ADIEU

This issue of the Austin Genealogical Society Quarterly is the last which I will be publishing as your Editor. The time is probably long overdue when I should be relinquishing these duties to someone who can bring a new and surely refreshing flair and incentive to its fulfillment. Eleven years ago when the Board entrusted me with this task, most material I received was either handwritten or hand-filled or typewritten. Now much of what I have been receiving lately is printer-ready to an exceptional quality that I can't exceed. A lot of what is in this issue comes from the web. The information revolution is leaving me behind. Time to move aside.

I am most happy to be able to turn the helm over to Alana Mallard who has served the Society in many ways already; she is more than capable to succeed me, she exudes enthusiasm, and I know that the Society will benefit from her stewardship of this journal. She will assume the editorship as of the November 2002 issue. Please give her the same measure of support you have always so generously given me.

In leaving, I want to express deep and sincere thanks to the Society, each of you member-readers and everyone on the Board of Directors who have sustained and encouraged me through these eleven years. In particular I want to thank Ruth, my loving wife, who not only put up with but advised and assisted and encouraged me at those times when the pages weren't falling into place or inspiration was otherwise lacking. She deserves much gratitude. And throughout the time I always tried to keep in mind the tenure summa cum laude of my predecessor, Helen Rugeley. I tried but never really succeeded in attaining her high standards of journalism.

I wish the Society, the Board of Directors and Alana all the best I have to offer. There is much much more treasure to mine in the genealogical mountain and I know all of you will be hard at work doing just that.

Bill Koehler

A Word about Altenheim

The following information concerning Altenheim, a home for the elderly here in Austin, was obtained in answer to a query received on the AGS website—Ed.

Your question concerning Altenheim was forwarded to the reference desk at the Austin History Center. We have a clippings file on Altenheim that includes many newspaper clippings from the 1920s through the 1980s, an undated pamphlet, and a 1940 interview of Mrs. M. Reichel, a matron of the facility. Some of the newspaper articles include photographs of the Altenheim residents; however, I did not see the name of Ms. Scharff listed in any of the captions. Also, we have in our collection photographs of Altenheim and its residents, but unfortunately we do not have the names of the people in the photos.

Altenheim, located at 4013 Avenue H, was originally conceived by the German-American Ladies Aid Society in 1903. They received a gift of the Avenue H property from E. W. Herndon in 1904 and began building the residence that same year, using funds that were raised through benefits sponsored by the Aid Society. In 1938 a new building replaced the old one, and in 1968 Lutheran Social Services received the home as a gift from the Board of Directors of Altenheim. In the mid 1980s Altenheim was relocated to Round Rock.

I hope that this is the information you were seeking. Please let us know if we may be of further assistance to you.

A Live Report on the FGS 2002 Conference

The 2002 Federation of Genealogical Societies' (FGS) conference in Ontario, CA, was a local seminar times 40.

There were about 90 speakers giving 180 lectures.

Going out to "California 2002: A Goldmine of Diversity" were AGS members Marilyn Henley, Pat Oxley, Madilyn Crane and me. It was Marilyn's and Pat's first national conference, my fourth and Madilyn's umpteenth. Madilyn is the office manager of the Federation of Genealogical Societies' office and lives here in Austin.

The speakers were the cream of the crop. They are the names you see on the title pages of how-to genealogical books. Look at any genealogical magazine and you will see their writings. They are the professional genealogists.

You may have heard some of them-- Sharon DeBartolo Carmack, Arlene Eakle, Pat Hatcher, Kathleen Hinckley, Hank Jones, Sandra Luebking, George Morgan, Barbara Renick, Dr. George Schweitzer, Lou Szucs, Curt Witcher, Mark Lowe and scores of others. Sandra and Lou edited The Source. Curt is the head of the Fort Wayne Library (and a former AGS Seminar speaker). Sharon has a number of books and tapes on the market and is an editor at Betterway books, a major how-to-do genealogy publisher. Mark will speak at the AGS seminar in 2003.

Madilyn ranks up with the others. She runs the FGS's business on a daily basis. And she determined how to handle adoptions and step children when she wrote the standard for the National Genealogical Quarterly in 1995.

