HOW DID SECOND LIEUTENANT PETER HARPER EARN
SUCH HIGH PRAISE FROM GENERAL SAM HOUSTON?

Mrs. Sam G. Cook, a dedicated member of the committee of AGS members who are abstracting data from the Comptroller's Records in Texas State Archives, has furnished the following items for our Quarterly, feeling that they would be of great interest to the soldier's descendants, as well as to others interested in the history of the Republic of Texas. The documents are filed under RG 304, Audited Military Claims, Republic of Texas. [They are arranged below in what is presumed to be chronological order.]

[Item 1-A]

Head Quarters San Jacinto April 27th 1836

In seeking the reason for such a laudatory discharge, I came across no mention of extraordinary action on the part of Peter Harper in the principal accounts of the San Jacinto Campaign. In fact, it has been hard to find any precise details of his life in the limited time available for research.

According to The Texas Almanac 1857-1873, compiled by James M. Day, in the "List of All the Men in the Texas Army at the Battle of San Jacinto", Peter Harper was Second Lieutenant under Captain William Hester Patton in the Fourth Company, Second Regiment of Texas Volunteers, commanded by Colonel Sidney Sherman.

The 4th Regiment is sometimes referred to as Sherman's Mounted Infantrymen. Dr. Nicholas Labadie [paraphrased as below on p. 117 of The Day of San Jacinto by Frank X. Tolbert] had this to say about the activity of Sherman and 70 of his men on the day before the Battle of San Jacinto:

Then the Texans, being mostly mounted riflemen, had to dismount and reload. ... They reloaded, got back in the saddle and forced the Mexicans back a second time.

Tolbert remarked (ibid., pp. 129-30) that, on the 21st of April, "since the army had lost several horses in [Sherman's] cavalry action the day before, they must have been suffering a more severe shortage of horses than of men able and eager to ride them." So we can't be sure whether Peter Harper rode or marched across that prairie toward the enemy's camp on the San Jacinto.

We do know, from the official list, that Captain Patton had been one of Sam Houston's aides-de-camp prior to the battle. He must have requested re-assignment as leader of his troops for the occasion.

Peter Harper apparently did not come to Texas from Kentucky with Sidney Sherman who equipped and brought 52 volunteers for the Texas Revolution, for they embarked for Texas on 31 Dec 1835, whereas Harper is credited with service beginning on 8 Nov 1835. (I have not found just where he was from 8 Nov to 27 Dec.)

Nor did he come from Tennessee with Davy Crockett, whose service for Texas started 8 Jan 1836 (according to his Bounty Warrant), by the same reasoning. Perhaps Harper was first a volunteer in the company of Captain Patton, who received a bounty warrant for service from 28 Sep 1835. Patton had come from Kentucky in 1828 and settled in what became Brazoria County [The Handbook of Texas]. He participated in the Battle of Velasco and in the Siege of Bexar (5-9 December 1835). Peter Harper could have been with him in the latter engagement but decided not to mention it in his application for a donation certificate because San Jacinto was the more spectacular event. (A donation certificate was given for only one of the major encounters with the enemy: either the Siege of Bexar, the Fall of the Alamo, the annihilation of the troops serving under Fannin or Ward, or the Battle of San Jacinto (including those detailed to remain with the sick and the baggage at Harrisburg the day before)).

Hereinbelow, in chronological order, are set forth such details of the life of Peter Harper as have been found to date by this chronicler, with sources in brackets for each one. It will be noted that some statements contradict others, and some are merely suppositions on my part.

- 1810 - Peter Harper born in Pennsylvania [Age 40 on 1850 census; see 1850]
- 1835 - after 2 May - Came to Texas [sketch in Louis Wiltz Kemp's San Jacinto Notebook H-Hol, in Barker Texas History Center]. However, the head-right certificate issued to him by Board of Land Commissioners of Nacogdoches County, for one third of a league of land (the amount allotted to a single man) merely says before 2 March 1836. It would have given the earlier date if it had been proven to the board, noted Kemp in the same notebook. See 1838 below.

1835 - 8 Nov - The beginning service date on the filing of Harper's audited claim #540 (Item 5 above). [Two months prior to 8 Jan 1836, declared Sam Houston in Item 3 above.]

1835 - 27 Dec - Harper enlisted in Captain John Chenoweth's company [p. 68 of Army Rolls in General Land Office, per San Jacinto Notebook].

John Chenoweth was at the Siege of Bexar 5-9 Dec 1835 and took command of Capt. John W. Peacock's company when the latter was mortally wounded. In February 1836, Chenoweth joined the main army under James W. Fannin, who left him in command at Copano (a bay on the Gulf Coast in Aransas-Refugio counties, an early port of entry). Chenoweth was a private in W.H. Patton's company at San Jacinto [Handbook of Texas].

Although his name was not on the list of San Jacinto participants in the 1859 Texas Almanac, it is now on The Honor Roll of the Battle [(C) 1965]. Thomas Lloyd Miller's Bounty and Donation Land Grants of Texas, 1835-1888 shows "John Chenowith" served in the army 6 Oct 1835 - 1 Oct 1836, and "John Cheneworth" received a donation certificate for being in the Battle of San Jacinto. It would be interesting to know why he became a private after having a company of his own.

1836 - 8 Jan - Peter Harper commenced service at Nacogdoches under Col. D[avid] Crockett as a mounted man and spy (scout) [Notation from Sam Houston, Audited Military Claim #540, Item 3 hereof].

Did he later perform an unpublicized spy mission for his commander-in-chief and thus earn "the Thanks of his General"? That might explain the words "vigilance, firmness, and activity" that Houston used in Harper's honorable discharge paper.

Regardless of where Peter Harper served in November and December of 1835, it appears likely that he was one of "the volunteers drifting around Nacogdoches" [A Time To Stand by Walter Lord, p. 54] who cheered the arrival of Colonel Davy Crockett and his 12 or 15 followers. He may have joined Crockett's band of merry men on the 8th of January in order to get experience as a scout and in woods lore, and he may even have been with the "Tennessee Mounted Volunteers" when they reached San Antonio on February 8th, but obviously he was not with them in the Alamo when every man was killed on March 6th, as he was subsequently elected Second Lieutenant of Patton's company on April 8th. Possibly Harper enlisted in Crockett's company for a limited tour of only 60 days.

1836 - 5 Apr - Peter Harper elected 2nd Lieutenant of Captain William H. Patton's company [Statement of Houston in Item 3, Audited Military Claim #540]. He was 2nd Lt. of Capt. Wm. H. Patton's "Columbia Company" at San Jacinto [San Jacinto Notebook]. He was listed as 2nd Lt. in the 1859 Texas Almanac list of San Jacinto participants. He served 20 days as a second lieutenant [Houston's note, Item 3 hereof]. Although officially discharged 27 Apr 1836, Harper was given credit for service until 15 May on his bounty warrant - See 1848.

1836 - 27 Apr - Harper was honorably discharged as a second lieutenant [Item 3].

A puzzling notation, handwritten and then marked through on the last page of Peter Harper's sketch in the San Jacinto Notebook, states: "He was a second lieutenant at San Jacinto but Colonel Jesse Benton Jr. who ~~succeeded~~ -- [sic] was in command of Captain Patton's company when it was disbanded made an affidavit June 21, 1856 that Mr. Harper was a private when he was discharged" [p. 232, Army Rolls].

Benton was District Attorney, 7th District in 1842. He was one of those assigned to guard the baggage at Harrisburg before the Battle of San Jacinto.

Could it be that Harper was demoted because of friction with Benton, but was able to convince General Houston tht he did not deserve the demotion? That might explain the extraordinary compliments the commander-in-chief paid him in the personal letter of discharge - the original of which Harper prudently kept.

1837 - 9 Feb - Presumably, Peter Harper took General Houston's letter [Item 1-A] that proved his honorable discharge to the Auditor's Office sometime prior to this date and was informed that exact dates of his service and his election as an officer were required for processing his claims. The auditor, John W. Moody [Texas Almanac 1857-1873, pp. 56-57] (who served 1837-1839), wrote a note to that effect [Item 2], on the back of which Houston replied in detail [Item 3] on February 9th. This seems to have lit a fire under the auditor, so he completed the paper work the same day. Moody (or a clerk) copied the honorable discharge dated April 27th 1836 and endorsed it, noting that Lieutenant Harper retained the original [Item 1-B]. The auditor took the veteran's statement that he owed the Government nothing and had embezzled nothing belonging to the Republic of Texas [Item 4]. Finally, Auditor Moody issued Draft No. 768 in the amount of $67.88 (Harper's military pay in full) and indicated on the filing [Item 5] that the claim was processed the same day it was filed.

1838 - 27 Apr - A headright certificate for one third of a league of land (1,476.1 acres) was issued to Peter Harper by the Board of Land Commissioners of Nacogdoches County, according to the San Jacinto Notebook. [That raises the question: Why would he get only the amount allotted to a single man? The Notebook must be in error on this one point.] For in the same source, referring to the Minutes of that Board, it states that John S. Roberts testified that "He knew applicant previous to the 2nd of March, 1836, [that he] has a family and lives in this county." Henry Raguet stated the same.

