THE GENEALOGY COLLECTION
TEXAS STATE LIBRARY

The Lorenzo de Zavala State Archives and Library Building at 1201 Brazos in Austin is readily identifiable by the six large flags that wave over its western entrance and by the six mosaic seals that may be seen from San Jacinto Street. These represent the six governments that have held sovereignty of Texas: Spain, France, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the Confederacy, and the United States.

The Genealogy Collection of the Library is open 8-5 Tuesday through Saturday. A limited number of free parking spaces (some reserved for the handicapped or volunteer workers) may be found, for which a parking permit is required every day except Saturday. Other divisions of the Library and the Archives are open 8-5 Monday through Friday.

When you enter the foyer with its fascinating historical mural and many interesting showcases, the Archives will be on your right and the Genealogy Collection on your left, the north end of the building.

Incidentally, if you should forget and go to do genealogical research on a Monday, you could profitably spend the day in the Archives, examining Confederate pensions, Texas muster rolls, dozens of other kinds of manuscripts, and several hundred books.

After you register in the Genealogy Collection, you will find a staff of skilled, friendly professionals ready to help you find what you need (but Sorry! they don't have time to listen to your whole family history!) The Supervisor is Miss Jan Carter (B.A. in History, M.A. in Library Science) who has been specializing in genealogical librarianship for seven years. Her able assistant, Ms. Colleen Munds, has nine years' experience in the field, and has conducted courses in genealogy. She holds a B.A. in History.

The third member of the staff, David Baskin (B.A. in History) is the Genealogical Researcher, with eight years of experience. He also offers gracious assistance, even to patiently helping one thread film on a reader!

These efficient people preside over some 20,000 books in open stacks, most of them being in some strictly genealogical category: birth, death, probate or marriage records; land records, cemetery inventories, published family histories. But if there should be a black sheep in your party, one who has not been bitten by the genealogy bug, he/she may choose to pass the time in the Texas Collection, the room where the Texana is of a more entertaining nature.

Rivalling the book collection in popularity is the Microfilm Collection - approximately 25,000 reels, including all U.S. censuses released to date, and all Soundex indexes for Texas that have been filmed, plus a few for other states. Miss Carter, as well as previous librarians, has always been vigilant about acquiring every printed census index that is advertised, also.

Considering them a vital adjunct to the filmed censuses, the Genealogy Collection supervisor is making a valiant effort to purchase all the printed indexes as they are published. But the recent slump in the oil industry has severely cut the State's income, with the result that library budgets have been curtailed.

Fearing that if these very expensive books (ranging from $200 each to a $900-set per state) were not purchased as soon as issued, they might not be obtainable later, Austin Genealogical Society founded "Friends of the Texas State Library Genealogy Collection by AGS." Contributions to this dues-less, meeting-less, roster-less auxiliary group are added to the cash donations placed in the "glass barrel" (jar) kept on top of the microfilm filing cabinets. One patron confided to a staff member that he puts a dollar in the barrel every time he finds a relative on the census!

Friends who do not visit the Library in person are welcome to send checks to "F.O.T.T.S.L.G.C. by A.G.S.", Box 1507, Austin TX 78767-1507.

Besides the census, the Collection also contains microfilm of Texas County Tax Rolls (dating from county formation to 1979), parts of the Draper Manuscripts, the Nacogdoches Archives, the National Archives Index to Confederate soldiers entering service from Texas, the Nuevo Leon Mexican Archives (in Spanish), and many other subjects that might be of interest to a genealogist. To make these available to patrons, there are 16 readers, a microfiche reader, and a reader-printer for making copies of desired pages from microfilm.

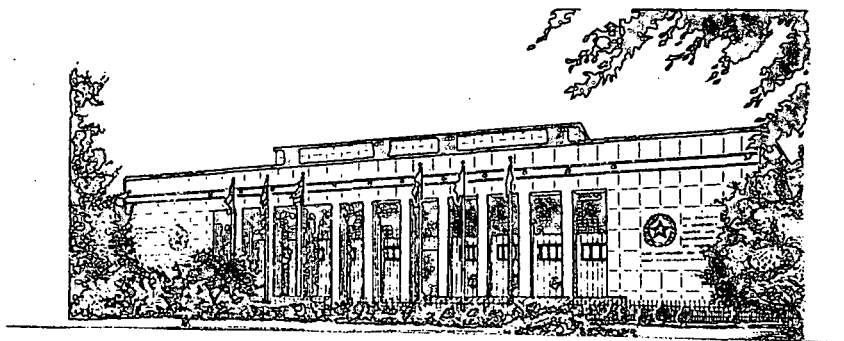

Other conveniences include reference books (which will be made available by the staff on request), two photocopying machines, a paper cutter, and a change-maker. The latter are in the room entered by the door next to the card catalog. Here may be found Indexes to Birth and Death Records in Texas - nominally 1903-1973, but records were not consistently kept in the early years.

Also in this room are four cabinets of Vertical Files. Researchers over the years have deposited family data here, but until recently they have been under-used because it was rather difficult to locate items in the files. However, Ms. Munds has now completed the tremendous task of sorting them out and putting the papers in neat new folders with readable labels.

The cards on the drawers show "V.F. GEN" to differentiate the Vertical Files of the Genealogy Collection from those to be found upstairs. That code is followed by letters of the alphabet (A - Abbreviations, Adoptions ... B - Black, and so on) up to "Family History." The bulk of the holdings are in this category, so you will find "V.F. GEN F.H. - Abel" through the surname Zollner, and then the rest of the alphabet without the F.H.

