M.--Donation Certificate for being at San Jacinto ...Bounty Warrants for Thomas and Thomas M. Hughes. ... A town in Gregg Co is named Hughey.

Killough, Allen--Bounty Warrant by Special Act in 1848.

Nash, J.H. and Jesse E. received Bounty Warrants (plainly written J.B. Nash on muster roll).

Payne, Thomas P. received a Bounty Warrant.

Roberts, David--Donation Certificate--was at San Jacinto.

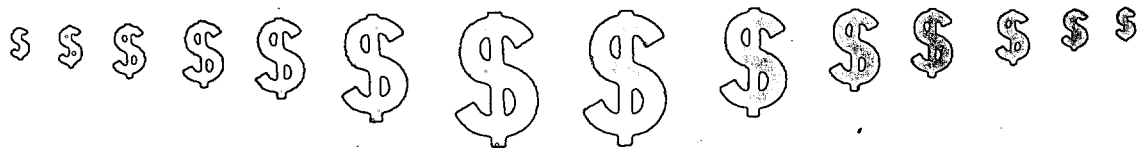

Rowe, James--Donation Certificate for Siege of Bexar.

Rucker, Calvin--Handbook says town in Comanche Co named for a Calvin Rucker who established a gin there in 1890.

Shanks, Joseph S. received a Bounty Warrant.

Swisher, John Milton received both Donation Certificate and Bounty Warrant. Interesting sketch in the Handbook: At 16 he fought in the Battle of San Jacinto as a private; in 1846 he did ranger service as colonel of the 1st Regiment, Texas Militia; he raised a company for Mexican War service; during the Civil War he was a member of the Texas State Military Board. He married (1) Maria Sims, (2) Nellie A. Nickerson, (3) Bella French. He died in Austin in 1891.

The above may or may not be the men who were in Captain Crist's company, but it seems likely that men who had fought for Texas before would respond to the call to do ranger service when danger arose.

MAKE YOUR FORTUNE AT HOME!

Would you like to acquire a marketable skill and help out the Austin Genealogical Society at the same time? If you have mastered the alphabet and are reasonably observant and careful, I can give you on-the-job training toward becoming an expert indexer. Publishers pay good money to get books indexed, and I can recommend you to several when you become proficient. Then you can earn money at home at your own pace.

Meanwhile, you will be assisting in the production of the AGS Quarterly, and earning the thanks of your fellow members.

Also, your editor would welcome an assistant or apprentice to "learn the mysteries of the art" of producing the Quarterly, at least enough to take over in case of emergency. Call me, Helen H. Rugeley, at 477-7313 (preferably in the daytime) if you are even slightly interested, and we may be able to reach a satisfactory arrangement.

TEXAS VOLUNTEER UNITS IN THE MEXICAN WAR 1846-1848

Part 12

In March 1847, Mexican guerrilla operations inspired rumors of disaster which nearly panicked Col. Samuel R. Curtis of the Ohio Volunteers, commander of the garrison at Camargo. Supposing the Army to be in peril, he initiated calls for more troops, including 2,000 mounted men from Texas to be mobilized for six months. They were directed to rendezvous at San Antonio; the soonest-organized unit set out for Mexico about the end of April.

But about the 20th of May Gen. Zachary Taylor deemed Colonel Curtis' emergency "notoriously long since passed away," and ordered the troops back to San Antonio in hopes that they would re-enlist in 12-month companies. His Order No. 60 directed that the regiment be paid "as if it had been called into service by authority of the War Department or the commanding general."

Part of one company (Hill's), en route for Mexico, did not receive General Taylor's order to return to San Antonio for discharge. Mustered in on 14 April, it was the only company to be assigned a letter (Co. A), and was mustered out at Monterrey on 16 June 1847.

Captain Snell's company existed only 23 days--the shortest term of any. The men of this regiment were enrolled between 10 March and 14 May. The respective dates of mustering out in San Antonio were: 2 June 1847 (companies commanded by Captains Gillet and Long), 4 June (Gillaspie, Muckleroy and Smith), 5 June (Clark, Crump, Sims, Snell, commander and staff).

MEMBERS:

IF YOU HAVE run out of space for your AGS Quarterlies or have no special reason to keep them, bring them to a meeting. Your editor would like to have them, as we are alarmingly low on some numbers, and get requests for back issues all the time. Even tho' we charge for them, it is not enough to cover the postage now.

THANKS!

MYSTERY SOLVED VIA GENEALOGY; or,
HOW LULING, TEXAS, GOT ITS NAME

The town of Luling, in Caldwell County, was established in 1874 but its citizens soon forgot the origin of its name. Some said it was named for a Chinese cook who was called Loo Ling. Others opined that the town was the namesake of Lula, a railroad engineer's fair daughter. Still others insisted that it was named for the wife of a banker in New Orleans. The subject brought on many hot debates in small gatherings of grass-roots historians as well as the whittle-and-spit sidewalk bench fraternity for some 90 years.

The argument was at last settled on 2 Oct 1969 when a young German rode into town on the Greyhound bus. He made his way to the bank to cash a German Traveler's check, and the teller learned that his name was Manfred Luling. When the young man stated that he had come to see the town named in honor of his great-aunt, the word got around, a crowd gathered as if by magic, and the assemblage wound up in the City Hall.

There Mr. Luling explained that Hitler had ordered all German heads of families to compile a detailed genealogy (in order to detect any possible Jewish blood). Manfred's father, a magistrate, wrote an extensive family history, mentioning that there was a town in Texas named for his aunt who had married J.H. Pierce, president of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railroad. While the line was being built in that vicinity, Mr. Pierce laid out the town in 1874, giving it his wife's maiden name, Mr. Luling concluded. [Prairie Lea would have been the site of the Caldwell County Freight Depot had it not been almost completely destroyed by fire in 1873.]

This account was printed in the 100th Anniversary Edition of the Lockhart Post-Register dated 29 November 1972, quoting The Luling Newsboy of 2 October 1969. The Handbook of Texas, copyright 1952, under "Luling" says the town was named for the wife of J.H. Pierce, a former president of GH&SA Railroad. There is no corroborative entry under any Pierce, but Volume III, © 1976, lists Peirce, Thomas Wentworth who "was instrumental in building the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railroad ... Peirce (now Pierce) Junction named for him." He married (1) Mary Curtis and (2) Cornelia Cook.

We can but assume that J.H. "Pierce" was his less-famous brother, still influential enough to name a town.