In Nacogdoches -- Gateway to Texas by Carolyn Reeves Ericson, p. 68, we find "HARPER, Peter - married ... Rogers, daughter of James Rogers; 2nd Lt. of 4th Company, 2nd Regiment in 1836; See Board of Land Commissioners Minutes for 1838." No other source of the marriage statement is cited, and this researcher did not find such a marriage in Marion Day Mullins's Nacogdoches Marriages, so he may have married before coming to Texas. Not knowing her given name, I could not identify Peter's wife in the cemetery records of that county, either.

In "Index to Application Book No. 3 Land Locations, 1838" prepared by Nell Brannon, Office of County Clerk, Nacogdoches County, Texas [printed in Records of East Texas, July 1972, Vol. 6 No. 4 p. 157], Application #685 was made by Peter Harper. John Wilkins, editor of that fine periodical, Records of East Texas, started publishing the actual Proceedings of the Board of Land Commissioners of that county on page 159 of that issue, but the publication was discontinued before Harper's headright was reached.

1838 - November Peter Harper was granted one league and one labor by Headright Certificate #544 [Nacogdoches Headrights, 1838-1848 by Carolyn R. Ericson, extracted from a microfilmed copy of the records of the Nacogdoches Board of Land Commissioners.]

Peter Harper's name was not found on the printed 1845 Tax Roll of that county.

- 1839 - 10 Jun - Peter Harper sold 640 acres of his headright land grant to Samuel Bean. Harper was then living in what became Cherokee County, then part of Nacogdoches. Witness was Robert Bean, son of Samuel, who [father or son?] was a physician, which may be a link with Harper's profession as a chemist [See 1850 below.] [Deed Records of Nacogdoches County, Vol. F p. 65, cited in Kemp's San Jacinto Notebook]
- 1848 - 21 Mch - Peter Harper received Bounty Warrant #404 for 320 acres from the Attorney General for military service 18 Jan - 15 May 1836 [Miller's Bounty & Donation ... "18 Jan" must be an error for "8 Jan" as seen in his military service record].

Often these warrants were bought and resold many times before being used to patent land, in which case there is a "chain of transfers" in the file at the General Land Office in Austin that should be of interest to the researcher. The ultimate assignee of Bounty Warrant #404 was William M. Burris, who patented two 160-acre tracts in Lamar County in 1871. He probably was not related to Harper.

- 1848 - 14 Oct - Peter Harper received Donation Certificate #126 (640 acres) from the Attorney General for being in the Battle of San Jacinto [Miller's Bounty & Donation...], which shows that two thirds of this land was patented by John D. Tanner in January 1888, and the remainder a month later by S.J. Scott. [However, the Kemp Notebook gives 14 Oct 1849 as date of issuance, and names George May as purchaser - see 1859 below].

- 1850 - Sep-Oct - Census of Lavaca County shows Peter Harper, Chemist, age 40, born in Pennsylvania.

Examination of the Index to the 1850 Census of Texas revealed only one Peter Harper, who was in Lavaca County in Dwelling #126 under Gab. Zumwalt, Farmer, age 41, born in Missouri. His wife and six children were born in Missouri and Texas, but Peter Harper (Chemist) age 40, was born in Pennsylvania - no wife or children listed with him. Harper's listing is corroborated in Judge Paul C. Boethel's The Free State of Lavaca (p. 145), with the remark that "tradesmen were scattered about the county" because the only two settlements were too small to support them, so they had to supplement their trades by farming. He listed a stone mason, a wheelwright, a gunsmith, and "Peter Harper, chemist, who lived with Gabriel Zumwalt." It is possible that "chemist" meant "druggist", many of whom ministered to the community with pharmaceutical as well as herbal remedies.

Currently in a display case at Barker Texas History Center in Austin is an 1838 broadside advertising "Universal Pills," a patent medicine claimed to be "particularly adapted" to the climate of the Republic of Texas. Peter Harper may even have been a sometime traveling medicine show man, especially if he still had a horse. He may have been in Lavaca County only temporarily on business, and the Nacogdoches census may show a Harper household headed by a woman in his absence.

If 2nd Lt. Harper was the same man as the Peter Harper who was listed as a chemist on the 1850 census of Lavaca County, could he have earned Sam Houston's gratitude by supplying some sort of painkiller after the general was wounded? Or did he concoct something that increased the effectiveness of their material?

- 1856 - 21 Jun - Col. Jesse Benton Jr. affirmed that Peter Harper was a private when he was discharged [San Jacinto Notebook, citing Army Rolls page 232. See 27 Apr 1836 hereinabove].

We might hypothesize this explanation: Suppose something triggered friction between Harper and Benton who replaced Captain Patton when he was assigned to guard

Santa Anna after the Battle of San Jacinto. There may even have been ill will between them dating back to their mutual residence in Nacogdoches - Benton is known to have written a letter from there early in 1836. If Benton demoted Harper as a disciplinary action and the young officer was able to convince the general that such action was unjustified, General Houston may have tried to counteract it by emphasizing that Harper had been a second lieutenant and "was discharged as such" [Item 3]. Benton may have been resentful of the fact that he could not claim the glory of having been one of the victors at San Jacinto, since he had been given orders to remain in the army camp opposite Harrisburg before the battle [Honor Roll of the Battle].

1859 - 17 May - Peter Harper, resident of Anderson County (originally part of Nacogdoches) sold Donation Certificate #126 to George May [San Jacinto Notebook: Kemp commented that Harper did not apply for land under his donation certificate which he received in 1848 or 1849, but sold it on this date, as seen in the Deed Records of Lee County, Book B, p. 472].

As seen above (1848), May did not patent land under it either. Perhaps Peter Harper was deterred from claiming all the land due him because, by Act of 21 Dec 1837, which granted the lands to veterans of the Revolution, recipients of such benefits were forbidden to sell or mortgage the lands [later changed]. Those who did not crave large farms or ranches found it more immediately profitable to sell their warrants and/or certificates [Nacogdoches -- Gateway to Texas, p. 217].

Peter Harper's headright grant must have been in the northwest part of Nacogdoches County since his residence has been identified successively in Cherokee County (taken from 'Doches in 1846) and in Anderson (created in 1846 from Houston County which came out of Nacogdoches in 1837) - unless, of course, Harper himself moved farther and farther west. However, I could not find him on the microfilm tax rolls for the late 1850s or cemetery records of those counties.

What finally became of the man whose bravery, good conduct, vigilance, firmness and activity were so lauded by his commander-in-chief? And what did Peter Harper do to earn such a glowing commendation from Sam Houston? Does one of his descendants now appreciate what a treasure of a discharge paper he/she possesses? If any of our readers can add anything to this story, we hope you will send it to the editor at 2202 W. 10th Street, Austin TX 78703, and let me share it with the others. I'll be glad to pass on my Harper census research notes, the list of books I've consulted, and a few suggestions for further research.

I've grown quite fond of Peter Harper and would like to meet his descendants!

There's no telling how many other touching and tantalizing items may be uncovered by the efforts of Chairman Johnnie Reeves and his committee consisting of Belle Cook, Caroline Bass, Betty Rathbone, Olan Caffey, and a few other occasional researchers. They would eagerly welcome assistance on this huge project so that we can sooner publish the Audited Military Claims which will make such an excellent source book for researchers in the era of the Republic of Texas. It will certainly augment our long-awaited Republic of Texas Pension Application Abstracts, details of which may be seen at the back of this issue.

If you have experience in deciphering old handwriting and legal documents, do call Dr. Reeves at 258-4683 and offer your services.

FIRST SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, AUSTIN, TEXAS

ROLL OF MEMBERS

As explained in our last issue, these records are a continuation of those published by Mrs. Roy Morris twenty years ago in AGS Quarterly Volume VIII Number 4. The handwritten "Roll of Members" is frequently hard to read, for many names have been marked through and some data superimposed on ditto marks, and so on. It is almost impossible to be sure which notation a date applies to, also.

The records include (a) how the person was received into membership (by letter from previous church, on profession/confession of faith, or on examination); (b) what had become of the member since then (Dismissed to another Presbyterian church, Dropped to join another denomination, Died, Placed on Retired Roll, or Placed on New Roll).

In our compilation of data from several lists below some duplications may be found: e.g., J.C. Smith and John C. Smith may or may not be the same man, but Mrs. Linnie Smith might be the mother of Miss Linnie Smith, so it was deemed best to publish them exactly as written (when decipherable). Unfortunately, the pages were not dated, so it is seldom clear just when something occurred. "Deceased 1886" may mean he died that year or he was dead by 1886.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Austin Feby 11, 1884

Some time in the future it may be desirable to some one who may take an interest in the history of the Southern Presbyterian Church in this city, to know something respecting its origin and growth - The following is an abstract of a paper I have prepared, at the request of the Session, for insertion in a publication about to appear under the name of "An Encyclopaedia of the Presbyterian Churches, North and South, in the U.S."