There is an index on top of the cabinets, but in order to better acquaint the public with this sometimes-fabulous resource in the Genealogy Collection, Barbara and Jerry Goudreau have graciously reproduced it for publication (following this article). We are deeply indebted to these long-time AGS members for this voluntary service, and are eagerly anticipating their next project: Barbara is extracting other surnames found in the Family History folders (brides' names will be especially helpful), and we will run her list as space permits in this quarterly.

Patrons of Texas State Library, Genealogy Collection, will find it compares favorably with all others, and is friendlier than most! If you want to get in touch, the phone is Area Code 512 463-5463, and the mailing address is Box 12927, Capitol Station, Austin TX 78711.

FAMILY LAND HERITAGE PROGRAM

Each year since 1974 the Texas Department of Agriculture has recognized families who have operated a farm or ranch on the same land continuously for at least a hundred years. Brief histories of the award-winning families, naming the successive land owners and their children and grouped under the respective county name, are published annually.

Since the attractive volumes (which include many heirloom pictures) have the names of only the current land owners in their indexes, AGS Quarterly is attempting to remedy that deficiency, as space permits. Instead of page numbers, we group the names by their counties (which cover only a few pages each, and are in alphabetical order), assuming that researchers will want to read all about their ancestors' neighboring relatives and friends.

Apologies are offered if some surnames are wrong - sometimes the narratives are hard to interpret as to generations - whether Tom, Dick and Mary are the children of the founder or of his daughter. And, since these books use parentheses to indicate maiden name, nickname, previous married name, or future married name it is sometimes impossible to determine just what is meant.

In AGS Quarterly, the usual genealogical practice is followed: Maiden names in parentheses. If a maiden name is unknown, we put three dots in parentheses; nicknames are in quotation marks; editorial suggestions in brackets; "pic" indicates that there is a picture of family members or buildings on the given page.

This series started in AGS Quarterly Vol. XXIV No. 4 - November 1983.

EXPERIENCES OF A CENSUS-TAKER

When the census enumerator had puffed his way up the steep, rocky path to a lonely log cabin, he found the owner rocking on the porch. After they had exchanged howdy-do's, the visitor explained his mission thus: "The President wants to know how many people live in these United States, so he is sending me and hundreds of other men all over the country to find out."

"Well, young fella," drawled the hillbilly, "you've wasted your breath fer nuthin'. I ain't got the slightest idy how many they is."

MOSES AUSTIN: HIS LIFE by David B. Gracy II. San Antonio: Trinity University Press © 1987. Hardbound, dust jacket, printed in Century Old Style typeface from the author's disks. 6 x 9"; pp. 303 + xx; photographs, maps, notes, bibliography, index.

Moses Austin: His Life is more than a biography of one man. It is a microcosmian history of the economic forces and events that gave so much impetus to the Western settlement trend in North America, especially with reference to the colonization of Texas.

The book is superbly written from both informational and entertainment standpoints. Dr. Gracy has a gift for imparting essential facts in an interesting fashion, creating a book that is a valuable sourcebook for scholars as well as being eminently readable by the general public.

Dr. Gracy, professor of library science and holder of the Governor Bill Daniel Professorship in Archival Enterprise at the University of Texas at Austin, devoted seven years to researching the life of Moses Austin, father of the better-known Stephen Fuller Austin. His research, conducted in the archives of both the Old and the New World, was commissioned by the John W. and Mary Austin Beretta Foundation of San Antonio.

In pursuit of the project, David Gracy unearthed long-hidden sketches (small maps), photographs, and data on lead mining, smelting, et cetera; letters and articles pertaining to the financial condition and panics of the United States; as well as letters revealing the mores of an educated, interesting, once-prosperous family that eventually had to face the humiliation of bankruptcy.

The character of Moses Austin the optimistic entrepreneur - the sanguine, dauntless plunger who "threw good money after bad," as the saying goes, pervades the book, arousing sympathy for his wife and other relatives. Texans should be very thankful that his son, "the Father of Texas", was more level headed!

Pioneers are innately somewhat unconventional men, not content with the status quo, and it is to their daring to venture into new places that we owe the spread of civilization. We salute Moses Austin who dared to attempt the colonization of Texas (whatever his motives), and Stephen F. Austin who dutifully (if unenthusiastically at first) carried out his father's plan.

Like the cloud of turmoil, phrenetic effort and fluctuating emotions that surrounded Moses Austin most of his life, a thunderstorm of conflict arose over his bones after his death. Dr. Gracy, in the Epilogue of the book, gives a fascinating, detailed, and definitive account of the struggle to get Austin's remains reinterred with honors in the Texas State Cemetery. The citizens of Potosi, Missouri (his last place of residence) belligerently refused to permit such action, which had been planned as a highlight of the Texas Centennial celebration in 1936. The furore did have one beneficial result: a Moses Austin Memorial Society was organized in Missouri to rescue his grave from the neglect that presaged oblivion in the not-too-distant future.

This handsome book is embellished by the statue of Moses Austin on the dust jacket and autographs of the principals on the end papers. The typeface is legible, beautiful, and appropriate to the book's time span. The only consistent error this reviewer found is the lack of a hyphen in great-grandfather.

Profuse end notes cite specific sources corroborating nearly every statement, and the 17-page Bibliography minutely locates each source. The admirably legible Index covers both personal and place names, as well as a wide range of topics from which one could easily give a book review or construct an outline of the book. Anyone who is a lover of Texas history or is planning to write a biography would be well advised to read Moses Austin: His Life. It is a book that I find myself returning to, time after time!

HISTORY OF BASTROP COUNTY, TEXAS, BEFORE STATEHOOD by Kenneth Kesselus, 1986. Published by Jenkins Publishing Company of Austin; available from Bastrop Stationers, Drawer Z, Bastrop TX 78602 - $23.50 (including tax, postage and handling). Hardbound, 6 x 9", pp. 329 + xxii. Maps, photographs, 7 Appendixes, Bibliography, full-name Index.

