THE FAR-FLUNG BIRTHPLACES OF THE OLDRIGHT FAMILY

Appearing below is a very interesting letter sent to us by AGS member Elinor (Dale) Scheer of Oregon. It is an example of the treasures that may occasionally be found by genealogists. Written by Mrs. Scheer's great-uncle, the letter revealed data on several previously unknown relatives. This is a tip to all of us that we should never ignore the memoirs or correspondence of distant relatives.

Most of us have encountered census records that show the children of one family to have been born in several different states. But if you know a family that claimed so many different birthplaces, let's publish it in AGSQ!

On page 181 of our last issue there is a query about this Oldright family. In subsequent correspondence, Mrs. Scheer has informed me that the following letter was written to George Leslie Oldright, son of William John and great-nephew of John Edward, the writer. Leslie's grandfather, George, was a brother of John Edward Oldright and the great-grandfather of Elinor Scheer.

John Edward Oldright is believed to have lived in Austin about 50 years, to have served in the Texas Rangers, and to have died in California but brought back to Texas for burial beside his wife (place not specified). An 1871 newspaper, she says, shows: "Oldright, John E. - Austin - Light artillery company under Capt. Oldright - Parade" [meaning not quite clear].

After the death of Mrs. George Oldright and daughters Minnie and Gracie (1874-1875) who were buried in Oakwood Cemetery at Austin, her children Willie (William John) and Gertrude are thought to have gone to live with their Uncle John and Aunt Julia, but Mrs. Scheer did not say whether or not her grandmother (Elizabeth) did the same.

If any of our readers can shed more light on these long-ago Austinites, please write to Mrs. Elinor (Dale) Scheer, 3090 NE Lincoln, Hillsboro OR 97124.

The letter shows no place or date, but must have been written between 1912 (as he said he went to Germany then) and 1915 (when his brother George died).

My dear Leslie,

Your mother in her last letter said you would like me to write what I know of my father and mother. My father was rather stern and reticent and not inclined to talk about himself or other people. My sister while the regiment was quartered in Dublin was told by our grandmother something about our family history on the Oldright side. Our grandfather Oldright's family lived in Frankfort-on-the-Main. He was a student in one of the German Universities and duels were common among the students at that time, and are to this day, though I do not think they are fraught with as much danger, the most vital portions of the body being protected, these duels are fought with rapiers or swords. Your great-grandfather, whose name was Altrecht (translated into English Oldright) engaged in one of these duels, and his antagonist fell as he supposed mortally wounded, and these duels being unlawful, had the man died he would have been deemed guilty of homicide so the fled to the sea and took shipping on the North Sea for England. the ship he was on founded in a storm. he and a few others survived, and landed in England but his relatives supposed he was lost, and he never made himself known, but heard in some way afterwards that his wounded antagonist recovered. From my son who spent $2\frac{1}{2}$ years at German Universities, I learned that the students at the beginning of a semester organize themselves into "fighting corps" and fight duels, the swords are blunt on the points but the blades are keen as razors, and inflict ugly flesh wounds, a surgeon is always in attendance to dress wounds, and take stitches when necessary. They fight among themselves, and often students from other universities visit each other for duelling purposes. These duels though unlawful are winked at by the Authorities, and the scars received in them are worn with pride by their recipients, and are looked at as marks of honor, though often very disfiguring. I was in Heidelberg in 1912 at [his son's?] commencement when the city seemed to be full of students, and many of them wearing marks of recent duels, of which they seemed quite proud. Well, I have digressed.

Arrived in England, he [Altrecht] enlisted in the English Army. I know nothing of his military career, but suppose he served out his term of enlistment and married in Ireland where he passed away - in Dublin - at the age of 86, my grandmother at that time was 76 and passed away 10 years later, also at the age of 86. I never saw them but once in passing through Dublin.

My father was born in London, Eng., Jan 29, 1802 and entered the English Army at an early age as a drummer boy, I suppose put in by his father. He was at the battle of Waterloo, June 18, 1815, being then about $13\frac{1}{2}$ years of age. His regiment, the 81st, did not arrive on the field 'til late in the day, and did not participate in the fighting, but were engaged in gathering up the wounded, and taking them off the field while the fighting was going on. In 1912 I visited this battle field, leaving my party at Brussels in order to go there. I think it is 15 or 20 miles from Brussels.

My father rose from a drummer boy, through all the various grades to that of Major in the army after 44 years of service. He was a fifer, bandsman, playing flute, corporal, sergeant, color sergt, sergeant major, ensign, acting adjutant, lieutenant, captain & major; retired on full pay in 1856 I believe.