This church dates back to 1850, when it was organized by Revd. Wm. M. Baker, with five members, and placed on the roll of the Churches, under the care of the Presbytery of Brazos, Texas - April 11/54, The Synod of Texas Set of [?] the territory of Cent[ral?] Tex. Presb., and the Austin Church became one of its churches. Mr. Baker was its pastor until the close of the Civil War in 1865, by which time the membership was about seventy-five.

When the war ended Mr. Baker resigned the care of the church and moved to Ohio; contemporaneously with this action on his part, and upon his advisement, a majority of the members withdrew from the care of the Presbytery of Central Texas, and connected themselves with a Presytery in Kansas belonging to the Northern General Assembly. They also took the *Church property which had been paid for in larger measure by those of us who would not abandon our relation to the Presbytery of Central Texas than by themselves. - Eleven of us were thus left without a house of worship and without a Presbyterian ministry, save that occasionally our Presbytery specially sent us one of its members to preach to us - This was our condition four years. In 1869, Revd. A.A. Porter, D.D., was sent to us by our General Assembly's Committee of sustentation. He preached to us until his death Dec. 8, 1872. In his time our roll of members grew to be 71 in number - also while he labored among us, and largely through his efforts, our present church site was secured, but no effort to build could be made - Dr. Porter was succeeded by Revd. Henry McDonald, our Stated Supply. He came to us immediately after the death of Dr. P. In his time 21 members were received and mainly by his efforts in that behalf, some money was raised to build our house of worship - The foundation was laid and the walls erected. He resigning, we called Revd. R.K. Smoot of Bowling Green, Ky. to be our pastor. This occurred in July 1874 - Dr. Smoot was willing to accept our call, came to see us, and was instrumental, while among us, in starting an effort that was quite successful, to raise money to carry on work upon our church edifice - His church in Ky. refusing to part with him, in Nov 1874 we sent our call to Revd. John S. Grasty D.D. of Shelbyville Ky. He accepted and came - His pastorate lasted 18 months. For some time after he came our weekly Sabbath worship was in Smith's Opera House on Pecan Street. We had previously used the school room of our brother Revd. B.J. Smith. Soon after Dr. Grasty assumed the care over us, we borrowed a sufficiency of money to complete our house of worship, and we occupied it for the first time in June 1875. During his pastorate there were 45 accessions to our roll of Church members - He resigning, we again called Revd. Dr. Smoot. This time we succeeded in securing his pastoral services. He came to us in October 1876 and is our pastor at the date of this writing - during his pastorate, so far 175 new names have been added to our roll of members. The aggregate of additions to our Church since Dr. Porter took charge of it is 301. In this time, for religious purposes, at home and abroad, we have contributed over fifty thousand dollars - In as much as matters relating to Church organizations sometimes become subjects of interest when there is no one alive to rehearse them, this paper is here inserted by one who became one of the little flock of 1850 a few weeks after its organization.

FAMILY LAND HERITAGE PROGRAM

Each year since 1974 the Texas Department of Agriculture has recognized families who have operated a farm or ranch on the same land continuously for at least a hundred years. Brief histories of the award-winning families, naming the successive land owners and their children and grouped under the respective county name, are published annually.

Since the attractive volumes (which include many heirloom pictures) have the names of only the current land owners in their indexes, AGS Quarterly is attempting to remedy that deficiency, as space permits. Instead of page numbers, we group the names by their counties (which cover only a few pages each, and are in alphabetical order), assuming that researchers will want to read all about their ancestors' neighboring relatives and friends.

Apologies are offered if some surnames are wrong - sometimes the narratives are hard to interpret as to generations - whether Tom, Dick and Mary are the children of the founder or of his daughter.

Married names are in parentheses in the book, but the genealogical form (maiden names in parentheses) is followed herein. If a name is unknown, we put three dots in parentheses; nicknames are in quotation marks; editorial suggestions in brackets; "pic" indicates that there is a picture of family members or buildings on the page.

This series started in AGS Quarterly Vol. XXIV No. 4 - November 1983.

Hints for Researchers Seeking German Ancestors

In its first year Heritage Quest (a bi-monthly genealogy technique magazine) published 45 pages of material on doing German and German-American research. They were written by Walt Hilbig, M.A., A.G.

In his History of New Braunfels and Comal County, Texas 1844-1946, Oscar Haas devotes the five-page Introduction to "Procedure for Genealogical Research," giving advice and specific examples of problems of mis-interpreting the records. He discusses census, church records, ships' passenger lists, naturalization records, German social, athletic, musical and fraternal organizations, and newspapers as sources of information.

Besides the 1850 and 1860 censuses, Mr. Haas's book has lists of New Braunfels Founding Colonists, Recorded Deaths of 1845-46, School Trustees, Postmasters, Civil War Soldiers and Militia Companies, City and County Officials, Charter Members of of the German Protestant Congregation of New Braunfels, etc.

18th ANNUAL AGS GENEALOGICAL SEMINAR

Our Annual Event (having grown from Workshop to Seminar) is now "coming of age" this year, and we cordially invite all past attendees (as well as new genealogical buffs) to come see how we are improving! The 1987 AGS Genealogical Seminar will be presented on Saturday the 22nd of August from 8 a.m. till 4 p.m. at La Mansion Hotel, located at 6505 IH-35 North (IH-35 and 290 East).

The theme this year is "German Heritage - Yours and Mine." If you have despaired of accomplishing genealogical research in East Germany, you will be delighted to learn that it can be done and how it can be done.

The Society is pleased to announce that the guest speaker will be the renowned Mr. John W. Heisey of York, Pennsylvania. He holds an M.A. in American Studies from the University of Pennsylvania and has done undergraduate work at the University of Maryland. Formerly director of research and library for The Historical Society of York County, Mr. Heisey is a professional genealogical consultant, author, lecturer, and teacher of genealogy. He is well known as editor of the popular genealogy column in the Tri-State Trader and of the Mennonite Family History Magazine. He has also written several successful books.

Seminar participants will also have the opportunity of meeting members of the German-Texan Heritage Society, who will be on hand to share their expertise on the subject by visual displays and other modes of communication.

Topics discussed at this seminar will not be limited to German ancestors alone - genealogy per se; there will be insights into German history, geography, and culture which will be of interest even to non-Germanophiles.

There will be door prizes for lucky registrants who are present when their names are drawn, and interesting free materials as well. Ample VENDOR and EXHIBIT SPACE is available. Those interested in reserving such space should address Dr. James B. Carter, 2802 Northwood Road, Austin TX 78703, right away.

Plans for a sociable gathering the evening before the seminar are being incubated. When they have hatched, announcement will be made in the AGS Newsletter and mailed flyers.

This will be a seminar you cannot afford to miss! Our efficient and gracious chairman, Mrs. Betty DuLaney Kaiser, has managed to keep the cost down to last year's level:

Pre-registration - $20 (prior to August 15th)

Registration at door - $25

This price includes a delicious salad-and-dessert buffet lunch served in an adjoining room, so you won't have to go out and find an eating place.

Registration blanks will appear in the AGS Newsletter for June, and subsequently. If you would like to send some to non-member friends, call Betty Kaiser at (512) 459-0426. She can give you additional information, as it becomes available. She has several exciting ideas that are being developed.

EXHIBITORS and NON-MEMBERS who would like more registration information should send request to

Austin Genealogical Society, Box 1507

Austin TX 78767 - 1507

Please mark the envelope SEMINAR.

GERMAN-RELATED NOTES

In the Austin American-Statesman of Friday 3 April 1987, the "Waterloo Scrapbook" feature by Audray Bateman is entitled "The voice of Texas Germans." The newspaper Das Wochenblatt was edited for many years by William Andreas Trenckmann, who moved from Austin County to the City of Austin in 1909. His father had immigrated to Texas from Magdeburg, Germany "in the wake of the revolution of 1848," according to The Handbook of Texas. W.A. Trenckmann's biography therein and the newspaper article both should interest many of our readers who are coming to the AGS Seminar on Germany this August 22nd.

A PLEA TO THOSE OF US WHO CANNOT BOAST OF GERMAN ANCESTORS or the ability to speak the language: Let's at least learn to pronounce New Braunfels before August 22nd! Remember - There is no s in the middle. It is not New Bronze-fuls. I think we can avoid offending by pronouncing the first syllable brown or brawn, but when we are surrounded by Germanophiles at our seminar, let's not make them snicker by misplacing the s!

SOME DESCRIPTIVE GERMAN NAMES

Some German names are based on a man's physical appearance, character, temperament, or manner of living. Men with beards became Barth, or Barz; a lefthander was called Linke; the deaf might be called Dove or Dobe. The stammerer became Stammeler, but Stemmler is more probably the professional name of a Stempel-maker (stamp-maker).