In the Foreword to this History of Bastrop County ..., John H. Jenkins the eminent writer, editor and publisher of Texana, summarizes the importance of Bastrop County as "a microcosm of Texas in its key years," and concludes that in this book "Ken Kesselus has not only recorded, he has enlightened." This reviewer feels that every reader will heartily concur.

The author was born in Bastrop, graduated with honors from the University of Texas at Austin, and received his Master of Divinity from the Episcopal Seminary of the Southwest in 1972. After serving a church in Pearland, Texas, for several years, he returned home to be rector of Calvary Episcopal Church and chairman of the Bastrop Sesquicentennial Committee.

Anglican "parsons" are traditionally local historians - perhaps they share a common gift for eliciting the truth from their parishioners! Lovers of Texana can be thankful that the Rev. Mr. Kesselus has followed in that tradition and researched in depth to produce a superior chronicle of the basic facts, events, and people of Bastrop County before statehood (19 February 1846).

The earliest pertinent record found was the diary of an expedition led by Dom Domingo Teran de los Rios and Father Manzanet (also known as Fray Damian Masanet) in 1691, which mentions the discovery of a forest of pine trees and the search for a crossing of the Colorado River in present-day Bastrop County. The county's physical features, earliest inhabitants (native and foreign), and roads are described; e.g. the Old San Antonio Road and the Gotier Trace. Numerous clearly drawn, uncluttered maps are a godsend to the reader.

In discussing the settlement of Bastrop County, Mr. Kesselus sheds much light on Austin's colonies in general. Especially welcome is his explanation of the confusion that has long existed about the name Mina, not only as applied to Bastrop but to Matagorda as well. He tells us that in 1826 Stephen F. Austin created a District (Precinct) of Mina "on the Colorado" which extended as far downriver as the town of Matagorda. In 1831, both the Precinct of Bastrop and the Precinct of Mina (whose seat of government was Matagorda) were officially in existence. In 1834, the lower part of the precinct was renamed Matagorda (for the town), and the upper part became Mina - for logical reasons set forth in the text, as well as why its present name is Bastrop.

Another enlightening detail is found in the description of the floating of cotton down the Colorado from Bastrop to Matagorda in the 1840s. The flatboats (log rafts) were also traded for sugar and such commodities at the destination, then the boatmen returned home on horses which a "land engineer" had herded downriver for that purpose.

Enriched with many names, significant documents, tables of land grants, court records, and descriptions of encounters with Indians, the book serves as an encyclopedia of the region presented in readable style. But -- it would have benefitted from the services of a ruthless, unrelated proofreader to weed out such gaffes as 1939 for 1839 (p. 253), misspelling of camaraderie (p. 241), Ashbell Smith (p. 303), San Antonio, Seige of (p. 326), Fruits and Flowers from the Wilderness for Flowers and Fruits in the Wilderness (p. 81), etc. etc.

Despite these little flaws, History of Bastrop County, Texas, Before Statehood is a handsome book that anyone interested in the region - or a picture of Texas as a whole in that era - will enjoy reading and consulting frequently. No doubt Mr. Kesselus's follow-up volume is equally valuable for its period. --H.H.R.

THE 1787 CENSUS OF VIRGINIA compiled by Netti Schreiner-Yantis and Florene Speakman Love; published by Genealogical Books in Print, 6818 Lois Drive, Springfield VA 22150. Set: $200 + $4 postage + tax for Virginia residents. © 1987. Pages: Vol. 1 - 1-784 + xiv; Vol. 2 - 785-1481; Vol. 3 (Index) - 1483-2022. Map; Foreword, Preface, Acknowledgments, Introduction.

Like several books that are called censuses, The 1787 Census of Virginia was based on tax rolls, but it is more nearly a census than others. In 1786 a law was passed mandating the personal property assessments used in this work: "An Accounting of the Name of Every White Male Tithable Over 21 Years; the Number of White Males between 16 & 21 Years; the Number of Slaves Over 16 & those Under 16 Years; together with a Listing of their Horses, Cattle & Carriages; and also the Names of all Persons to whom Ordinary Licenses and Physician's Licenses were Issued." - to quote the subtitle.

Therefore, all white male adults are named, not just the heads of households. If the 1787 tax lists are not extant for a county, the compilers used those of 1786 or 1788, and picked up some names from signers of petitions found in the courthouse, and others from lists of insolvent males.

The frontispiece is a reproduction of the prescribed "Form of return of taxable property to be made by the commissioners." Property owners were required to make a list of their property and swear to its accuracy, after which the commissioners entered it on the form. Warning: In the illustration, ditto marks mean "None," not "Same as above", as may be seen by checking the addition. Before using the book, it might be handy to photocopy the form because column headings are not repeated on each page.

Besides names, this book gives data appearing in five columns of the form: Number of white males above 16 and under 21; Blacks above 16; Blacks under 16; Horses, mares, colts & mules; and cattle. Under "Notes" may be found information such as carriages owned, ordinary [tavern] license, physician's license. Pictures of different types of carriages are an added bonus.

This book is equipped with an extraordinary number of entities in its front matter, all of which should be carefully read before trying to use it. There is high praise from the Virginia State Archivist in the Foreword. There are definitions of terms, names of counties covered in the book (including some now in Kentucky and West Virginia), as well as independent cities. Nine or ten reasons for tax exemption, not just the usual "age or infirmity," are cited.

Of exceptional value to the reader is a map showing counties in existence in 1787 outlined in black, with red boundaries around counties created since then, or boundary changes. A heading (showing which list of what county appears below) at the top of each page is very helpful, also.

Enumeration began on 9 March 1787 and included a tax on white males 21 and up, but this was repealed 12 Oct 1787, so it may not be included on all lists.