He had 7 children: Henry, George, Sarah, Bessie, John, Elijah and William. Henry born in Fredericton, New Brunswick in 1827 in August - a smart man, fine linguist, scholar, Prof of Modern Languages in Dalhousie College, Halifax N.S. [Nova Scotia] (now Dalhousie University), lawyer, Supreme Court Reporter - passed away in Halifax; don't remember year, had one child who passed on: a bright little girl 10 or 12 years old - that branch of the family has passed out.

Next George, born on one of the Bermuda Islands in 1830 - Ireland island I believe - learned the trade of a cabinet maker in Toronto, Canada, went into business in Brantford, firm name Pell & Oldright, worked at a trade most of his life, married Mary Cooper in Toronto about 1858 or 1859, came to Texas in 1860, had 5 children: Wm. J. born at or near Jefferson, Texas, Minnie the same, Gertie born at Oshawa [? in Ontario], Canada; Gracie the same, Georgie at Austin, Tex. Mary the mother and 3 children passed away and are buried in Austin. Gertie and her father [died 9 Mch 1915] are the only ones now surviving.

Sarah born in Dublin 1832 passed away in same place, when 2 years old. Bessie next born in 1834 in Dublin, married R.G. Tremaine, lived in Halifax where he died; she passed on in Toronto. They had two children - Cecil who passed on a year later, and Hilda who passed in infancy - so that branch of the family is gone from the earth.

John - the writer - is next, born at Gibraltar [British Colony] July 28, 1836; married Julia I. Durand in Toronto Aug. 28, 1869. My travels, ups and downs too long to relate on paper. We had two children: John Herbert, born at Austin May 29, 1870, passed on June 26, 1871, and C.D. O. born June 23 1872, passed Jan. 19, 1896, of whom more at another time. When we [he & wife] pass out, another branch will be gone.

Elijah, born at Gibraltar Sept. 1839, a bright little boy, met with an accident at sea, resulting in hip joint disease. He passed out at Berwick-on-Tweed, England, Decr. 1850 aged 11 yrs. & 3 mos. and was a terrible sufferer most times.

William, a studious boy, and the youngest, born at St. Kitts [St. Christopher, British West Indies] June 23, 1842, lived at home until he married in Toronto, Decr. 1865 to Sarah Ellen Durand. Went to school at different places till he entered Toronto University, graduating in Arts and Medicine, was gold medallist at graduation, has lived in Toronto most of his life, though he has travelled extensively.

They had 8 children: Daisy, Harry, Minnie, Percy, Constance, Winnie, Jo. and Edith, all living except the last named who died in infancy. She came before Winnie and Jo.

I should have stated my brother Henry was married twice, first to Margaret Helen Kerr of Wallace, Nova Scotia; second to Gertrude Smith at Halifax. No children by first marriage.

My father married Elizabeth Clucas at Halifax N.S. in 1826. She was born in May 1802, being about 5 months younger than my father. Her father was a Scotchman and passed away in middle life at Halifax. Her mother was a native of the Isle of Man - a Manxwoman. They emmigrated to Nova Scotia at an early day and my mother was born in Halifax, she always had a desire to return to her native land when they would settle down, which she did after travelling around a good deal of the world with my father. My father, mother & sister are buried at Dartmouth, N.S. across the bay from Halifax. My mother passed away May 1884, aged 82 years and I believe on her birthday. My father passed 7 years later in Octr 1891, lacking 3 months of being 90 years old. They passed in the same house in Dartmouth. My sister's [Bessie] body & that of her son were taken there and all rest in Dartmouth cemetery.

In the Journal of the Genealogical Society of Rowan County, North Carolina (Volume II, 1988) is a reference to a letter received by the Historic Salisbury Foundation and passed on to the History Room of Rowan Public Library. Written by the resident-manager of the Neill-Cochran House Museum in Austin, the letter asked for biographical details about ABNER HUGH COOK, architect of the Texas Governor's Mansion, since he was born and raised in Salisbury. POST-REPUBLIC NOTES

EARLY IN 1855, R.W. Brahan Jr. datelines a letter "Cibolo Bexar Co.", which was postmarked New Braunfels. Six months later another of his letters was postmarked Valley, Texas.

A modern postal guide shows Cibolo in Guadalupe County which was cut out of Bexar & Gonzales in 1846. There is no post office in Texas named just Valley, but The Handbook of Texas indicates that Cibolo's first store was built after 1867 in the settlement later known both as Fromme's Store and as Cibolo Valley.

Was this Brahan's place of residence? He wrote about going to "San Antonio where are 'the gayest of the gay'" for fun. But he assured his cousin, John D. Coffee, that there was "No house of ill fame in the place."

In February 1842 there was a town named Natches in Menard Co.

In 1881 the town of Rhodes in southwest Angelina County changed its name to Burke.