The bad thing was that you had to pick which session to attend. There were eight going on at once. It was like a being a kid in a candy store. So many sweet things, so little time. And, of course, there were the times when two or four sessions were all of interest and you get one. (However, right over there was a table full of cassette tapes with new ones being made as soon as the session was finished. You could listen to it at home or in your car.)

There were 30 minutes between sessions. Not just a break but a chance to go into the exhibit hall and see the wares of almost 90 vendors. Complete bookstores were set up and you could find most any book, video or cassette you desired. Often the authors were in the booth. Demos of software and other needs were on going. The tote bags given at registration would barely hold the loot, both free and purchased.

The show was staffed by volunteers for the most part. Marilyn, Pat and I found out how good it was to volunteer. We agreed to help Madilyn in the FGS booth selling books and pins and other FGS merchandise. So we got to meet and know several of the top speakers as they also helped in the booth and came by to hang out between sessions. And they wanted to go to dinner with Madilyn and she took the Austinites with her and we were able to get to know them personally. And we got to know the people running the California conference and the people who will handle the Florida conference next year. The knowledge will be invaluable in 2004 when AGS joins the Texas State Genealogical Society to put on the Texas conference.

And I'll bet the four of us won't be alone in Florida next September. AGS and the Texas State Genealogical Society (TSGS) will have several members attending who will be "learning the ropes" firsthand for the 2004 conference to be held in Austin. And we will volunteer to help Madilyn and the people in Florida. We will learn what it takes to put on a convention, for the next year is ours.

James Hollas AGS President

Honoring Jean Halden Walker

The Board of Directors of AGS were gratified to be able to honor Charter Member Jean Halden Walker before her death in June of this year by a substantial donation of needed genealogy books to the Texas State Library. We reproduce below a copy of the letter given to Jean concerning this donation:

May 31, 2002

Dear Jean,

The Board members of Austin Genealogical Society send their warmest regards and prayers for you and Charles.

It's hard for us to know just what to do for you at this difficult time and I hope you will be pleased with our gesture. As we are in the process of purchasing genealogy books and CDs on David Baskin's "wish list" for Texas State Library, we would like for this large purchase to be in your honor. Many Texas State Library patrons will see the bookplates honoring you and your service. Perhaps those researchers will be inspired to support Texas State Library and Texas genealogical research the way you have all these years.

These titles requested by genealogy library staff will be given to Texas State Library in your honor:

1890 West Virginia Special Census of Veterans

1890 Virginia Special Census of Veterans

1890 New York Special Census of Veterans

1890 Missouri Special Census of Veterans

1890 Main Special Census of Veterans 1890 Massachusetts Special Census of Veterans

1890 Minnesota Special Census of Veterans

1870 Nebraska Census Index

1910 Wyoming Census Index

World Family Tree Super Bundles 14 and 15, and Volume 31, disc 1

Your life has been an inspiration to many, Jean, and we at Austin Genealogical Society are blessed to be your friends.

With our love and prayers for you and your family,

James Hollas President

ABOUT THE CHISHOLM TRAIL

Texas Historical Commission Launches Chisholm Trail Brochure

Many of our ancestors braved the Chisholm Trail for adventure, to find new lands, to move cattle, and some to escape the past. The Texas Historical Commission (THC) has a new brochure detailing the cultural and historic tourist attractions along the Chisholm Trail.

The brochure will be available after August 30, 2002, with a kickoff celebration in Fort Worth. Other events are scheduled for sites along the trail, including Lockhart, Yoakum, Houston, San Antonio, Meridian, Gonzales, Bowie, Johnson City, Cuero, Kingsville, Clifton and Belton.

The Chisholm Trail guide is the latest in a series that explores the historic sites and areas of interest across Texas. The brochure feature a glimpse of cowboy life, historical information and highlights of historic sites.

Other THC travel brochures: Texas Independence Trail Region; African Americans in Texas; Texas Forts Trail Region; Los Caminos del Rio; Texas in the Civil War; and Texas Forest Trail Region.

For more information on any of the Chisholm Trail events, or to receive a free brochure, call 512/4636255; write P. O. Box 12276, Austin, Texas 787112276; e-mail < thc@thc. state. tx.us > or visit the THS website < hftp://www.thc.state.tx.us/>. For more information about the Texas Heritage Trails Program, call Janie Headrick at 512/463-6092.