The 539-page index is excellent: Each spelling for a surname on a line alone, with a new line for each given name, an extravagance few publications can afford. Where spelling was in doubt, a question mark was inserted. There are 2,500 cross references, such as "Bates - see Baits - see Bales."

This fine book is a MUST for everyone with ancestral ties to early Virginia.

CHURCH RECORDS OF THE PIONEER GERMAN FAMILIES OF BERLIN, TEXAS, EBENEZER LUTHERAN CHURCH translated by Jack Autrey Dabbs and Edward C. Breitenkamp. Published by Family History Foundation, 1985. Hardbound; 8½ x 11"; pp. 292 + vi; Preface, Introduction, Index, Map.

This reviewer was surprised to discover that this compilation of church records of German families in a tiny town, formerly in Washington County, Texas, is a really fascinating book, interesting even to many who have no German connections. Apologies are offered to Dr. Dabbs, a faithful member of AGS, for the tardiness of this review, but the book was placed on the library shelves just after one of our quarterlies went to press, and by the next issue I had just plain forgotten to look for it.

Between its appropriately white leatheroid, gold-embossed covers, the book contains a wealth of information found in Ebenezer Lutheran Church's record books I, III and IV. Book II, the records of the 1860s, unfortunately was burned some years ago.

Baptisms, confirmations, marriages and burials have been re-organized into family groupings - 67 pages of detailed family records in alphabetical sequence that would brighten the heart of any researcher. Some give age, place and cause of death; names of survivors, parents, and pastors. In some instances, the compilers have inserted cross references to sections of baptisms, deaths, etc. in chronological order. Also included are lists of communicants, pastors' annual reports, and financial records such as gifts of firewood for the church and of money for missions.

In the Preface and Introduction, many interesting explanations are made. Readers are warned that a child with three or four baptismal names may not have been called by the first one. Some small towns given as places of origin "defy detection on the map," but the translators offer suggestions.

A map of the German Empire ca 1871 locates 16 spots from whence, according to these records, one or more persons emigrated to Washington County pre-1860.

A chart of the German alphabet and an explanation of the differences between German Script and Roman Script will interest those who have at least a smattering of the language. Some vowels with umlauts appear in the book, but some have been transcribed as ae, oe and ue. A listing of variant spellings of both surnames and baptismal names should be extremely helpful to those looking for German ancestors.

And finally, like a generous dab of whipped cream on a delicious strudel, the editors have included a 75-page detailed index of full personal names and abundant place names.

Would that similar dedicated souls would devote so much effort to publishing the records of all early churches. Well done, Dr. Dabbs and Mr. Breitenkamp!

EARLY EAST TENNESSEE MARRIAGES, Byron Sistler & Associates, Inc., Box 120934, Nashville TN 37212; 2-volume set (404 pp. each) $96 + $2 shipping & handling.

Early East Tennessee Marriages covers the ante-bellum marriages of 20 counties, the earliest being in 1780 (Washington County) and the latest in 1880, as they decided to finish the book when a county's marriage book extended beyond 1861.

Almost all surviving original marriage book records are on microfilm at Tennessee State Library in Nashville, and contain much more data than is included in this Index.

The format in the Sistler Grooms book is: Surname (in alpha sequence), given name; bride's given name, surname; date of license; date of solemnization (when it is recorded); one- or two-letter abbreviation of county. The Brides book has identical information in reverse order. When there are many grooms of the same name, a man's position is determined by the alphabetical order of his bride's first name, but in the Brides book, a particular Smith, Mary is located by her groom's surname.

Although their policy is not stated, the Sistlers appear to use the out-moded month-day-year formula for dates: 10-26-1866. Being computer-indexed, this book places Jos. S. before Joseph, of course, contrary to the centuries-old rule. There is an axiom about "mind over matter," but now we have machine prevailing over mind!

Typewriter typeface is used, rather pale, but more readable than many indexes produced by this firm. The books are enhanced by a map of the counties covered and the time span of each county's records.

Early East Tennessee Marriages serves a useful purpose as an index to encourage the reader to seek out further information that may be on a marriage record, such as parents, bondsmen, officiant, and sometimes personal details.

KERR COUNTY, TEXAS, DEATH RECORDS, 1903-1960, compiled by Gloria Clifton Dozier; © 1988; published by Heritage Books, Inc., 1540E Pointer Ridge Place, Suite 3000, Bowie MD 20716. Perfect binding, 8½ x 11", pp. v + 216 [advertised] unnumbered pages; $25 + $2 shipping and handling per order.

Kerr County, Texas, Death Records, 1903-1960 includes 1870 and 1880 Mortality Schedules and a list of about 20 death records dated between 1907 and 1958 which are locked away from the public in a vault in the courthouse. Ms Dozier calls them "Delayed Death Certificates" but does not explain the term. Eighty-one years is a lengthy delay, as nobody can deny!

Information in this helpful book is set forth in eight columns: Book No., Name [in alphabetical order], Death [in figures representing month, day, year], Age, Born [state], Lived [state or Texas town of residence before going to Kerr County], Died [Kerr County town], Buried [town or cemetery, the latter, in Kerr County, being identified in the Foreword].

This book should be an extremely valuable source for death data in that area and time frame. Its appeal is not limited to Kerr Countians alone; recorded are deaths of emigrés from Mexico, Venezuela, Canada, the "Phillipine Islands", and virtually every state in the USA.

The reader may notice an appalling number of misspelled Texas town names - some obviously a slip of the fingers (understandable in a typing task of this scope), but the consistent appearance of such bloopers as "Witchita Falls" and "New Brunfels" cannot be readily excused. Anyone who undertakes a project of this nature should provide himself with an alphabetized list of Texas towns.

