Sexton's cemetery ledgers from 1859

Kay Boyd, our miracle-working records compiler for AGS and the Quarterly, has worked another miracle. On one of her many forays into the records of Austin History Center, she discovered the sexton's ledgers for Oakwood Cemetery, one of the oldest cemeteries in Travis County. Some of the ledgers list names, date of death, cause of death, age, sex, color, nativity, attending physician, grave location, buried by whom (friend, city, county) and remarks.

The good folks at Austin History Center were almost as excited as Kay when they realized how interested she was in the ledgers. Now Kay and her friend-since-Austin-High-days Nancy Wilson have worked a deal with Austin History Center to make these records available on-line for all of us to use. But it's going to take some volunteers to enter data.

The library folks will set up a database and your help is needed at the Austin History Center to enter this valuable information on the early residents of Austin and Travis County. If you want to help, contact Nancy Huber Wilson at 894-0070 or nancy.wilson13@gte.net. A training session will be scheduled at Austin History Center.

On another cemetery front, Jean Shroyer has been collecting lots of records on Travis County cemeteries, and records from four cemeteries are in this issue. I know she can use more helpers, because many cemeteries remain unadopted on our AGS Web sit. Let Jean know if you want to help by recording a cemetery.

I hope you enjoy the Manor information in this issue. Inez Eppright – an AGS member and my Chamberlain and Sterling cousin – has lots of folks in these records. Thanks again to Kay for rootin' out these records.

Happy Hunting Ground: Your Research Resources

By Lorrie Foster Henderson, Austin, Texas, Happy Hunting Ground Editor

"Finding Cousins" is the name of an article in the "Trail Blazer," the bi-monthly publication of the Cumberland Trail Genealogical Society at St. Clairsville, Ohio, for November/December, 2001, Vol. 7, No. 6.

The subtitle of the article is "Ways to Find Others Researching Your Lines," and the second paragraph begins, "Probably the easiest and most common way to find cousins is through the use of 'Queries.'" The author, Rick Sowinsky, goes on to describe queries, and that it will work best if entered in a genealogical society publication in the area where the subject(s) of the query was presumed to have lived.

This is leading up to the point that my column – Happy Hunting Ground – is available as a place to post those queries that could be so helpful to you, not just for people living away from here, but to you locals. Not that I am offering to do your research for you who live here in the Austin area, but to remind you that queries can be posted right here. To get to the point, I find that this column is being a bit underused, and we would like to be of more service to you.

That being said, however, I do have another point to make. The author of the quoted article also describes a number of other resources, including many you already know, such as many on-line and computer methods, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, surname newsletters (found through Everton's Genealogical Helper or Heritage Quest Magazine), the usual county records, cemetery searches, etc., all of which are very helpful.

There is something you may be forgetting with all these other resources, though. Remember what your teachers of your genealogy class taught you: Start with what you know and expand from there. In other words, begin at home, and then your parents' homes, and find your cousins by asking your aunts and uncles and your own parents' cousins. Those people have been the most helpful resources of any in giving me names and addresses of their children, and those in the extended family who are also working on my family lines. They are good, not just for those precious stories of the past, but can help you bring your research up to the present generations. Don't forget that for the future, what you find out about today's families is the history for the future and will be the tomorrow's goldmine.

All this is so commonplace, and the other resources so glamorous and attractive, that you may be overlooking the easiest of all. That's my tip for this issue.

Write Lorrie F. Henderson, Happy Hunting Ground Editor, 5722 Highland Hills Dr., Austin, Texas 78731-4244 or call her at 512-451-2312. Include at least one first name, date and place per query and use names of months and the two capital letters for states. Queries are free, but if a reply is desired, include SASE and 10¢/page plus postage upon receipt of reply.

Letter to the Quarterly Editor

From Rondina Phillips Muncy, Grapevine, Texas

I would like to comment on the feature "Historic Austin, Texas, in Story and Picture" on page 52 of the June 2003 edition of the Quarterly. It is offensive to me that "A Twist at the End" is included in a list with factual books about Austin's history, especially an esteemed edition like Mary Starr Barkley's.