THANKS to Alice (Duggan) Gracy for the answer to a question on page 163 of our last issue. Robert H. Walker married Ida White whose father (Thomas Jefferson White) was an older half-brother of Major George W. Littlefield.

ALSO - Thanks are due to (I think) Jean (Halden) Walker for sending information about Oldrights to Mrs. Scheer (page 181), although she did not name her benefactor in her letter to me. I suspect that the name rang a bell in Jean's vast memory vaults because her Burleson research involved Collinsworths, and Margaret Collinsworth was living in the George Oldright household in 1875!

NEWS ABOUT NEWSPAPERS

In Newsletter Number 5 (Spring 1988) of The University of Texas at Austin's Eugene C. Barker Texas History Center, there is a description of a recently completed project concerning newspapers.

Those of us who have conducted genealogical research in old newspapers will undoubtedly agree that it is a delightful way to pursue our hobby. The sometimes quaint phraseology, the personal details given, the feeling of "You Are There!" are far more stimulating than scanning census forms or deed records. Oftentimes kinships are revealed in newspapers, sometimes things that Great-aunt Effie never mentioned are uncovered, and occasionally a precious photograph rewards an admittedly eye-straining session.

In the following few pages an attempt will be made to reveal things you may not have known about historical newspapers available to researchers. Here in Austin we are especially fortunate to have access to so many.

Funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Texas Newspaper Project has cataloged 4386 newspaper titles in four libraries on the campus of The University of Texas at Austin: the Eugene C. Barker Texas History Center, the Benson Latin American Collection, the Perry-Castañeda Library, and the Collections Deposit Library. "All titles were entered into OCLC [Online Computerized Library Center], an on-line bibliographic database serving more than eight thousand libraries, and into UTCAT, the on-line catalog to holdings in the University's libraries." (Barker Newsletter #5)

Barker Center, with more than 2500 titles, "contains the most extensive collection of historic Texas newspapers in existence." Besides microfilm copies of numerous ante-bellum titles, there are newspapers in French, Spanish, German, Czech, Swedish, Italian, Korean, and Chinese, plus ethnic papers representing Black, Hispanic, and Jewish communities, and special-interest titles published by Ku Klux Klan and anti-prohibitionist groups, some at Texas military posts, and some in Indian Territory.

Barker Center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Free parking is permitted in the lot belonging to the Lyndon Baines Johnson Library and Museum, 2313 Red River Street.

Texas State Library, Archives Division, also participated in the nation-wide cataloging project. This agency reports a holding of ca 2400 hard-copy newspapers. This Newspaper Collection consists of approximately 750 Texas titles and 400 U.S. and foreign titles. Their card catalog has two parts: "the first drawer is a cross index by date and by city. Under each date are listed all the titles of newspapers in the holdings having one or more issues for that year. The titles by city are listed alphabetically under the designations 'Texas,' 'U.S.,' or 'foreign.' Since newspaper titles may not include the city name and may change over time, the researcher should check the cross index. To obtain the call number for the newspaper, the researcher must consult the title index, arranged alphabetically by the newspaper's full title." (Guide to Genealogical Resources in the Texas State Archives by Jean Carefoot, 1984)

Most archival newspapers are too large and fragile to be photocopied. Many of those in Texas State Archives have been microfilmed, and of course the researcher is urged to use the microfilm copy to save wear and tear on the original whenever possible. The microfilm is kept in the Information Services Division of the State Library (upstairs in the same building). A copy of the finding aid for records on microfilm (containing a list of microfilmed newspapers and the dates they cover) may be found in the Genealogy Collection of the Library also.

The Lorenzo de Zavala State Archives and Library Building is located at 1201 Brazos Street, due east of the Capitol. The Archives are open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, as are the various departments upstairs. The Genealogy Collection of the Library is open 8-5, Tuesday-Saturday.

The book review section of the June 1988 issue of Stirpes (quarterly journal of Texas State Genealogical Society) alerted us to another means of access to old newspapers. Michael Kelsey of Temple TX has produced a set of Texas Newspapers Abstracts on Microfiche covering marriages, deaths, legal notices, notices about runaway slaves, and excerpts from letters in the first volume entitled Austin, Texas State Gazette 1849-1859. The second volume, Genealogical Abstracts from Central Texas Newspapers 1885-1899, includes statewide deaths; notices from Indian Territory, Arkansas and Louisiana; marriages; two reunions of Civil War veterans; notices of settlers moving west from Central Texas, etc. Miscellaneous Texas Newspapers 1840-1858 contains over 250 administrative notices from seven counties. These three volumes (each with index) are in the Genealogy Collection of Texas State Library -- fortunately purchased early, for Volume II is no longer available. It is to be hoped that the Library will be able to acquire Volume IV (a continuation of the Austin Gazette and other papers) as well as the forthcoming Volume V about Galveston papers of the 1850s. Among the titles Michael Kelsey has abstracted from are the Texas State Gazette, Temple Times, Marshall Republican, and Clarksville Northern Standard.