Insufficient proofreading is also indicated by errors in alphabetizing the surnames, and by the occurrence of "complied" for "compiled" and of "Morality Schedule for 1870" in the Foreword. (The last-mentioned should make rather interesting reading.)

But enough of this nit-picking! This reviewer recommends Kerr County, Texas, Death Records ... as a splendid opportunity to search for the death of Great-aunt Agatha who just disappeared from family records. Because of its climate, people have gone to Kerr County from all over the world, seeking a cure for tuberculosis (a word that was only whispered in some circles), and many seem to have so exhausted their financial resources that there was nothing left for shipping the body back home when they died. Thus there is no stone for them in the family cemetery plot where one would expect to find it.

The comprehensive statistics furnished by this book will enable the researcher to identify individuals with assurance.

SCRAPS OF EARLY TEXAS HISTORY by Mary Sherwood Helm; Appendix by Elias R. Wightman. Originally published 1884; reprinted 1987 by Eakin Publications, Inc.; edited and annotated by Lorraine Jeter. $10.95 ($11.52 by mail to Texans) from publishers, Box 23069, Austin TX 78735. Hardbound; ca 5½ x 9"; pp. xxxix +120. Contents (a summary of the book and of each chapter separately), Preface, Acknowledgments, Appendix, Endnotes, personal and place-name Index, Photographs and Drawings.

This attractive little volume is a welcome reprint of a Texas classic, a capsule of earliest Texas history through the Battle of San Jacinto as perceived by a female colonist at the time and recorded nearly 50 years later.

The first third of the book is poorly organized, and gets off to a slow start with a superficial account of the causes and events of the Texas Revolution. Bearing in mind that the principal medium of communication at that point was hysterical rumor, it is small wonder that some of Mrs. Helm's "scraps" of history are just far enough off the mark to set a modern historian's teeth on edge.

For example, she makes the statement (p. xvii) that Stephen F. Austin was kept in a Mexican dungeon for two years "in darkness without communication with his friends and no reading matter." Yet the endnote purporting to be the source of this refers to Yoakum's History of Texas 1:315, which states: "... he remained in close confinement three months." [He was in Mexico City over two years, yes, but "in durance vile" only a short time - under a sort of house arrest most of the time.]

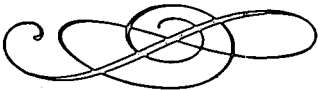

But of far greater importance to modern readers of Scraps of Early Texas History are the descriptions of her travel experiences: down the Allegheny, Ohio and Mississippi rivers; from New York to New Orleans, thence to Matagorda; from Galveston to the mouth of the Brazos; and other journeys overland. These give the reader a vivid picture of the perils of travel in those days.

Sharing the style of many 19th-century writers, Mrs. Helm's verbiage is emotionally charged and her viewpoint unabashedly biased - which may strike the reader as either annoying or charming. Her incomplete sentences and superfluous commas were a source of minor irritation for this reviewer, but not nearly as annoying as the editor's persistent reference (in the endnotes) to A Texas Scrap-Book by D.W.C. Baker as Baker's Scrapbook (in italics as if Baker's were part of the title). An amusing typo on page 110 gives an author's name as James Cook See. (The period should have been after Cook.) Similarly, on 113, the omission of a period and of "John Henry" makes it appear that Dr. Hunter Brown wrote a History of Texas.

In 1828 the author came to Texas with her first husband, Elias R. Wightman, who had been a surveyor for Austin's Colony since 1825. The Appendix, which covers two thirds of the book's pages, was compiled from his field notes and other observations, notably concerning rivers of the coastal region, which he delineated on a map in 1828. Mr. Wightman recorded names and numbers of Indian tribes, kinds of trees, animals, and soil; latitudes, distances between points; and described bays - always of vital interest to the immigrant.

Since neither author was familiar with Spanish, it is not surprising that many proper names are misspelled. But one error may very well derive from a printer's misinterpretation of handwriting when setting up the first edition. On page xviii of the reprint there is a reference to the re-taking [by the Mexicans] of the "Fort at Lemantoma" on March 6th, 1836. Knowing that some handwritten capital S's look like L's, I suggest that Mrs. Helm's manuscript read "Sanantonio."

But Scraps of Early Texas History never claimed to be a scholarly work, and did not earn a place in John H. Jenkins's Basic Texas booklist as such. Far more valuable than historic facts (to this reviewer, at least) are Mrs. Helm's personal reminiscences of her part in the Runaway Scrape and the perils and discomforts of travel in that era. I highly recommend it to descendants of Texas pioneers, especially.

Written by J. Kendall Few, son of
Mary Dodgen Few, author of THE DODGEN STORY
(Southern Historical Press, 1985)

TO THE DODGENS

Come and listen while I tell you of the William Dodgen clan
Who came over here from Surrey and spread clear across this land,
From Virginia on to Texas, they migrated far and wide,
From the banks of the Ohatchie to the Rockies great divide.
Every mother's son among them, nondescript or world renowned,
It is our avowed objective and intent to track them down.
So we'll check the courthouse records of each county seat that rings
From Saluda, South Carolina clear to Colorado Springs.
Then we'll search the dusty archives out in every port of call
And pursue the wanted posters on the old post office wall,
Seeking out our Dodgen kinsmen on each mountainside and draw
From the Chatahoochie River to the hills of Arkansas.

Now old cousin Clarence Dodgen and Juanita, his sweet bride,
Live out there in Austin Texas, near where Eli Wesley died.
There were John and James-and William O., whose son John Lewis locks
The Dodgen line to his great-grandson Allen Bennett Cox.
Then there was Eli Washington, who fathered cousin Vann, Grandpa of Pat Reel Davis of the Colorado clan.
When William first came over here he had a second son
Who was born up in Virginia back in seventeen-fifty-one.
He was a son of whom his parents must have been quite fond Although of all the names on earth they dubbed him Olimon!
He came to South Carolina with his name to end all names,
Where his three sons were William, Olimon and Uncle James.