One with curly hair would be called Straub or Strobel (in Upper Germany), or Struve (in Lower Germany). A man with a scar would be Schramm in one area, Schrimpf in another, and Schrempf in a third. Nasty or uncomplimentary descriptive names (nicknames) were usually short-lived and not handed down, did not become surnames.

Professional or trade names tended to be passed on to the next generation, as sons usually followed the occupation of the fathers. Schmid or Schmitz, and Miller or Moeller and Mueller are as common in Germany, Austria and Switzerland as Smith and Miller are in the United States. Hemmer or Hammer is a name derived from a blacksmith's tool, or the hammer-mill; Wetzstein derived his name from the grinding-wheel and the sharpening stone; the fisherman became Hering.

Gebauer, Geber, Huber or Huebner and Hebner were big farmers, while peasants who could afford only oxen instead of horses might be called Hausler, Hauser or Oxner. Innkeepers were called Wirt or Kroeger (in Silesia, Kretschmer). Beekeepers became Zeidler or Zedler. Lehmann, Hofmann or Hoffmann were tenant farmers; their supervisors and rent-collectors were Maler, Meier or Meyer. The English name "Major" appears as Schultheiss, Schultze and Schulze generally; in Silesia it is spelled Scholtz and in Westphalia, Schulte. [Ed. Note: Could this be a typographical error in my source? Meyer looks more like Major!]

Eisenhauer/Eisenhower means "cutter of iron"; Rademacher was a wheelmaker; Wagner and Stellmacher indicate wagon and carriage makers, the counterparts of the English Wainwright, Waggoner, and Cartwright.

BOOK REVIEWS

REPUBLIC OF TEXAS PENSION APPLICATION ABSTRACTS abstracted by John C. Barron, Nan Polk Brady, Emma Gene Seale Gentry, Barbara Langham Goudreau, and Iris Higgins Zimmerman. © 1987 by Austin Genealogical Society Publications, Box 1507, Austin TX 78767-1507. Hard bound, archival paper, viii + 397 pp., surname index, 8½" x 11", $40 postpaid. Libraries may submit purchase orders.

This handsome, tremendously informative book will forever be of significant importance to those whose research revolves around the military history and personnel of the Republic of Texas. The above-named committee headed by John C. Barron (who so ably put together their - and his - notes and so generously spent countless hours composing the book and the index via computer) abstracted data from about 1900 files in the Archives Division of the Texas State Library.

The limitations of space necessitated the omission of names of local officials who merely witnessed signatures, routine powers of attorney, and the amounts of the pensions, which were basically the same for all. But a wealth of information is presented, though not uniformly, as there was not an official application form like those for Confederate veterans.

The general format includes (depending on data in the respective file) the applicant's name, residence, age at application, date, and final disposition; date and place of enlistment, commanding officers, service units, battles, names of fellow soldiers or sailors; receipt of bounty warrant and/or donation certificate (terms sometimes used indiscriminately by the veteran); affidavits of men who had served with applicant or could identify him; dates of birth and immigration ("emigration") to Texas; and whatever family information appears in the file. Similar data may be found in pension applications made by a veteran's widow.

Editor-in-Chief Barron has included valuable data that a strictly military historian would have omitted as irrelevant - such details as age of applicant when he arrived in Texas, names of his siblings, uncles, etc. These items are icing on the cake for a genealogist.

In these files were found accounts of service to the Republic far beyond the 1835-36 period of the Texas Revolution per se. Some reach back as far as the 1832 "Anahuac Expedition", some extend well into the 1840s, such as the Battle of Plum Creek and the "Prisoners of Perote". Although nominally a Sesquicentennial (1836-1986) Project, Republic of Texas Pension Application Abstracts honors men who rendered military service to Texas before and throughout the decade of the Republic.

As Dr. David B. Gracy II points out in the Introduction, pensions were granted only to those veterans who, in the 1870s and 1880s, owned less than $1,000 worth of property - and even with this restriction, so many applied that the State had to suspend the program for lack of funds between 1879 and 1883. This explains the absence of the names of many veterans from these pages.

As any researcher knows, surnames were spelled many ways, and the extremely legible Index reflects that (e.g., Galaspie, Gilaspie, Gillaspie, Gillaspy, Gillespie, Gillespy, Gillispie). Because of variant spelling as well as erroneous replacement by users through the years, many folders are out of alphabetical order in the file boxes. Our abstracters of course left them as they were, but, for the benefit of the user of this book, the names have been re-arranged within the confines of the box they are in. In cases where the folder should be in another box, cross-references have been inserted. Archives personnel may or may not re-alpha-betize the actual folders, so the reader is warned not to expect to find the folders exactly as they occur in this book.

Among the prefatory pages is one explaining the abbreviations used, most of which are familiar except perhaps AOR for Army of the Republic of Texas, and co. for county only, not for Company.

On page 118 is reproduced an "Oath of Identity" form which is easier to read than most of the thousands of papers that this altruistic committee of AGS members struggled through. [This reviewer cannot resist inserting a couple of footnotes: Dimmit's Point (or Landing) was on Lavaca Bay; Johann Jacob Groos (who had immigrated to Texas from Germany 1845/46) was Commissioner of the General Land Office in 1874; Stephen Heard Darden was then Comptroller of Public Accounts. See Peter Tumlinson on pages 330-31.]

Although it would have been a monumental task, obviously "above and beyond the call of duty", a place-name index would have been a welcome addition to this already superb work. (Perhaps one might be made available later.) With the aid of a place-name index, the reader could compare the statements made by men who had served together. For example, this reviewer noticed scattered references to a Camp Johnson/Johnston which is not listed in The Handbook of Texas. But Amasa Turner, in 1876, stated: "I was promoted [to colonel of the First Regiment of Infantry Regular Army] in the summer of 1836, and ordered to headquarters of the army, at Camp Johnson, on the Lavaca, in the fall of 1836." [Galveston by Charles W. Hayes I:281] Another version reads: "... headquartered on the Lavaca in Jackson county. He stayed at Camp Johnston until December."

Now the only camp on the Lavaca River found in the Handbook is Camp Independence, "on east side of Lavaca River ... four miles southwest of present Edna in Jackson County ... used as a camp by part [emphasis mine] of the army of the Texas Republic from December, 1836, until they were furloughed on May 18, 1837. Near the camp Albert Sidney Johnston and Felix Huston fought a duel ...". [Source of the name Johnston?] However, a patently unreliable account of Amasa Turner's life published in The Encyclopedia of the New West (p. 425) refers to the near-mutiny of the army camped on the "Coletto" [which Colonel Turner helped to put down] and states that Turner later "joined the army under Rusk on the Coletto." Coletto Creek runs between DeWitt, Goliad and Victoria counties. [Clarification invited.]

It was probably at Camp Independence or Johnson/Johnston that Peter Tumlinson's discharge was written, as it is datelined "Headquarters, Labacco, 26 Sep 1836." If we could compare every reference to Camp Johnson, the problem might be solved. Hundreds of tantalizing clues to where certain men were at any given time may be found by reading this book straight through, or at least via the index.

The book's legible typeface and the clear style adopted by Chairman Barron are conducive to prolonged reading and in-depth research. Even though a deponent's memory may have been dimmed by time, or his veracity clouded by desire, perhaps even need, for a pension (minuscule as it might be), still, he and his corroborating comrades revealed interesting details that may not be recorded anywhere else.

When a living veteran claimed to have participated in the fall of the Alamo, he meant the successful siege of that structure in San Antonio in December 1835. John P[elham] Border averred that he joined Captain Kimbrough at San Jacinto, but he may not have intended to imply that he fought in that battle, just that he arrived at that place after the 21st of April and enlisted in Kimbro's company. Border is not included on "The Honor Roll of the Battle" nor in T.L. Miller's listing of donation certificates awarded for such participation.

Handwriting being what it is, the abstracters had a hard time distinguishing John P[ettit] Borden, John P[elham] Border, and John P. Bordes - the last was ultimately eliminated. Amusingly enough, the name Secrest was spelled Secrets in several instances, which is appropriate for a man who was associated with Deaf Smith's "spy company". The place name interpreted as "Brassos" was probably written with a character shaped like a printed capital Z which had been stretched out horizontally so that its angles formed loops that look like s's. [One of my great-grandfathers used it habitually, which fooled John H. Jenkins!]

For the generally accepted spellings of surnames today, the names in this book in particular, your reviewer recommends The Handbook of Texas and Bounty and Donation Land Grants of Texas. For spellings that were current at the time, the reader may want to refer to Muster Rolls of the Texas Revolution which was published by the Daughters of the Republic of Texas in 1986. That volume should prove to be an indispensable companion to Republic of Texas Pension Application Abstracts.

This reviewer predicts that anyone who starts reading "Pension Applications" will experience as much difficulty in putting it down as I am in ending this description of it. Texanaphiles owe an immense debt to the dedicated AGS members who compiled it.