I am well aware of the facts of the serial killings because I am descended from the accused man put on trial. Even though the story is based partly on fact and contains a good amount of Austin history, it is still a story. If someone wants to research what Austin was like during the 1880s I believe the Austin History Center is a much better resource. That is, after all, where Mr. Saylor, the author, got a good part of his information. There is a disclaimer in front of the book that is contradicted by a summary at the end of what was factual or not. I believe that the overall tone of the book leaves the reader with the impression that the accused man, Jimmie Phillips, may indeed be guilty. Mr. Saylor is fortunate that he has not been sued.

Although Austin society wanted this whole episode to disappear into its past, it is an important one. Another source of information is Skip Hollandsworth's article, "Capital Murder," in the magazine Texas Monthly, July 2000, Vol. 28, No. 7. My own completed research on the Phillips murder will be donated to the Austin History Center so that others will not have to go through the same time consuming steps I've had to in discovering the facts of the Phillips murder. I will be happy to submit a piece for the quarterly when I have exhausted all avenues of research.

I would appreciate the Austin Genealogical Society reconsidering the inclusion of Mr. Saylor's book in a recommended list for research. If you continue to include it, I beg that a reference to the Author's Note on page 459 be included to ensure that readers are fully informed.

Recommended Texas and County Histories

Compiled by Rondina Phillips Muncy, Grapevine, Texas

Mary Starr Barkley's "History of Austin and Travis County" is at the top of my list for Travis County, and I believe it is helpful for those studying Williamson and Milam counties also.

In Williamson County: "Williamson County, Texas: Its History and Its People" by the WCGS; "Land of Good Water" by Clara Sterns Scarborough; "Historical Round Rock, Texas" by Karen R. Thompson and Jane H. Digesualdo; and the "Historical Sketch of Williamson County Old Settlers Association" by Ken England, which contains the "Sketch of the First Settlement and Organization of Williamson County, Texas" by William Knight Makemson, my 2nd great-grandmother's brother.

In Burnet County: the two-volume "Burnet County History" by my cousin Darrell Debo and the "Burnet County Cemetery Records" and its supplement by the same are available from the Hermann Brown Free Library in Burnet.

The histories by Barkley, Scarborough and Debo are standard references for "The Handbook of Texas," as is Makemson's Sketch. "The Evolution of a State" by Noah Smithwick is Texas History 101.

Since I descend from the same Irish Houston's as Gen. Sam, I keep an eye on biographies of him. I still believe that "The Raven: A Biography of Sam Houston" by Marquis James is the most accurate. First printed in 1929, it is currently back in print.

For Tennessee: Goodspeed's "History of Tennessee" is especially good for pinpointing the location of families within any county and for information about their migration to and through the state.

Thomas Calvin Marchbanks: Citizen of Tennessee and Texas

By Jim McDonald, Austin

Thomas Calvin Marchbanks is my maternal great-great-grandfather. His fortitude, versatility and achievements make him a person to be admired. He is a man I would like to have known first hand, but I am glad to have gotten to learn about him through family journals and personal research. The best tribute I can pay him is to say that he is, in every sense, an absolute credit to the Marchbanks name - and an icon for family members that have followed him.

The areas of Tennessee in which Thomas Calvin Marchbanks was born, and Texas, to which he later migrated, became better places because of his accomplishments and successes.

There was surely rejoicing in the Overton County, Tenn., home of Margaret Sophonia Cannon and Josiah Marchbanks when Thomas Calvin was born March 29, 1808, to join his two brothers, Harold D. and Russell P. As the years progressed, these three sons and their parents welcomed one daughter and nine more sons: Eleanor, William B., James Claiborne, Jonathan, George F., Ransome P., Alexander C., Jasper, Burton and Josiah Bailey. Thomas and his 11 brothers were undoubtedly vital to Josiah's successfully farming 200 acres of land, which included a fine apple orchard and a comfortable house.

Thomas was about 28 years old when the first known major event of his adult life took place: his marriage in about 1836 to Josephine Pauline Sullivan in Smith County, Tenn. Josephine's parents, my great-great-great-grandparents, were Ann Feltz and William Sullivan.

1836, not incidentally, was also the year that Texas declared its independence from Mexico.