James Dodgen fathered Preston, who fathered Joe, then John
Was next in that long Dodgen line that sprang from Olimon.
John fathered young James Edward of Colorado Springs,
Who flits about the world as if he had a pair of wings,
A comrade in the army of our tireless Dodgen search
With cousin James McMellon down at Good Hope Baptist Church
While cousin Martha Paris down Atlanta, Georgia way,
Still doesn't answer letters like her cousin Joseph Rhea
Does down there in Teague, Texas, near the Navasota shore,
A half of world away from banker cousin Harold Glore
Of Mableton who helps to stir the Georgia Dodgen pot
Assisted by our elder statesman, cousin Emma Scott.

John Floyd's our preacher cousin of the Alabama strain.
Great Uncle Eli Wesley grandsired cousin Bonnie Cain,
Whose habedasher father Barney O. in his career
Befriended Harry Truman, author of: "The Buck Stops Here!"
While Bonnie's cousin Doris Tillery, the Ph. D., Lives out there in Greenville, Texas, where regularly she Keeps tabs on all the western Dodgen kinsmen there despite
Our cousin poor George Swanson who's forgotten how to write.
Yet down in Snellville, Georgia, E. D. Reed still heeds our call
For the sake of Grandpa Wiley, as does cousin Julia Hall.
Many thanks for the assistance and I wish for each of you
A Merry Christmas from your cousin Mary Dodgen Few.

I am still chasing loose ends on my MARR family lines. These lines reach back into Colonial Virginia. I found my great-great-grandfather HUGH D. MARR being born in Tennessee, 1822. No area, no parents and nothing of where his family had come into Tennessee or where they had gone until I picked up on HUGH D. MARR on the 1850 Federal Census in Union County, Arkansas. Here he is listed as head of family with a wife, one Mary Pettit, three children, Fanny Ida [my great-grandmother], Arthur B., & Frances.

I am trying to find his parents so that I might connect them up with Revolutionary War MARRS. HUGH was an attorney and property owner in and around Eldorado, Arkansas & also in Calhoun County, Arkansas - Champagnolle. In the early years, apparently, HUGH was in the area militia, obtaining the military rank of Colonel.

Of his first wife, MARY PETTIT. I know nothing. Sometime between the 1850-1860 federal census' apparently she died. In the 1870 census it shows a second marriage for HUGH - to VIRGINIA E. TOBIN. To this marriage there were born 8 children.

My great-grandmother, FANNY IDA MARR, married one DR. JOHN JENKINS TOBIN and they came to Austin, Texas in 1870. A son of HUGH MARRS 2nd marriage, DONALD PHELPS MARR, came to Austin, finished his education and passed his exams for the Texas bar. He settled in Pleasanton, Texas - was a member of the legislature and was appointed a state judge.

I am trying to get as much information on the MARR line as possible to help complete my membership papers for DAR. Any information that is forthcoming will be greatly appreciated.

I am still working on my DAVID PHELPS line, from Georgia; LANHAM & JACKSON & LAMAR lines [these just being pursued]; TOBIN, HEILIG & ALEXANDER lines as well. The Tobin line comes from Ireland to So. Carolina, to Alabama, Georgia and Arkansas and on to Texas. The HEILIG & ALEXANDER lines from Prussia to the USA and into Texas [LaGrange, Fayette County, Texas].

My LANHAM, JACKSON & LAMAR lines come from LEAKE Co., Mississippi. The LANHAMS settled in Hillsboro, Hill Co., Texas. Some of the JACKSONS settled in Lancaster, Dallas Co., Texas.

I am beginning to research the following families:
PRESLEY, MILLS, SISK & WERHAN. At the present time I am concerning more on the Presley & Mills line. But I need help with all line. My wife is helping me research these line at this time.

One would think that the Presley line would be an easy one to research - what with all the publicity of the FAMOUS ONE - Elvis, himself. Many recollections have come to my generation thru an elderly aunt and before her those of her brothers & sisters who would share.

The big contribution - hazy tho' it might be - is the fact that my brother & I along with our cousins are supposed to be 4th cousins to Elvis. It has been told us recently that Elvis' grandfather, Mitchell Presley, was a brother to my grandfather -
L. Z. Presley.

I do not know when my Presley's came to Texas but the 1900
Federal census picks up L. Z., wife Jennie Marie Mills Presley, and 5 older Presley children. The 1910 Federal census picks L. Z. Presley and his 9 children; the wife & mother having died in 1909.

Georgia reportedly is the birthplace of L. Z. Presley & his parents were from South Carolina.

My grandmother Jennie Marie Mills, reportedly was born in Louisiana, raised a Roman Catholic and educated in a Catholic convent [in New Orleans, maybe?]. According to the elderly aunt, Jennie Mills' father was a Confederate veteran and owned a large bit of property in Louisiana. It is not known when she and her family came to Texas.

It is not known when or where L. Z. or Jennie met or were married. They supposedly met when L. Z. was with the school system in Waxahatchie, Texas. They lived during the time they were having their family in Blooming Grove & Conaicana, Navarro County, Texas. Jennie died in Conaicana, 1909 and L. Z. died in Kerrville, Kern, Texas, 1929.

Their children are Viola, Noel [my father], Ethel,
Elizabeth, Edwin C., Robert D., Lucille and Thomas S.
Presley. The only living one of this couple's children is Elizabeth.
This couple is buried in the Oak Grove cemetery in Conaicana.
+ + + + +

My mother Hazel Julia Sisk, daughter of Josiah O. Sisk & Cecilia Julia Werhan Sisk, was born in Pueblo, Colorado. I do know she was a student at a Catholic convent in Creed, Colorado.
But nothing much is known of her father's family nor her mother's family. She was an only child.