DANIEL BEGAT by Robert Lee and Edith Jackson Hankins and Florence Jackson Hankins. Hard bound, 5" x 8"; 138 pp. text, 28 pp. index; ca 20 photos; $15 postpaid from Edith Jackson Hankins, 3773 Birchvale Dr, Memphis TN 38125

Judging from the cover, one would think this was a book about a Hankins line, but actually it traces Robert Lee Hankins's maternal JACKSON family from Daniel Jackson who "begat Robert Stanley; and Robert Stanley begat Madison Lee; and Madison Lee begat Florence the wife of Eldon, by whom was born Robert Lee, who is called Hankins," to quote the title page. After following the Hankins line to the present, the book resumes the Jackson line. [Incidentally, Robert Lee's wife was a Jackson but her line is not traced.]

It would have been helpful to the reader if the compilers had shown the beginning page number for each of the five children of Daniel Jackson on page 4 at least; doing the same for each family group would have earned heartfelt thanks from all readers who do not already know the family.

The title is very appropriate: births are the principal subject of the book. The vital statistics are given in sentence form. One could wish for a few anecdotes or fuller biographies, but, as always, the family portraits add interest.

Daniel Begat was typed with generous spacing between lines, which eases the eyestrain caused by the reduced-size typeface. Only a few typos were noticed by this reviewer: some towns in Texas, P.H.D. for Ph.D., and Buncomb mentioned in discussing South Carolina - must mean Buncombe County, North Carolina. Although the author used out-of-date state abbreviations (cap & lower case letters with a period), she/he did spell correctly such pitfalls in genealogical writing as cemetery and descendants. Another plus: They nearly always identified people with such a device as "The third child of Jim and Jane Doe is Mary ...", which is a great boon when going back a generation or so in the narrative format as they do in this book.

The numbering (or lack of it) may cause some confusion. Daniel Jackson is numbered I, so when his first child shows up as II one may assume that the Roman numerals indicate generations. But after following her line some 20 pages (up to the present), we find III also in the second generation, being the second child of # I. Each Roman numeral section opens with a page listing children and their spouses. Without that, it is doubtful if anyone but a close relative could find his way in the narrative, since there is no further numbering scheme. Of course, a person can be located via the index, which is very good and clear.

Because of a mix-up in pagination, about half the time the reader has to look in the gutter (inside margins) for page numbers, which is rather difficult because the book is so tightly bound.

There is an attractive coat of arms gold-stamped on the cover, but no explanation of whose it was is given. Are we to assume that Daniel Jackson was perhaps a younger son of a nobleman and brought it over from England?

Austin Genealogical Society thanks the donor of this book (which, as is our custom with reviewed books, has been placed in the Genealogy Collection of Texas State Library) and recommends it to those seeking Jacksons in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Texas, etc.

THE DODGEN STORY - An Account of a Truly American Family, © 1985 by Mary Dodgen Few. Illustrated by J. Kendall Few. Clothbound, xxiv + 580 + 22 (index) pp. Photographs, line drawings, maps, facsimiles of documents, charts; bibliography (secondary and primary sources); full-name index. $37.50 + $1.95 from Southern Historical Press, Inc., Box 738, Easley SC 29641-0738

Of all the family histories that I have read, reviewed or written in over 25 years, The Dodgen Story is the one I most wish I could claim. I am so envious of Mary Dodgen Few's ability to write and publish this stupendous book that I expect the ink on this page to turn green!

Mrs. Few's grasp of the background history (political, military and economic) pertinent to these Dodgen families' places of residence is amazing, and her talent for tying it all together is enviable. She doesn't just say they were married on such-and-such a date - she adds "the day before Georgia seceded from the Union" or "the same month that his older brother William had his second child over in Alabama", or some such orienting fact. There's hardly a page of merely statistics in this volunuous account of ten generations of prolific Dodgens.

The author and her many willing and able co-researchers (primarily AGS member Juanita Buck Dodgen) have done a prodigious amount of digging into public records: birth, death, marriage, and probate; census; Civil War (service, pension, and Official Records of the Union and Confederate Armies); Revolutionary War records and pension applications; church records and histories; English parish registers, etc. They have examined countless historical and genealogical magazines, as well as over a hundred published books.

Their thoroughness and accuracy in research is apparent throughout the book; Mrs. Few's experience (she is the author of three published historical novels) in writing is manifested in such passages as the opening paragraphs of Chapter 9, whose stark beauty and emotional impact will linger long in one's memory.

On the other side of the coin, some passages sound as if they were written a century ago, yet the writer is younger than this reviewer. Mary Dodgen Few appears to glory in the role of "Unreconstructed Rebel", and seems little short of contemptuous of those who employ the currently accepted title "the Civil War" for that terrible conflict, so tragic for both sides. But by the time one has read "THE WAR" (or her toned-down version "The War") a dozen times, it ceases to be amusing or quaint!

I dislike being negative, but find it hard to give credence to a statement on page 148, where we read that in the 1849 Gold Rush, 35,000 fortune hunters were in the Russell wagon train. How could a wagonmaster expect to find enough water and forage on the trail for that many people and animals every night? From the accounts of such trains that I have read, I believe that 350 persons (including babies) would be considered a large wagon train. I'd like to know the source of that statement - or perhaps this was a printer's error.

And there are, unfortunately, not a few such; e.g., noticeably extra space between lines rather frequently. Also, there are at least twenty "widows" - pages that start with less than a full line, which is shocking in a fine book. [Remedy: The publisher should ask the author to add or subtract words from the sentence.] Since this is a high-quality book (in that it boasts printer's type rather than typewriter or computer print-out, enameled paper for photographs, and a very fancy cover), whoever checked the page proofs should have spotted and corrected these regrettable errors - i.e., the publisher's proofreader or editor.

The same applies to such typos as: is for his, My for By, harbeas corpus, formerly for formally, conducively for conclusively, effected for affected, along for among, infer for imply, faired for fared, out of the train (rain), taken their roll (toll), straight-laced (strait), Financial circumstances were so straight (straitened), to fly the coup (coop), loyal to their principals (principles), "to end school desegregation"

The omission of a comma in the following description raises the question of how she looked lying down: "She was handsome upright, humorous, ..."

The frequency of misspelled place names makes the reader wish that Mrs. Few (or the proofreader) had kept an atlas handy. The most amusing blooper seen is Quachita for Ouachita (commonly pronounced Washytaw) - perhaps a misreading of someone's handwriting - see map of Arkansas page 146.

If I were as charitable as Mrs. Few I wouldn't point out these errors, so minor to some people, but I feel that a reputable publisher should give better service. While she honestly admitted that, like most families, the Dodgens may have had a few "rascals", whenever she found record of something less than praise-worthy she meticulously brought forth all extenuating circumstances. And in recounting a fanciful family tradition just as it was given to her, she politely comments, "That seems unlikely" as she calmly presents overwhelming evidence to the contrary.

At first I was inclined to question why this book's cover bears an antique etching, a panorama of London as it appeared before the fire of 1666. (This rare and expensive cover and the personalized front endpapers are out of the reach of most of us "desktop publishers.") The legend of the "Elegant & Correct view of London" identifies several churches on both sides of the Thames, in some of which Mrs. Few found records of possible Dodgen ancestors, albeit nearly a century after the Great Fire.

I asked myself, "Why emphasize London, when fewer than ten pages of the text contain English records, and the subtitle is 'an Account of a Truly American Family'?" But careful study of that first chapter made me realize how important the English research was. It enabled her to keep an open mind about the spelling of the name Dodgen. In all the standard works on the subject of patronymics

she had found many divergent theories and such variant spellings of possible roots of the name Dodgen as: Dogynus, Dodgeon, Dodgin, Dodgson, Dodgshon, Dodgshun, Dodson, Dudson, Doioun, Doggin, Duggun, Dodge, Dodging, Dodgon, Doggesone, Dogesone, Dodgion, and Dudgeon - many of these also ending in s. One authority states that Dodge is a pet name for Roger. [English "rhyming slang" is nothing new! One book says that my maiden name Hoskins is derived from Hodgkins, the son of Hodge, which came from the given name Roger. Author P.H. Reaney states that Roger is French and Rodger is German, but my German-born neighbor says that name is Rudger.]

Thanks to Mrs. Few, I learned the difference between phonetics (spelling a name as it sounds) and euphony (pronouncing a name the easiest way; e.g., slurring Warwick to Warrick), which accounts for some of the variant spellings.

Mary Dodgen Few conducted extensive study of English parish registers, the Treasury records, subsidy rolls, and so on, keeping an open mind for all names beginning with D, ending with n or ns, and having a d or g in the middle. She went down a blind alley (all the way to Ireland in person) pursuing a Dudgeon line which included the unusual given name Olleyman, so similar to a favorite in the Dodgen family as Olimon, Olley Mann, Allamand, etc. However, she was unable to link that line with facts known about her immigrant ancestor William Dodgen (believed to be the one baptized in London in 1720).