The still-newlyweds set up housekeeping in Sligo, DeKalb County, Tenn., on the Carey Fork River soon after the 1838 founding of the town.

Another milestone also took place in 1838 when Thomas and his brother, Russell, bought the Sligo ferry, the ferry road and the adjoining land for $5,500, which was a large amount of money back in the 1830's. (Source: DeKalb County Deed Book Ap. 142 dated Aug. 27, 1838).

The next year, 1839, became another banner year for Thomas, still a fledgling businessman, and Josephine with the Dec. 5 arrival of their first child, a son named Boling Feltz - my maternal great-grandfather. Boling ultimately ended up with four brothers and three sisters: Newton Blackstone, Victoria Ann, Alfonso Calvin, Josephine Sullivan, Laura J., Josiah Oscoela and Augustus Darwell.

And 1842 quickly became a year of more milestones for Thomas' growing family because of two cause-and-effect incidents:

1. January quickly evolved into a time of peril for Thomas and his family when the raging flood waters of the Carey Fork River swept away the Marchbanks home at the Sligo ferry. Only a large two-story log dwelling remained, spared from destruction because it was anchored to the site by a heavy limestone chimney. Newton, then about three weeks old, his two-year-old brother (Boling Feltz) and their sick mother were in this building. A ferryboat pulled alongside this log structure to rescue them from the danger of the rampaging waves, removing them through an upper story window. This was a long experience for a little babe. (Source: Boling Feltz Marchbanks, 1920 Family History).

Thomas, not wishing to again expose himself and his family to such destruction by high waves, sold - along with Russell - the ferry and the adjoining land in 1842. (Source: Letters to Jim McDonald from Sarah P. Brady sharing data written her by Thomas Webb of Tennessee).

2. The family, along with Russell, relocated in Smith County, Tenn., where Thomas bought 100 acres of land from John Lancaster at $1 per acre - $100 total. This tract, bordering on the left bank of Smith's Creek, was hilly or mountainous and heavily timbered. The two brothers, again using their entrepreneurial foresight to see the possibilities of flowing water and forest, built both a fine saw mill to convert these large trees into lumber and a flour mill to grind the local wheat harvests into flour.

(I've heard that all that remains today at the site of Thomas and Russell's saw mill and flour mill alongside Smith's Creek, located about one mile from the town of Lancaster, is a large cave plus a big, pure water spring that may still be flowing out of the side of a mountain.)

Texas, during the years that Thomas and Josephine and their family continued to live and prosper in Tennessee, gained its independence from Mexico in 1836 and existed as a republic until joining the United States in 1845. Six more years, from 1845 to 1851, passed before another milestone rose for Thomas. But this new benchmark was almost surely the most significant of their lives - as they made the monumental decision to join the widespread Tennessee-to-Texas migration.

And so it was on the morning of Monday, Sept. 16, 1851, that Thomas and his family, joined by a contingent of other Marchbanks relatives riding in assorted horse- or mule-drawn wagons, barouches or carryalls, chirped "giddyup" to these animals, and the procession slowly creaked forward to start the month long trek to Ellis County, Texas. (See: "The Trip To Texas," Austin Genealogical Society Quarterly, November 1999, page 127, for an account of this journey).

Thomas, Josephine and their children soon settled into a comfortable way of life in Ellis County where he became a successful farmer eventually owning up to about 1000 acres of land. The 1860 Census for Ellis County shows that his land was valued at $9,900 and his personal estate at $15,600.

Thomas made quite a mark for himself as a skilled horseman as early newspaper accounts show that he won Best Saddle Horse at an Ellis County Fair riding a horse named Billy Lewis. He also won an award in harness stock and saddle stock about Oct. 31, 1860, at another Ellis County Fair with a horse called Vic.

Thomas was a member of the first Board of Elders, a three-man group, of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church which was founded with 12 charter members in 1853 by Reverend Daniel G. Molloy. Thomas, as a church deacon, was for many years involved in the real estate and financial matters of this church. Josephine was equally prominent, being the first member taken into the congregation once the organization was completed.