Any help on these lines would be greatly appreciated.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS TO THE PEDIGREE CHART OF SUZANNE JACKSON NASH, Published in the AGS Quarterly, June 1985

Contributed by Mary K. Dolhof, 11510 Heathrow Dr. Austin.

AGS member, Mrs. E.E. Jackson spent many hours in the Genealogy Section of the Texas State Library, made two guided, working tours at the LDS Library in Salt Lake City, a genealogical study tour in Washington, D.C. I have assisted her in searching, writing letters, and compiling information and charts.

We sent Family Group Sheets to Yates Publishing Co., who sent us a number of Putnam Family Group Sheets, compiled by Mrs. Leonard C. Rice, 15 East Gibson Avenue, Portersville, CA 93257. These sheets provided the connection of Mymott W. Putnam, whose father was Caleb Putnam, Jr. (not Charles as one census showed), Caleb (Sr.) was #1904 in Eben Putnam's books, The Putnam Family of England and America, (two volumes.) 1891.

Eben Putnam spent the major part of his life traveling to Putnam sites in England and elsewhere, and compiling this extensive study. Here is a query he placed in the William and Mary Quarterly (4W (1) 67 - Swem's Index of VA), "Any information regarding persons bearing the name of Putnam who have settled in Virginia, or elsewhere in the South, will be gratefully acknowledged by Eben Putnam, Salem, Mass. Particular information is requested concerning descendants of Thomas, living 1659, son of Thomas Putnam who died in or on the way to Virginia; of Caleb Putnam (#1904), who may have settled in Virginia in the early part of this century (19th); and of the ancestors of Henry Putnam, now of Wisconsin."

CORRECTIONS ON p. 127 of the June 1985 Quarterly are on the next page. Mrs. Grover Kemp, Rt. 3, Box 276, Hillsboro, TX 76645, wrote, after seeing p. 126 and 127 in the June 1985 Quarterly: "Has someone alerted you to the fact that Damaris Hancock was not the mother of John Birdsong, d. 1790, Union Co., S.C.? According to the information I have, she was the fourth and last wife of John Birdsong, d. 1785. I had done all the researching on the

Copy of letter to Brother Will (Hedden ID=266)
from Walter (Hedden ID=269, age 49) 17 Nov 1905

Bryan, Tex
Nov 17th/05

Dear Bro Will,

Have been at this point for a week & find it about as easy to obtain information from these people as did the Arkansaw Traveler. Well I finally located the Hughes Tract about 20 miles N.E. of here. It is covered with timber & is as level as a floor. I had to get a surveyor to locate it for me. We went out to it in a carriage & then got on horseback & rode all over it. As to its value that is hard to determine. Am reliably informed though that $3.00 per acre can be borrowed on it & I think that is about what a quick sale of it could be made at. To survey it one would gain 200 to 300 acres more than the grant calls for as they tell me that all of those old grants were about that way. I went to Brenham & found 1500 acres recorded in Father's name but only 600 deeded away by him, but as the survey lay on the edge of two counties the rest may be recorded in adjoining county.

It would cost quite a good deal to go over the whole thing but then I believe it would pay in the gain in the surveys. I find Texas land has a value as well as any other land & people buy lands here just as readily as anywhere else. I will go from here to Cameron, Milam Co. & look after the 675 acre tract in that county. Will not leave here though until Sunday noon as have a good place to stop at here & would not be able to do anything before Monday even if I left today owing to the round about way I have to go to get there.

It is like being in another world to be here. The sky is as clear as can be & is a deep blue & the weather is all that could be desired at present. It rained the first of the week though & kept me from doing much. Have seen thousands of turkey hens. They drive them to market like hogs are driven. Hope you are all well as usual.

As ever,
Walter

P.S.
Will write fully after I see the Milam Co. Tract.

Dear Editor,

The March Quarterly arrived while we were off on a trip, so I am just now getting to read it. You put out a most interesting publication. The Burkhart letter reminded me of some family letters in my possession. I also have letters from Jacksonville, Rogue River Valley, in the Oregon Territory dating from 1853 to 1863. They are most informative.

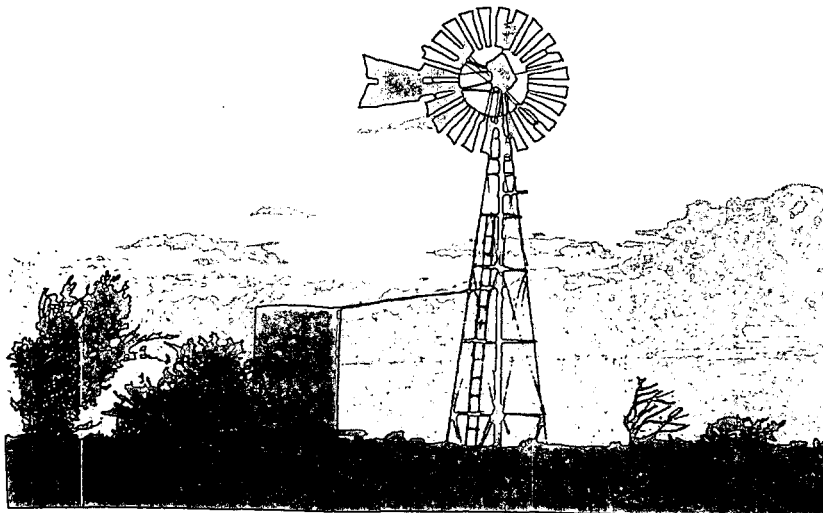

Although my husband, George Simpson, is a native Texan, I do not have any relatives or ancestors from here. However, it seems that my great-grandfather David Hedden came to Texas in 1842 and bought some land. David Hedden was a prosperous merchant in New Albany, Indiana, a town on the Ohio River across from Louisville, KY.