After several fascinating pages of English history and abstracts of surprising records found in a number of London parish registers, we read a convincing postulation of the family of immigrant William Dodgen, father of William Jr. and Olimon Sr. The author's hypotheses seem daring at first glance, but justifiable as you follow her reasoning.

Records of the descendants of William and Olimon Dodgen have been found in Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. Lines of descent are taken up in order by geographical locations, and, although the sketch of a man may be 90 pages from that of his father, the elder's sketch can be found via the index (which is rather dim for well-worn eyes, but apparently thorough. A word of warning: Chas. Addison Dodgen is considerably separated from Charles Addison Dodgen in the index, as computer literates well understand.)

One of Mrs. Few's many skills is keeping all the strands of a skein well in hand, and she introduces nearly every sketch with a remark that makes the subject fall in place. (Inadvertently, the married name was appended to the name of a few women, so don't be misled into thinking that cousins of the same name married.) She also has a talent for telescoping three or four historical events into one sentence, bringing us up to date with startling rapidity.

By keeping us aware of what was going on around the families under scrutiny, Mary Dodgen Few makes us feel that we are reading a historical novel, with the additional benefit of many authentic photographs, and more gentle humor than is usual in that genre. A homey phrase from her ("one boy in a gaggle of girls") and a deft line drawing from her son convey the spirit of "a Truly American Family."

If you have ancestors in these locales and eras (as I do), even if they were not Dodgens, seek out this fine book (a copy was given to Texas State Library) and read it for the background material. I'm convinced that it will enlighten and delight you, as it did me.

THE CEMETERIES OF SOUTHPORT (SMITHVILLE) AND SURROUNDING AREA compiled by Dorcas W. Schmidt, 1983. 95 + x pp.; 8 + x pp.; full-name Index; Acknowledgments; Introduction; Foreword; Supplement. Price: $8 + $1 for postage and handling from The Southport Historical Society, 501 North Atlantic Avenue, Southport NC 28461.

This neat little book with its attractive drawing on the cover is, in some ways, a model for future compilers to follow. But one glaring exception to that statement, in my opinion, is that the name of the state should be on the cover. There are five Southports in the U.S., and twelve Smithvilles!

Listings for each cemetery are preceded by directions for finding it and comments such as a word about the history of the place. Three cemeteries are described although they have no legible markers left, but it might be a comfort to some researchers to at least find the place where their ancestors are known to have been buried in the past.

In the body of the book, personal names are in all capital letters, and some identifying statements (besides the dates) have been copied from the stones, but the religious and personal statements have, as a rule, been omitted. However, one large marker honoring lost pilots is quoted in full, as are the military data, membership in fraternal organizations, and some family relationships on most stones.

In one instance, the reader is informed: "Entries start on south side, working north," but you are on your own in most of the cemeteries inventoried herein. No clue is given as to where the rows break or who are in which plot.

The index of Cemeteries of Southport is exceptionally legible, having three well-spaced columns to the page. In common with most computer-made indexes today, the surname is repeated each time. If that takes no extra time or effort, we should not complain, but that format obscures a change in spelling. I consider it helpful to be notified when Davies changes to Davis, Morris to Morse, Rourk to Ruark, Willson to Wilson, and Simmins to Simmons (except that in this case they happened to put three m's in Simmons, so the length of the word serves as an eye-catcher).

When the publication costs of this helpful key to the past have been paid, The Southport Historical Society will devote subsequent proceeds from its sale to the restoration, protection and maintenance of the older burying places - a worthy project and practice for others to emulate.

YIELDING TO EXPEDIENCY

Remember how the English professor "tut-tutted" when the people in a TV commercial sang, "Winston tastes good like a cigarette should"? But it appealed to the anti-grammarians, those who "couldn't care less" about established rules of grammar, spelling, punctuation, or pronunciation. Breaking the rules has become so popular in advertising that we now see one-word "sentences." Often.

"Contact" as a verb raised a similar furor among syntacticians at first, but what other word conveys the idea of getting in touch with another either face-to-face, by writing, by telephone/telegraph, by radio/TV, or via computer exchange?

And there's the word that we genealogists are (unfortunately) using more and more often - divorce. In 1952, Webster's Unabridged designated the intransitive (verb having no object) use of "divorce" as rare. The common usage was "He/she divorced her/him in 1950" or "She was divorced from ...", reminiscent of biblical days when a man could divorce his wife at will. But so many divorces nowadays are by mutual consent that it seems fitting, less judgmental, and more respectful of each party's dignity to say merely "They divorced."

MISCELLANY

FOR A MORE LASTING MEMORIAL, why not give a book instead of flowers? A book in memory of a departed friend not only will perpetuate his/her memory by means of the bookplate, but will give pleasure to innumerable readers for years to come.

The Supervisor of Texas State Library's Genealogy Collection, Miss Jan Carter (512 463-5463) will be glad to assist you in selecting an appropriate book, or you may just send a check to Friends of the Texas State Library Genealogy Collection, by AGS (FOTTSLGC by AGS), Treasurer, 3702 Palomar Lane, Austin TX 78727.

Be sure to include name and address of the next of kin so AGS can notify them promptly of your thoughtful gift.

IN LINE WITH OUR AIM OF PROMOTING FRIENDLINESS, of making AGS members more aware of each other by sharing joys and sorrows, the Board of Directors has voted to memorialize departed members and their immediate family members by giving one of our Joint Acquisition Program books to the Library in their honor. If you learn of a member or former member who has died, be sure to notify our President, Andrea Nagel, at 328-5353 and the Newsletter Editor, Wilena Young, at 444-2556.

ORCHIDS TO MRS. EMILY D. PARK who recently contributed $100 to FOTTSLGC. Her gift, added to the amount previously accumulated, enabled the Library to purchase the printed index to the 1860 Census of Missouri.

RECENTLY I HEARD A NEW WORD, "GENERATIVITY." It was defined as "being a part of history." That evokes the concept of each of us as a link in a chain connecting our ancestors with our descendants. It is not just a long, single chain but, like the coat of chain mesh (a coat of mail) worn in the Middle Ages, it interlocks laterally with countless other series of links.

NOT EVERY ANCESTOR was a statue candidate, but all were important in some way, to some people. A woman whose only monument is in the hearts of those who remember her has fulfilled her primary destiny.

SOME COURTESY ANNOUNCEMENTS

(an exception to our official policy)

It is the policy of Austin Genealogical Society Quarterly to print reviews of genealogical books and publications that have been sent to the editor, then to put them in the Genealogy Collection of Texas State Library. We appreciate such gifts and are glad to share them with everyone.

However, it is not fair to our readers for us to recommend any publication we have not seen, based only on the author's advertising matter, which is not likely to mention any shortcomings!

Since this policy has not heretofore been publicly stated in these pages, we hereby clear our desk of such soliciting letters and, this time only, accommodate those seeking free advertising by printing the following brief announcements, but neither recommending nor criticizing the products.

Tulsa Genealogical Society (Box 585, Tulsa OK 74101-0585) offers Shadows of the Past, Volume I covering 22 cemeteries in the northern section of Tulsa County. 304 pp.; 8½" x 11"; index; additional notes; $20 + $3.

History of King Baptist Church 1875-1975 (Coryell Co, TX) contains 209 pp. (25 of pictures); $15 + $1.50. Deadline for pre-publication reservations is past but they may have some extra copies. Write Mrs. Jewel Hitt, Pearl Star Route, Gatesville TX 76528, or call (817) 865-5974.

WARD Family Newsletter: 30-40 pages of Ward data, indexed, every two or three months; $5 per copy. Nani M. Neal, Editor, 2854 S. Walker, Ontario CA 91761; call (714) 947-7067. She also has newsletters for Watson and Dickinson/Dickey/Dickerson/Dixon/Doxson etc.

SHANNON SEARCHERS: bi-monthly newsletter; annual index in Nov-Dec issue; 10 or more pages (size not given); queries and lineages published free; $8.50 per year ($10.50 outside U.S.A.) from Joyce Shannon Bridges, Route 2 Box 50-X, Keithville LA 71047.

SCRUGGS any time, any place. Estelle Brannon Duke, Box 526, Anna TX 75003.

NORTHINGTON or WORTHINGTON DESCENDANTS. This lady has written several times but I still can't be sure whether it is a W or an N. Unlimited queries on the pertinent family are permitted in the quarterly ($12 per year) edited by Frances Brengle, 6619 Pheasant Road #16, Baltimore MD 21220.

WHAT-Shaped?

Noticed in a family history recently: "My great-grandfather had a pie-shaped tract of land in the forks of Rocky Creek." A pie is round, normally; it's a slice of pie that is wedge-shaped.

"Into Each Life, Some Rain Must Fall"

I wonder how our farmer-ancestors would have received the remark gleefully burbled by a young weather prognosticator on TV recently: "I wish I could tell you that skies will be sunny for the rest of the century!"