Josephine continued to enjoy good health during her years in Texas, giving birth to three more children - Laura J., Josiah Oscoela and Augustus Darwell - between 1853 and 1858. Unfortunately, however, she became ill with typhoid fever and died 60 days later on April 1, 1859, at the age of 42 years, one month and one day. Her grave is located in the older section of the cemetery in Waxahachie, Ellis County, Texas.

Two years after Josephine's death, Thomas married Mrs. Malvina G. Whittenburg (nickname Mannie) on May 30, 1861. This date, to put it into context, is just about six weeks after the capture of Fort Sumter that gave rise to the Confederate States of America, which included Texas, surely another milestone in the chronology of this Marchbanks family.

The Marchbanks and the Whittenburg families were probably already acquainted as they lived on adjoining 1,000-acre tracts of land while Josephine was still alive. Their marriage increased the size of Thomas' family to include Mannie's three children: Clementine L., Ann S., and Norman H.

After the end of the War Between the States, Thomas registered for the 1865 Reconstruction Election on Sept. 27, 1865, when he signed the loyal citizens amnesty oath per the Presidential proclamation. (Source: Jim McDonald research).

Thomas and Mannie enjoyed 23 years of marriage until his death Dec. 6, 1884. Mannie lived six years more, dying on Oct. 4, 1900.

Thomas' will was dated Nov. 29, 1884. There are two interesting items in this will beyond the usual division of real estate and personal possessions among his children: son Augustus D. received all the household furniture, farming tools, wagon and plows; daughter Laura J. (Crisler) inherited his "new buggy." Boling Feltz Marchbanks was named the executor of his father's will.

Thus ends the 76-year life of Thomas Calvin Marchbanks, a full life by any standard - especially in those times of more than 100 years ago when a person's lifespan was often far less than that of Thomas'. I'm sure that Thomas would be pleased to know that he and his family, his achievements and his accomplishments live on in the Marchbanks family lore.

His life was one of milestones and was, in fact, a milestone in itself.

August Blum of Weisboden, Germany and Corsicana, Texas

By Susan Lelia Bracken Finn, Irvine, California

August Blum came to Corsicana, Navarro County, Texas, from Weisboden in the Empire of Germany. By trade August Blum was a confectioner, operating a business on land he purchased in Corsicana at the corner of North 11th and Jefferson Streets. August and his family – his first wife whose name is unknown and a daughter named Matilda Blum born on August 8, 1882 – settled in Corsicana to be near other family members. Records indicate that a Charles and Louis Blum were doing business in Corsicana.

It is unknown as to the date of August's first wife's death, but by July 1883, he had entertained a second marriage to a lady named Mary Ann Maynard, who died not long after their marriage. In October 1883 August Blum married a third time to Carrie Rich O'Daniel. To this union a daughter was born, named Ida Blum.

By the summer of 1891, August Blum became ill. The Court of Navarro County had August Blum admitted as a patient to the State Lunatic Asylum in Austin, Texas. AT the time of his admittance, August was only 35 years of age. The Court appointed an attorney, J.L. Autry, as his guardian. After his admission to the state facility, his wife arranged for a divorce and married David King. On August 7, 1914, August Blum died while a patient at the asylum. No record of his burial place has been located to date. I have checked with the present day Austin State Hospital, formerly know as the State Lunatic Asylum for the mentally ill, the cemetery records for Navarro County and funeral homes in Corsicana that were established by 1914.

Carrie Rich O'Daniel Blum King and her husband David King raised Matilda Blum and her half-sister Ida Blum. The King's worked hard to raise their extended family.

Matilda Blum Bracken was my grandmother. She passed away never knowing the name of her birth mother. Matilda married James V. Bracken in 1901. They moved to St. Louis, Missouri, where they had two children: Adeline Alice Virginia Bracken and William Wesley Bracken. As I was growing up, I treasured Matilda's stories of Texas relating various incidents about wood-burning stoves, spending summer afternoons in the root cellar, chasing chickens around the farm yard, baking bread in a wood-burning stove, working in the garden, fixing meals for the farm workers, how to tell when an iron was ready to use. These memories I will retain forever and pass on to my family.