The Chisholm Trail

The Chisholm Trail was named for Jesse Chisholm. Jesse was a Scot-Cherokee Indian trader. He first marked the Chisholm Trail for his wagons and was a trading route. Joseph G. McCoy arrived at Abilene, KS, the end of the extended Chisholm Cattle Trail, in 1867 and built stockyards that he advertised throughout Texas. The trail was over 1,200 miles. In the five years from 1867 to 1872, more than 3 million head of cattle were driven up the Chisholm Trail from Texas to Abilene.

By 1870 thousands of Texas longhorn cattle were being driven over the Chisholm Trail to the Union Pacific (later the Kansas Pacific) Railroad shipping center at Abilene.

By 1871, as many as 5,000 cowboys were often paid off during a single day. Abilene became known as the roughest town in the West.

For a detailed history of the Chisholm Trail, read an article written by John Rossel, printed in Volume 5, Number 1 of the Kansas Historical Quarterly, February 1936 or you can read the article on-line at < http://www.kshs.org/perspect/chisholm.htm >.

You can also find a biographical sketch about Jesse Chisholm and the Chisholm Trail in the Texas Handbook On-line at: < hftp://www.tsha.utexas.edu/handbook/online/>.

The Chisholm Trail Heritage Center is located at 1000 N. 29th St., Duncan, OK 73534 or visit the museum on-line at: http://www.onthechisholmtrail.com/>.

POST SCRIPT TO HAPPY HUNTING GROUND

SEPTEMBER 2002

Several times in the past seven years or so, and twice in the past few months, money has been sent specified for me personally for having done my job the best I could as Corresponding Secretary for the Austin Genealogical Society.

I am flattered at the implied (and usually expressed) praise for furnishing what has been valuable information in response to the requests received. Thank you, people, for your thoughtfulness, but I do not feel right about keeping the money, and it has been turned over to the Austin Genealogical Society.

Please know that I am able to collect my out-of-pocket expenses (copies, postage, etc) from the Society (as soon as I get around to adding them up and submitting them, 20 cents, 10 cents, maybe $1.00 or so per receipt!)

So, thank you very much, but send your checks and cash for the Austin Genealogical Society, not to me personally!

Lorrie Foster Henderson Editor, Happy Hunting Ground

New math:

Ed. Note: The following significant observation is copied from the Editorial Comment page of the August 2002 issue of World Oil Magazine:

The way math is taught seems to change every decade, and following is a recap of fifty years of progress. Incidentally, I vaguely remember the version shown for the 70s, despite the fact my experience would have been in the 60s. Maybe that's why they called it "new math" back then--- it hadn't been adopted everywhere yet.

Teaching Math in 1950-A logger sells a truckload of lumber for $100. His cost of production is 4/5 of the price. What is his profit?

Teaching Math in 1960-A logger sells a truckload of lumber for $100. His cost of production is 4/5 of the price, or $80. What is his profit?

Teaching Math in 1970-A logger exchanges a Set L of lumber for a Set M of money. The cardinality of Set M is 100. Each element is worth one dollar. Make 100 dots representing the elements of the Set M. The Set C, the cost of production, contains 20 fewer points than Set M. Represent the Set C as a subset of Set M and answer the following question: What is the cardinality of the Set P of profits?

Teaching Math in 1980-A logger sells a truckload of lumber for $100. His cost of production is $80 and his profit is $20. Your assignment: Underline the number 20.

Teaching Math in 1990-By cutting down beautiful forest trees, the logger makes $20. What do you think of this way of making a living? Topic for class participation after answering the question: How did the forest birds and squirrels feel as the logger cut down the trees? There are no wrong answers.

Teaching Math in 2000-A logger sells a truckload of lumber for $100. His cost of production is $120. How does Arthur Andersen determine that his profit margin is $60?

Writing family history takes time, skill

BY CRISTINA RODRIGUEZ AVALANCHE-JOURNAL*

The boring side of family history involves names and dates drawn into a family tree with a ruler.

The juicy side lies in the memories of the best Thanksgiving dinner or the plucky cousins who camped out in a treehouse.