A RAPID RISE IN LIFE

As a reducing commercial says, "There's got to be an easier and faster way!" to reach the top of the tree than sitting on a fallen acorn.

NEED HELP ON COMAL COUNTY CENSUS?

If you have had trouble deciphering those intricate German names (or any others) on the 1850 and 1860 censuses of Comal County, Texas, take heart! They have been interpreted and alphabetized for you by an expert.

Oscar Haas, whose grandfather came from Herborn, Nassau, Germany in 1845, lived in New Braunfels from the time he was 12 (in 1897) and probably knew every German family in the county well. A county official for 28 years, Mr. Haas translated the minutes of the Comal County Commissioners' Court dating back to 1846, and many other historical documents as well.

The major work of Oscar Haas, History of New Braunfels and Comal County, Texas, 1844-1946, published in 1968, is crammed with interesting pictures and fascinating data. Especially helpful to genealogists are pages 246-95, the 1850 and 1860 censuses of the county. Columns are headed Name (in alphabetical order per head of household), Age, Business, and Native of. All children and others residing at that dwelling are included, plus an alphabetical list of those "others" for cross-reference.

This compilation does not show the number of the dwelling or the page number on the census itself, but that can be located in the printed indexes found in most genealogical libraries. If I find a discrepancy in spelling, I'll bet my bottom dollar on Haas's version every time!

ANCESTOR LISTING

SECTION

AGS is happy to present these pages that were submitted by its members, in the hope that all who have linking lines will contact the individuals concerned. We encourage friendly exchange among our members - and anyone else who reads AGSQ.

Since the subject of our August 22nd Seminar is our German heritage, we have given precedence (pre-seed-ence) to entries showing German ancestors.

We are sorry to see that a few are still not observing our guidelines: There are some ambiguous dates (10/12/1892); some sheets have wide margin on the wrong side so they had to be placed head-to-head and thus cannot be read continuously; some women on charts were listed with married name instead of maiden name [I corrected some]; some members sent in an excessive number of pages; and some still use obsolete or non-conforming state abbreviations (Grg, Mis, Tex., Tx - one even used three kinds on one chart: S. C., Ala. and TX!). Consistent abbreviations make your charts look so much neater.

For your convenience next year (and queries in the meantime) we herewith present again the 2-character (no period) capital-letter abbreviations prescribed by the US Post Office Department over 20 years ago:

ADAM ROYDER
by
Patsy Todd Silva
1074 Del Norte
Houston, Texas 77018

Adam Royder (Roeder) was born April 15, 1829 in Bavaria, Germany, and in 1846 at the age of 17 immigrated with his widowed mother and several friends to Texas, settling first in New Braunfels. Later Adam and his mother settled in Braxos County in June 1846. His mother died in 1873 at age 72. She was supposedly buried in either New Braunfels or Fredricksburg but I have not been able to confirm either.

Adam married his first wife, Miss Mary Ann (Ambrella) Price, on December 12, 1852 and soon purchased land in Rock Prairie where he settled and resided until his death. Mary died in January, 1859 leaving Adam with five sons: Jeff, Thomas H., John H., Adam Walter and James M. Royder.

He married his second wife, Miss Barbara Ellen Harrell, December 25, 1870. This union was blessed with five boys and six girls: Jessie Crawford, Mary Ellen, Sarah Jane, Annie Elizabeth, George C., Frances Margaret, Emma, Mickle L., Martha Lee, Chas. Stewart, and Grover C. Royder.