Where is August Blum buried? Is he buried in Navarro County, Texas, in an unmarked grave or on the grounds of the Austin State Hospital with no marker? It is the hope of this writer that someone will read my sketch and send information to let me know what became of August Blum and if August had any family left behind in Germany. What was the name of his first wife, the mother of Matilda Blum?

Charles F. Austin Cemetery

Transcribed by Billie Blackstock, Austin, Texas, 2002

The Charles F. Austin Cemetery is located south of the intersection of Burleson Road and U.S. 183. After crossing Onion Creek and Cottonmouth Creek, it is the first left at the intersection of Hillmore Drive, Colton Road and U.S. 183. Caretakers are Milton and Bonnie Blackstock, Edgar Daugherty and other volunteers.

Billie Blackstock, who transcribed the cemetery April 24 and 25, 2002, reports that the cemetery's appearance has been good since 2000 and that the property includes large pecan and hackberry trees. The cemetery is divided into three sections: north, center and south. A chain link fence encloses the center section, and barbed wire encloses the north and south section.

This transcription also includes burial information from death certificates, the Russell collection done in the 1960s, records of the Wilke-Clay-Fish Funeral Home and family members. There may not be markers for some of the burials listed.

Many burials are of the McAngus, McKenzie, Ross and McLean families, who sailed from Scotland on the boat Havelock and landed in Galveston in February 1867. The immigrants then made their way to Central Texas and settled in the southeast part of Travis County.

Transcribed by Mary M. Elizabeth, Austin, Texas, on June 17, 2003

San Jose I Cemetery is in Austin off Hoecke Lane, west of 183 and south of Ben White. Hoecke Lane runs south from Riverside near Hwy 183. To get to the cemetery, take Lee Hill Road to the left off of Hoecke Lane, go to the top of the hill, turn left, go about 100 yards to the cemetery, about 50 yards west behind a mobile home and a travel trailer, across a flattened wire fence.

The cemetery appears abandoned, overgrown with high grass, shrubs, small trees and rose bushes. The head stones are hard to see. Many markers cannot be read, some graves unmarked.

Manor, Texas: A short history

Collected by Kay Dunlap Boyd

Manor is an incorporated community on U.S. 290 about 6 miles northeast of Austin in north-eastern Travis County. A post office called Grassdale opened there in 1859 with James Manor as postmaster, but it was discontinued in 1860. A post office called Gregg was established in 1871, but changed its name to Manor the next year in honor of James Manor. The Houston and Texas Central Railway was built through the town in 1871, giving residents easy access to markets. By the mid-1880s, Manor had a district school, three churches, six general stores and a population of 125. Cotton, cottonseed, and grain were the principal commodities shipped from the area. The community grew rapidly in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, with population estimates reaching 500 by 1892 and 900 by 1914. In the late 1920s Manor had 1,000 residents, but the onset of the Great Depression led to a decline. When the community was incorporated in the early 1930s, it reported only 654 residents. In spite of the general economic decline, however, Manor continued to serve as a commercial center for area farmers, many of whom used the railroad to ship livestock and dairy products. The population of Manor rose to 688 by the 1940s, to 813 by the 1950s, and to 940 by the 1970s. In 1988 Manor had 1,233 residents and sixty-two businesses. In 1990 its population was reported as 1,041. (From Handbook of Texas Online, Manor, Texas, www.tsha.utexas.edu/handbook/online/articles/view/MM/hjm.3.html)

Notes of Kay Dunlap Boyd

The city of Manor was named for James Manor who was born Nov. 17, 1804, in North Carolina, later moving to Tennessee where he made acquaintance with Sam Houston. In 1832, Houston was commissioned by President Jackson to negotiate treaties with Indian tribes in Texas, and James Manor was one of the men he asked to accompany him to Texas. Manor returned to Tennessee in 1835 and brought his family and brother, Joseph J. Manor, back to Texas to live. In 1841 he received a land grant for 640 acres. The Manor home was built on Gilleland Creek. This house served as the first post office and stage stand out of Austin on the Austin-Houston road. (From Manor family notes)

Cotton and corn were the main crops with sweet potatoes and wheat also cultivated with oxen and plows. This section of the county was then known as a portion of Webberville and later as Wheeler's store before it was named Manor.