"It's really important for people to understand where they come from and what their family has gone through before them," said Carla McKeown, a journalism adviser at Texas Tech who teaches people the art of writing their family histories.

From interviews to organization to writing, creating a family history takes time and skill. A genealogist must be dedicated to drawing stories out of family members and finishing the project. He or she must decide what to focus on as well as what to leave out, just like a journalist, she said.

Unlike a journalist, though, genealogists have a good idea of what they are going to write before they begin, she said.

"You don't have to ask very basic questions," she said. "You want more of a story than just the facts. And you don't mind if they go on and on. That's kind of what you're looking for."

McKeown suggested prompting relatives with questions such as if they remember their first day of school, or what Christmas was like at their house.

Carla McKeone displays photographs from a family album that helped her piece together her family history.

ROBIN M. CORNETT AVALANCHEJOURNAL

If they're wary of talking, "explain what you're doing and how important it is to get people to talk to you on the record," she said.

When interviewing, people should take notes as a backup to a tape recorder in case it breaks midway through the interview, she said.

Other items to look for are family artifacts and pictures, which can be props to telling stories. "As soon as people intend to record a family history, they need to go to the oldest relative they know and ask what they have," McKeown said.

In her collection, she has yellowed love letters written by relatives in the early 1900s and in the '30s. There's also a journal her grandmother kept as a class project, which tells more day-to-day activities than emotions.

McKeown's mother's family emigrated from Czechoslovakia to Galveston in 1907 and left little evidence of their lives in Europe. Even a trip McKeown and her husband, Tony Pilkington, took to the Czech Republic yielded nothing except a grave used by the family, marked only with the family's name.

"If you get to the point where you find you can't access (family history), what you can do are other methods of research," she said.

*Reprinted from the 8/02/2//2 issue of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal with their permission. Christina Rodriguez is the granddaughter of AGS VP Charles Locklin.

Armed with the date of her ancestors' arrival to Texas, she looked up archives of the Galveston Daily News for the weather that day, so she could paint a picture of their arrival. She found that at that time the city was re covering from the hurricane in 1900, and there were wooden platforms around town in place of sidewalks.

In 1997, McKeown wrote and bound the story of the immigration. Along with a family tree and facts about Czechoslovakia at the time, she used stories and old photographs to illustrate the family's dreams and their 24day voyage across the Atlantic.

Other resources to use as starting points include libraries, the Internet and the Mormon Church, from which people can order microfilm from Salt Lake City, said Yvonne Perkins, former president of the South Plains Geneological Society.

Perkins cautioned against using the Internet primarily, though, because search results for a family's name are not always correct. Some good Web sites to follow, she said, include www.rootsweb.com, www.ancestry.com, www.cyndislist.com and the search engine www.google.com.

She also suggested that people stay open to other spellings of their name because immigrants often had theirs misspelled in documents.

"Be careful about dates, and check time between generations," said Perkins, adding that if records show a grandfather had a son when he was 7, something's not right.

If genealogists have come to a dead end on their own ancestry, they should delve into the branches of uncles and aunts. Sometimes, more information develops that way, Perkins said. But sometimes just the opposite situation - many sources and lots of information - can pose a problem. For example, relatives could have varying versions of the same incident.

McKeown recommended including all versions, as long as they're attributed to their proper sources.

As far as embarrassing family memories that relatives do not want published, McKeown said it may be good to hold onto those, at least for a while.

"Your job as a writer of family history is to be as accurate as possible," she said. "But to leave out a deep dark family secret won't hurt. You can put it in later."

Once the information is gathered, gen a alogists start what McKeown called the biggest job: writing.

McKeown said she decides what she wants to concentrate on, whether it be the life of one ancestor or the family during a specific time. Writing the history of a whole family can be overwhelming, she said.

Then, she makes an outline. As she writes, she pulls information from a folder with categories such as census facts, family trees and stories.

Histories can be handwritten, photocopied and stapled, or they can be created with text and pictures on a computer design program and professionally published, she said.

However, short stories and novelettes are not the only way to go.

One time, McKeown made a family cookbook, adding information about who the recipes came from and where they were used. Her husband, a photographer, has made a black-and-white photograph of several family heirlooms, in clu ding a Bible, songbook and a ro sary, to give family members. McKeown also suggested building a family Web site.