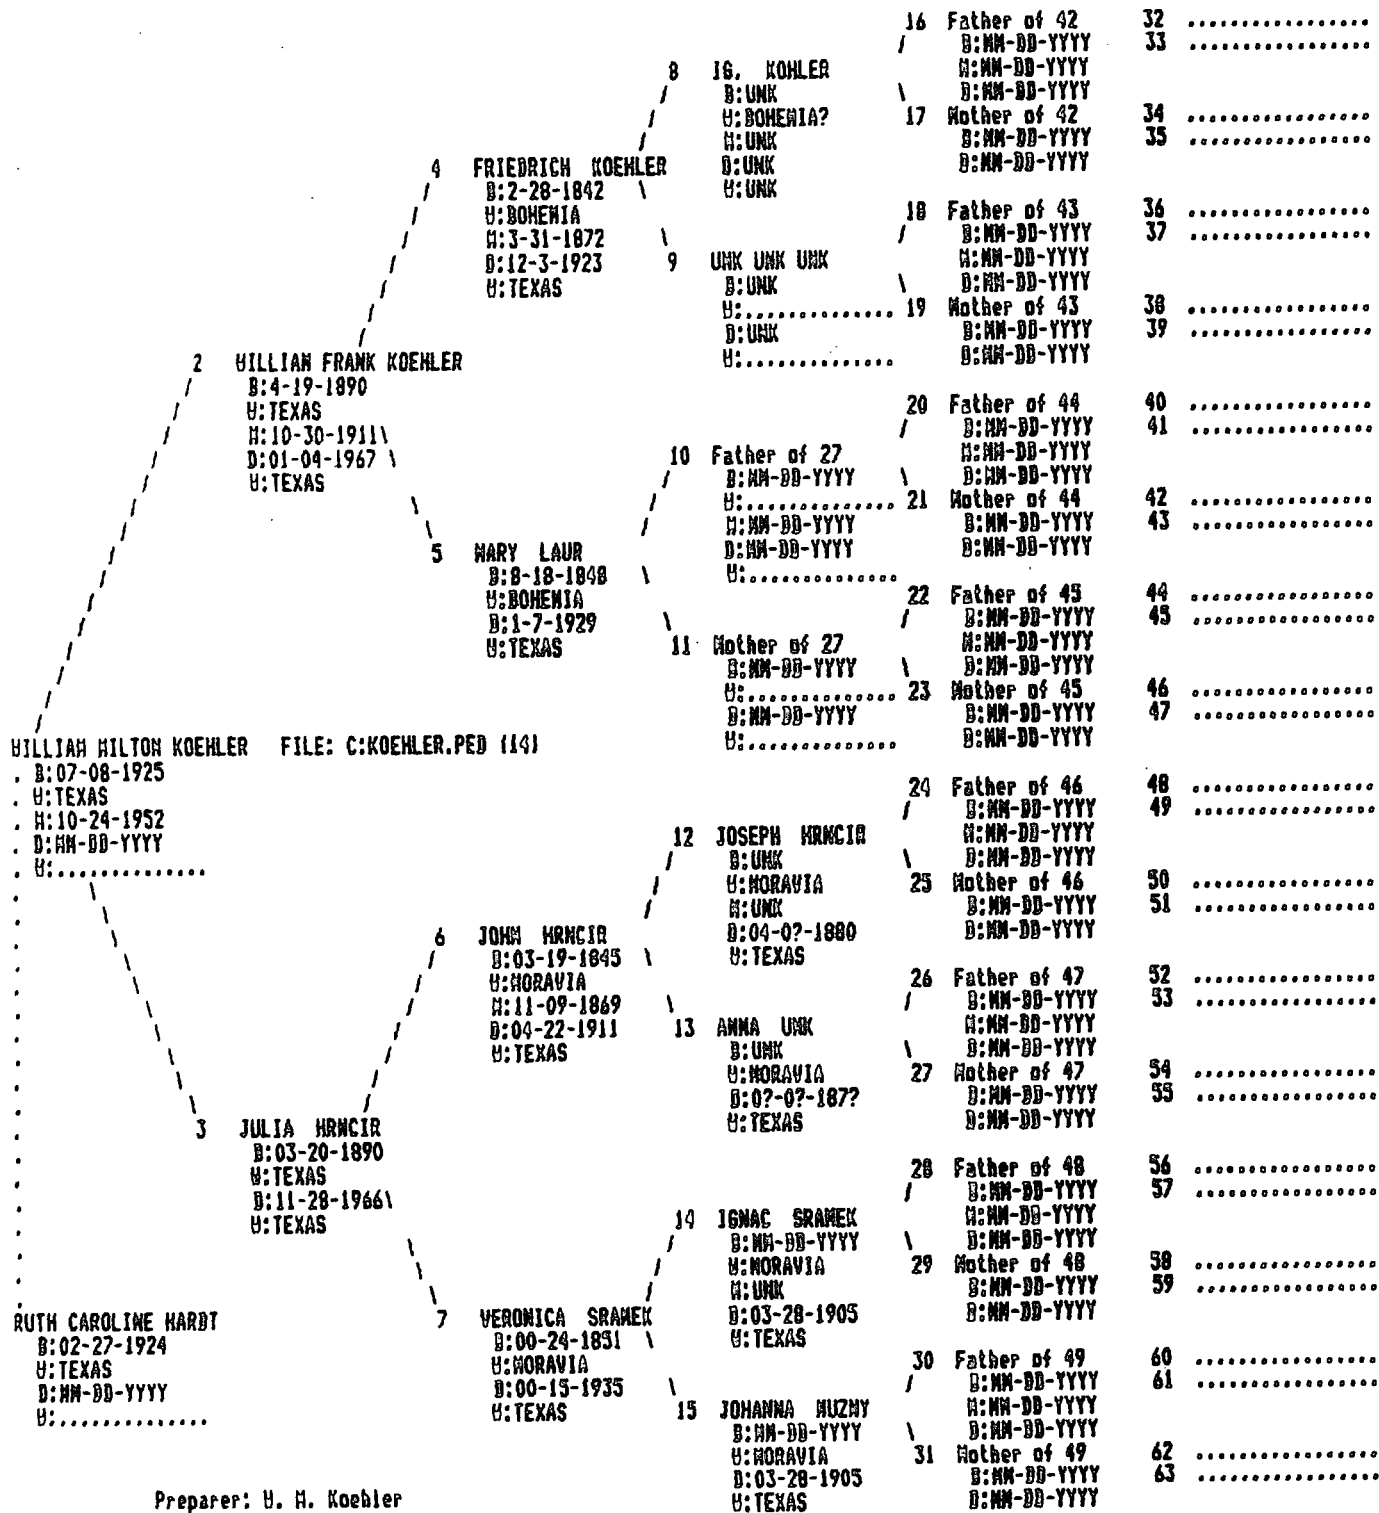

During the Civil War Adam was a member of Captain Burton's Company, Elmore's Brigade. Records show he was hospitalized for a time in Galveston during part of 1863 and 1864.

He became a Master Mason in the Ada Zilla Lodge, No. 247 in Millican, Texas until its demise. He then joined the Brazos Union Lodge No. 129 of which he remained a member until his death. After a brief illness, Adam died at age 64 and was buried with full Masonic ceremonies at Wellborn, Brazos County, Texas March 4, 1894.

I would appreciate any correspondence with descendants of Adam Royder or my other German line, the Buckhaults. As is evident, I have not had much luck thus far with the Buckhaults line.

A. KOEHLER-LAUR

My grandfather, Frederick Koehler (Kohler), immigrated from Neustadt, Tafelfichte, Bohemia, Austrian Empire through New Orleans, and settled near Moravia in Lavaca County in 1880. He and my grandmother, Mary Laur (Lauer?) were married in 1871.

B. HRNCIR-SRAMEK

My great grandfather, Joseph Hrnecir and family immigrated from Lichnova, Moravia, Austrian Empire, in 1860, settling near High Hill in Fayette County. My great grandfather, Ignac Sramek and family immigrated from Ticha, Moravia in 1856 and settled near Dubina in Fayette County.

Queries:

Does anyone have information on Mary Laur or the Laur or Lauer family which may have settled in Lavaca County in or prior to 1881?

Is there any information available on the deaths and burial places of Joseph and Anna Hrnecir?

The Sramek family is reported to have arrived in Galveston in October or November 1856 on the ship "Elizabeth". Does anyone know of a confirming ship's passenger list for this voyage?

A. HARDT-HEIBACH-HALLER-WIEMERS-TELKEN

Would like any information re John William Hardt, who came to Texas on the ship "Strabo" in 1845 as a Fisher-Miller colonist, and his wife Justina Heibach, born in Germany, and their descendants who were some of the original founders of Yorktown. Also, info re Jean and Anna Marie Haller, born in Haut-Rhin, Alsace, France, who came to America as Castro Colonists on the ship "Heinrich" in 1843. Any information re Christoph Wiemers and his wife, Meta, and Jansen (Jann) Gerdes and wife Fenne Telken, who were early settlers of New Fountain, Medina County, Texas.

B. FRICK-SIEVERS-WOERNER-SAMES-BETZER

Looking for information re Claus Frick and wife, Anna Sophie Sievers, who came from Schleswig-Holstein, Denmark, to Texas about 1850 by way of Eagle Pass while working for the Groos Brothers of San Antonio. Settled in Helotes--later in San Antonio. Also, information regarding Johann Peter Sames and his wife, Maria Christine Dorlas, who came to Texas on the ship "Neptune" in 1845 for the German Emigration Company. Maria died enroute to New Braunfels from Indianola and Peter Sames then married Lisette Daupler in New Braunfels in 1847. Also, info re John Martin Woerner who married Johanna Sames, daughter of Peter Sames, in 1854 and died about the end of the Civil War, and info re Reimund Betzer, her second husband whom she married in 1866.

Queries:

Does anyone have info re date of death of John William Hardt and wife Justina Heibach Hardt?

Does anyone have info re Johann Peter Sames after 1852?

Does anyone have info re when and where John Martin Woerner came to America and info re his death?

Does anyone have info re place in Holstein from where the Fricks (or Frickes) came and when they came to America?

Does anyone have info re Jean and Anna Marie Haller after they arrived in America?

EDITOR'S NOTE:

For the benefit of those of us who do not speak computerese fluently, I called Ann Thurman to check out some of these high-tech arrangements that tend to baffle me. It's hard enough (for me, at least) to read the tiny print with no space between the words half the time, without having to contend with unfamiliar abbreviations and inexplicable figures in parentheses!

Mrs. Thurman graciously and patiently explained it all to me, and (as soon as I adjusted my mind to accept that little blob as an m instead of the a it appears to be) it all became clear and logical.

Abbreviations bd, dd, md, bp, dp and mp are for our old friends "born, died, and married" which have been revamped to "birth, death, and marriage", making it simple to add d for date and p for place.

On Ann's Chart 458 (opposite page) under CHILDREN is the format used: Number of child - Sex - Name - Spouse's name. Jumping to Child #2, Hackler, Geo W, we see that he was Male and his family group chart is #306. Then F82 sends us to the bottom of the page, where Child #2 has Footnotes 107 and 82 - not in sequence probably because she acquired the information at different times. S9 indicates that the source of that item is on her Chart #9, I gather. Anyway, she says the reader should disregard numbers in parentheses; she can retrieve data at will.

I like the way she consistently goes from the greater to the lesser: year, month, day and state, county, town.

STARTLING REVELATION!

"Elizabeth Ross", publisher of so-called "Family Albums", appears not to be a person at all, but a chameleon! She changes nationality at will, becoming German when, as Elizabeth Beierschmitt Ross, she hawks her wares to members of the Beierschmitt family, French when her maiden name becomes Duval, Scottish when she addresses Macneils as Elizabeth McNeal Ross, and so on.

Do not be fooled by these apparent metamorphoses and waste your good money. If you bought one of her books believing it to have been compiled by a member of your family, write to National Genealogical Society Newsletter Editor at 4527 17th Street North, Arlington VA 22207. Efforts are being made to prevent such false advertising.

To quote The Hoosier Genealogist: "We also note that 'Elizabeth' is no longer associated with American Genealogies, Inc., whatever that may be. She now gives her address as Genealogy Room, P.O. Box 5300, Scranton PA 18505-5300."

REPUBLIC OF TEXAS PENSION APPLICATION ABSTRACTS

Compiled by

John C. Barron, Nan Polk Brady, Emma Gene Seale Gentry,

Barbara Langham Goudreau, and Iris Higgins Zimmerman

Approximately 1900 applications for a pension for military service rendered to the nascent Republic of Texas are preserved in the Archives Division of Texas State Library. These records, which consist of affidavits of service by the veteran and others who could swear to their validity, have been abstracted by the above members of Austin Genealogical Society. In addition to proof of military service, the files contain valuable genealogical data such as birth, death, marriage, and immigration.

An example of the valuable content and excellent format of the book:

Pryor Bryan, Liberty Co., 30 Jun 1871, approved 17 Sep 1872. Age 60. Enlisted in Capt. Fannin's company at Gonzales 8 Oct 1835 then under Capt. Briscoe until the fall of the Alamo. Boarded the steamer Cayuga under Col. Morgan for service from Galveston in the battle of San Jacinto, but the battle was over before their arrival. He was discharged Jun 1836.

F. A. Hardin, P. S. Watts, and Jos. Richardson all knew Bryan and his children and the date of his death. Frank A. Hardin and Thomas (X) Dever affirmed his service.

Bryan died 19 Apr 1873 and left two children: John K. Bryan and Jessie L. Williams, wife of D. W. Williams. All resided in Liberty Co. and were the only heirs. While in the service, Bryan visited his old home in Louisiana.

Proven descent from one of these veterans should qualify a person for membership in the Sons or Daughters of the Republic of Texas. These hitherto almost inaccessible records will be eagerly sought by genealogists, historians, and others involved in the social sciences. Certainly no Texas library can afford to be without this book!

The book, a Sesquicentennial Project of Austin Genealogical Society, like so many others in that category, has taken longer than expected to complete. It will be released in the near future and promptly mailed to those who have placed an order. It will be on archival paper, in cloth binding, and will contain about 400 pages with surname index. Dr. David B. Gracy II has given it his stamp of approval by writing the Introduction.

The price of $40 includes postage, handling and tax. A check or money order made to AGS PUBLICATIONS must accompany each order, with the exception of those from libraries, which may be invoiced.