Ten years after his death in 1895, one of his sons, Walter David Hedden came to Texas to investigate this land. The enclosed is a copy of the letter he wrote to his brother William Ayres Hedden in 1905 about his findings. Maybe the letter would be of interest to your readers. If so, publish any or all of it.

Sincerely,

Phoebe Simpson

NAMING NAMES

R.H. Saldana's A Practical Guide to the "Mistakes" Made in Census Indexes (Salt Lake City, 1987), recently acquired by the Texas State Library Genealogy Collection for $19.95, attempts to counter criticism of the budget-gobbling census indexes that have emanated from Utah for the last dozen years. It backfires horribly.

If it had been printed on both sides of the paper, with the very large type reduced to normal size, this "book" would have shrunk to a dozen-page pamphlet that could be offered for 50¢ or so, or given gratis to purchasers of the indexes. At any rate, we have a fair amount of obvious advice here and a bit of insight into what makes these indexing companies tick.

I was appalled to learn that "A.I.S.I. does not usually list the Chinese in their indexes unless they were married." (p. 9) Is it the function of an indexer to eliminate sections of the researcher's burden willy-nilly like this? I should hope not. A fine statement that "indexing requires good interpretation skills" (p. iii) is blown away by a remark on page 24: "Interpretation errors are difficult to detect and even harder to criticize; after all, even the 'Experts' have differed recently on the authenticity of historical documents." The authenticity of a record has nothing at all to do with reading that record correctly, and the obvious question, whether the indexers have received training, is never raised.

[To test the competence of the indexers - or "paleographic demographers" as these sesquipedalian amateurs style themselves - I selected at random the A.I.S.I. New York 1840 Census Index (1978), edited by Ronald Vern Jackson and Gary Ronald Teeple, which opened at page 281. I selected half a dozen names that seemed fishy to me and checked the corresponding census record, with these results:

'Ivce Durling' of Tompkins County is Ira Durling
'Cherry Durper' of Essex County is Cheney Burpee
'William Durtale' of St. Lawrence County is William Burton
'Docluff Duryen' of Queens County is Roeluff Duryea
'Janenoll Dusenbury' of Rensselaer County is James M. Dusenbury
'Audin Dutcher' of Seneca County is Hiram Dutcher.

In every case, the indexer had indicated a sure reading, one he did not regard as questionable. My point is made: These indexers cannot read the record.]

Under the entry 'Data Entry Errors' (p. 20), the editor writes, "The indexer misses the change to another township. The seriousness of this type of mistake is compounded when it is the state, county or year that was involved." What? If I pick up the Jackson, Teeple, and Schaefermeyer Georgia 1830 Census Index (1976), part of it may not be Georgia at all? Yes, indeed. Page 17 of that index is from the A.I.S.I. index to the Alabama 1830 census (though the omitted Georgia page is not to be found in the Alabama index). But this is a mere 250+ households omitted. In the same Georgia index, 10,946 persons in Warren County were indexed as though they lived in Ware County: a hidden thrill for the Warren County researcher. Alas, Mr. Saldana does not cite these or any other instances of this kind of "mistake" one finds throughout the A.I.S.I. indexes. Yet he hints at greater horrors (p. 25):

"The worst type of error is one where the entry was missed. When an entry was 'left out', you are dead in the water." Not, Mr. Saldana, as long as another indexer - a competent one - has provided us with an alternative index. Let us suppose, for example, a whole county was left out, or two, or three, or more. Suppose that the Jackson and Teeple's Mississippi 1850 Census Index (1977) completely leaves out Pike, Pontotoc, and Rankin counties from that index. Well, it does, for a loss of 3,398 households, without a clue for the researcher. Fortunately, Irene Gillis' 1972 index to the same census is complete.

But I wouldn't call this the worst type of indexer's error. The very worst is to employ untrained and/or incompetent people to perform work that only highly trained and experienced people should undertake. Unfortunately, now that A.I.S.I. and similar companies have cleaned out the market for census indexes, there is much less incentive for those who would like to prepare indexes of a higher quality. Our question should not be whether A.I.S.I. et al. have an "error rate" of 1% or of 19% or of 39%, but why so little care was taken to produce indexes of high quality in the first place.

There are minor quibbles with this book - "Pleas" is short for Pleasant, not Pleasance; it is "rent roll" not "rent role", etc. - and Mr. Saldana neglects to mention a most irritating feature of the 1860 and later indexes from A.I.S.I.: the lopping off of the final number in the numerous four-digit page numbers occurring in the later census records. But let us conclude on an upbeat note and say whatever good we can of this book: It is sturdily bound.

[Editor's Note: This was received just before AGSQ "went to press," but is too pertinent to be omitted, even though it had to be placed after the Ancestor Listing Section. This editor agrees that many census indexes have been foisted on the public in a deplorable state, both as to errors and to legibility. I hastily scanned the first two pages of A Practical Guide to the "Mistakes" Made in Census Indexes and noticed two incomplete sentences, which leads me to conclude that its author is scarcely better trained than the indexers he is criticizing or defending.

D.L. Kent noted that he did not intend to criticize the State Library, A.G.S., or anyone who donated these indexes, "since they were all that was available."

All we can do now is take these indexes with a grain of salt the size of a hen egg and use our imaginations to find the names we are searching for. I should think there is a ready market for books that fill in the deficiencies that exist in the present indexes, supplementing the ones so ably pointed out in the above article, thanks to D.L. Kent.]