Once completed, families do not have to be the only audience. If written in the context of a time period or area, family histories could be published in magazines or as a book, McKeown said.

The key, she said, is to make the history a good read.

"To make them laugh and cry when they read it is important," she said. "Whether two people disagree on a date is not necessarily that important It's capturing the family history and getting the heart of the family."

Dear AGS editors,

I have used a website that is new to me. Thought I'd pass it on in case our AGS members that have Georgia and South Carolina ancestors have not used it. It's http://www.augustaarchives.com/index.shtmi For a small fee, you can search the Augusta Chronicle (Georgia) newspaper archives that go back about 200 years. It's has more issues than we have at the library on microfilm and is so easy to use, view and print.

Welcome:

Texas State Genealogical Society

TSGS 2002 Conference

Texas State Genealogical Society 42nd Annual Conference will held in Galveston, Texas on November 1st and 2nd, 2002. We would like you to join us in participating in this year's activities.

Our Speakers:

Saturday - November 2, 2002 JOHN PHILIP COLLETTA, Ph.D - Washington, D.C.

John is one of America's most popular genealogical lecturers. Entertaining, knowledgeable and experienced, he is based in Washington D.C. where he conducts workshops for the Nation Archives and teaches courses for the Smithsonian Institution a local universities. He is a National recognized author, instruct lecturer and will speak on:

- 1) "US Passenger Arrival Records, 1820 1957" (with emphas on German immigrants and ports of Galveston, Indianola, and New Orleans)
- 2) "Using Original and Derivative Sources: How to Evaluate Evidence"
- 3) "Italian Records: What They are and How to Access and Ri Them"
- 4)"Turning Biographical Facts into Real Life Events: How to Build Historical Context"

Friday - November 1, 2002 KIM MORTON - Houston, Texas

Kim will speak on "Revolutionary War Pensions." Kim has proven he is the direct descendant of twenty-three Revolutionary War Patriots. He is a genealogist, lecturer and serves on several genealogical boards, as well as Clayton Library Friends. He delivers an excellent and detailed presentation on the Revolutionary War Pension Papers.

MARTHA EVERMAN JONES, Ph.D - Victoria, Texas

Martha's topic will be "Texas Courthouse Records." Martha is a genealogist, lecturer and columnist. She has done extensive courthouse research, with emphases on Texas. This will be a very good methodology lecture, and will be of interest for beginners and advanced genealogists.

ALBERT SEGUIN GONAZLES and J. B. KLINE - Texas City, Texas

These two men will combine genealogy with history in their session on "Juan Seguin's road to History." Albert is a direct descendent of Juan Seguin who escaped the Alamo when Travis sent him through Mexican lines for reinforcements. Seguin, Texas is named after Juan Seguin, and at one time he owned a large portion of Galveston Island. At a recent Juan Seguin Family Reunion, there were over 2,200 people attending.

Friday Evening - November 1, 2002 - Awards Banquet

VICTOR LANG will be our Banquet Speaker. Victor is a man of many talents. Forty years he was a Congressional staffer in Washington, D.C., and a lobbyist in the private sector, he is a teacher, active in theater since the 1950's, makes TV commercials, and is a B.O.I. (Born on Island) Galvestonian. His presentation will be on Galveston Island and its reputation of being "sin City" from the 1920's through 1950's. He will give us a little "Bordello" piano playing. A hard act to follow.

We will have a large selection of Vendors, with genealogy books, charts, programs, and other genealogy items available. Please join us at the Hotel Galvez, 2024 Seawall Boulevard, Galveston, TX 77550 (409-765-7721) for an educational and informative conference.

For additional information please contact Betty Hendricks Dunquez. 2505 Beluche Drive, Galveston. TX 77551-1503, e-mail Bdunquez@aol.com, or Terry Smith Bowers, 302 Oak Forest Drive, League City, TX 77573-1768, e-mail TLBowers@orbitworld.net

Ed. Note: AGS is a member society of TSGS and supports its many activities.