A book that should be of interest to those who are "into" newspapers as a research field is Lone Stars and State Gazettes by Marilyn McAdams Sibley. With the subtitle "Texas Newspapers Before the Civil War," this volume presents "the history of newspapers and the persons who made them," and contains an annotated checklist of Texas newspapers from 1845 to 1860. Since this list gives the location where a copy of the newspaper can be found, it is "an invaluable reference work." (Stirpes)

Under the subject Newspapers in the card catalog of Texas State Library's Genealogy Collection may be found the following pertinent works:

Newspaper Indexes: a Location and Subject Guide for Researchers, by Anita Cheek Milner

Newspapers in Microform: U.S., 1948-1972 - Library of Congress Catalog Publications Division

Tennessee Newspapers: a Cumulative List of Microfilmed Tennessee Newspapers in Tennessee State Library - The Library

North Carolina Newspapers on Microfilm: a Checklist of Early North Carolina Newspapers Available from the State Department of Archives & History Maury County, Tennessee Newspapers (Abstracts) 1846-1850, by Jill Knight Garrett. Same for 1810-1844.

Newspapers in the Illinois State History Library [may still be on New Book Shelf. GEN 977.3 / N479]

And to be found in the Texas Reading Room of the Genealogy Collection is TEX Crockett [Texas] Newspapers, 1853-1896, by Bebe Beasley Ulrich.

Some time ago a correspondent informed me that "Unreconstructed Rebels" who chose voluntary exile in Mexico after the Civil War ended published a newspaper in Mexico City. She wrote that there are 25 rolls of microfilm of Two Republics, an English language paper covering 1867-1900. A check by the Interlibrary Loan service at Texas State Library revealed two newspapers of that title, published in El Paso, Texas and in California respectively, but neither one seems to fit the description given me. I'll try to get the location of the microfilm for our next issue; but meanwhile, eager beavers may inquire of Miss Ernest Mae Seholm at 604 East Prairie, Eagle Lake TX 77434. She also suggested that researchers check the Gideon Lincecum Papers for people who went farther south after their beloved Confederacy was overrun by "Nawtheners."

In The University of Texas Archives, a Guide to the Historical Manuscripts Collections in the University of Texas Library [Barker Texas History Center] compiled by Chester V. Kielman in 1967, item # 754 is a typed checklist of foreign newspapers in the Library, listed alphabetically by county, city, and newspaper title.

Item # 1911 is entitled Scrapbooks and lists in alphabetical order the subject of each, such as Agriculture, Alamo, Sawnie R. Aldredge, Anderson County, Austin Centennial, Bad Men, Baptists, Confederacy, Ku Klux Klan, Texas Ranchers, Texas Rangers. Probably every county in Texas has a scrapbook. Most of the scrapbooks contain newspaper clippings, offering the researcher the possibility of finding a desired family by place, religion, occupation, military service, social organization.....

Your editor subscribed to The Virginia Gazette 1966-68 and made a scrapbook of interesting articles and reprinted personal items from centuries ago. If any AGS member schould care to borrow it, she/he may call me at 477-7313 between 2 and 7 p.m.

No doubt there are many other films and books about newspapers that may contain names of your ancestors or places where they resided. You are invited to let your editor know if you have found other sources. One never knows where or when you may find that someone in your family has "made the headlines."

A WORD ABOUT OUR INDEX . . . The following index has been kindly and efficiently produced by long-time AGS member John C. Barron, and your editor wishes to express her deepest thanks. It does not include the alphabetized surnames on pages 57-64, or names on the covers, inside or out. But since it gives access to the hundreds of collateral names in Texas State Library Vertical Files, every user of the Library should be everlastingly grateful to John Barron.

PURPOSE: Austin Genealogical Society was organized in 1960 as a non-profit corporation chartered by the State of Texas. Its purposes are to collect and preserve genealogical and historical information about the people of Texas, particularly pertaining to the City of Austin and to Travis and surrounding counties; to instruct and assist members in genealogical research; and to publish public and private records of genealogical interest. Gifts and bequests to Austin Genealogical Society are tax-deductible.

MEMBERSHIP is open to all upon payment of annual dues: $12 per individual, or Family Membership at $14 for two in the same household, entitling them to one copy of each Quarterly, and two pages apiece (a total of four pages for $14 whether one or two persons) in the Ancestor Listing Issue (June). [See AGS QUARTERLY below.]