The Austin Genealogical Society GENERAL INFORMATION

PURPOSE: Austin Genealogical Society was organized in 1960 as a not-for-profit corporation chartered by the State of Texas. Its purposes are to collect and preserve genealogical and historical information about the people of Texas, particularly pertaining to the City of Austin and to Travis and surrounding counties; to instruct and assist members in genealogical research; and to publish public and private records of genealogical interest. In addition, the AGS supports the Genealogical Collection, Texas State Library by donations of books and other genealogical material. Gifts and bequests to AGS are tax-deductible to the full extent permitted by law.

MEMBERSHIP is open to all upon payment of annual dues. Classes: Individual: $20; Family (two in the same household): $30.00; Patron of AGS: $100.00; Lifetime: $500.00 ($300 if over 65). All classes entitle one copy of each Quarterly and monthly Newsletter, as well as two pages apiece (a total of four pages for Family or higher whether one or two people submit listings) in the Ancestor Listing issue (June). After 1 July, dues are $10.00 for the balance of the year, but you will only receive the publications produced after the date you join. Membership includes receipt of the annual Membership Handbook which is published each Spring.

DUES FOR EXISTING MEMBERS ARE PAYABLE on or before JANUARY FIRST of each year for the ensuing year. If dues are not received by 1 February, the name must be dropped from the mailing list. If membership is reinstated later and Quarterlies and Newsletters have to be mailed individually, postage must be charged. (Back Quarterlies are supplied only IF available—very few extras are printed). Send payment to AGS Treasurer, P.O. Box 1507, Austin TX 78767-1507.

MEETINGS of the general membership begin at 7:30 p.m. on the fourth Tuesday of each month except August and December. Members are encouraged to come as early as 6:30 to socialize with each other. MEETING PLACE: Highland Park Baptist Church, 5206 Balcones Dr.. Take Northland (FM 2222) exit off Loop 1 (Mopac). Go west one block to Balcones Dr, then left 1 ½ blks. The Church and parking lot are on right. VISITORS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME. The Board of Directors meets at 6:15 in a separate room.

BOOK REVIEW POLICY: Books on appropriate subjects related to genealogy will be reviewed, but CANNOT be reviewed in AGSQ on the basis of advertising alone. If a review copy is received by the Review Editor at 2202 W. 10th. St., Austin TX 78703 by the first of February, May, August or October, it will be reviewed in the next Quarterly, space permitting. It will then be placed in the Genealogy Collection, Texas State Library, available to all patrons.

CHECK RETURN POLICY: Members and other payees must pay AGS the cost of any returned check (currently $5.00) over and above the charge their bank may impose.

AGS QUARTERLY is issued about the middle of March, June, September and November. Contributions are welcome, subject to editing for style/size. Contributor is completely responsible for accuracy and any copyright infringement. AGS assumes no responsibility for content of submitted material. See inside front cover for address.

ANCESTOR LISTING PAGES (June issue of Quarterly) must reach the Editor at 4500 Hyridge Drive, Austin TX 78759-8054 by the TENTH OF MAY. They must be BLACK and LEGIBLE, whether typed, hand-written, computer-printed or in superior calligraphy. Months must be SPELLED or abbreviated, not in figures. DATES SHOULD BE SHOWN in accepted genealogical style, that is, DAY, MONTH, YEAR (4 no;s.). Allow space for binding at inner margins of facing pages; I.e., your first page will be a left-hand page. Carefully check horizontal pages (reading in the 11-inch direction). Otherwise, the Editor has to position some pages upside down to prevent loss of data in the stapling-punching process. NO 8½ x14 sheets, please! You may submit Lineage or Family Group charts, Ahnentafels, narratives, cemetery inscriptions, Bible records, census data, queries, or a combination of material, just so it is not under copyright. BE SURE to proofread your material for accuracy and clarity so we will not publish faulty or incorrect data. Put name and address of submitter on each page in legible form (not blind embossed). Consult a recent June Quarterly for suggestions. Remember that reproductions are dimmer than originals so try to provide good quality originals.

REMEMBER: Individual membership secures two facing pages.

Family or higher membership allows you four pages.

DEADLINES for everything in the Quarterly except book reviews: 10th of February, May, August and October. Material sent addressed only to AGS Box Number may not reach Editor in time.