Beside the Manors, other pioneer families included A.F. Boyce, W.M. Boyce, James Boyce, Sterling Chamberlain, Dave Eppright, J.I. Haynes, Ed Harrington, A.C. Hill, W.H. Hill, W.B. Howse, N.A. Rector, W.L. Shipp, E.D. Townes, and Joe, Bill, Sam and Walter Vaughn. Isaac Wilbahn gave the site for the Parson's Female Academy. Judge Townes, Judge Parson, T.M. Rector, Ed Harrington, J.B. Manor and Mr. Borhens paid for the academy. The first teacher was C. Yellowly. Others included the Rev. and Mrs. D.H. Bittle, and T.C. Bittle, and among its students, T.B. Wheeler and John C. Townes.

The school board in 1908 consisted of M.C. Abrams, T.M. Rector, C.A. Anderson, Jno Sellstrom, Wm. Luedecke and G.J. Eppright. W.I. Rowe was the superintendent. The faculty members were Mrs. Alice Vickers, Miss Mary Almquist, Miss Lavenia Browning, Mrs. Hattie Cain, and Miss Bessie Caperton. The tuition ranged from $1.50 to $3.00 per month, depending on the grade.

Mrs. Evelyn Donnell remembered that in 1924 downtown Manor had two blacksmiths, a state bank, an ice house, two barber shops, two meat markets, two jewelry stores, six grocery stores, two drug stores, a bakery, two car companies, a lumber yard, three doctors, a café and two gins. (From a 1991 recollection)

In 2003 the town's population is 1,204, with about 500 new homes built and twice as many still under construction. Other developments are a planned metropolitan park, several new food establishments, a new car dealership, and a new 18-hole golf course. Besides the horse track, the town also has its own newspaper, coffee company, library, two motels, bank, veterinarian and expanded city hall. The Chamber of Commerce is being reorganized and will become active again. The school district has increased by 500 students in the last 4 years and now counts about 2,950 pupils.

One section of the history and heritage collection in the Manor Public Library contains many obituaries, birthday notices, anniversary celebrations and birth announcements of people from the Eastern Travis County area of Manor, Gregg, Manda, Littig, Decker, New Sweden and Webberville. Some of these go back to 1900, some are in Swedish as well as English. Another book has information on the local cemeteries, church histories, homes, lodge and community history as well as the history and growth of this once-prosperous farmland. There are also maps and directories from years past.

The third part of the collection is the family histories and records of the Swedes, Germans and others that settled this land. Some of those names include the Raney/Raineys, Fields, Strombergs, Sponbergs, Dutys, Sjobergs, Johnsons, Werchans, Prinz, Newberrys, Dixons/Dicksons, Sellstroms, Forehands, Lockwoods and Manors. This is a good home for those family papers that others may want to research.

Manor Public Library is located at 601 West Carrie-Manor Street, next to the community center. Phone: 512-278-0882. The hours are 2:30 p.m.- 8:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, 10 a.m.- 4p.m. on Wednesdays and Thursdays, 10 a.m.-2 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

Historical Sketch of the Manor Baptist Church

From the Austin History Center, Collection of Mrs. Geo. J. Eppright, circa 1957

In the early days, the Baptists in this community belonged to the Webberville Baptist Church. When the country became more thickly settled it was decided that a church was needed in this neighborhood. Consequently, "On Friday before the second Sabbath in March 1857, a meeting was held at Baker's School House, by previous appointment, for the purpose of organizing a Baptist Church."

The new church was called "Bethlehem Church" and was a log building about three miles southeast of the present town of Manor. Three preachers were present: Brother Gentry, Brother Toliferro and Brother Elledge. The following persons, having their "Church Letters" with them, "handed in their Church Letters" and the church was organized: Mr. and Mrs. James Manor, Judge and Mrs. E.D. Townes, David Eppright and wife Mary Anne, Isaac Eppright and wife Martha, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Chamberlain, Mr. And Mrs. Samuel Chamberlain, Mr. And Mrs. E.M. Young, S.E. Malone, Samuel and Nancy Parks, James and E. Sterling, R. and E.A. and B.J. Masterson, M.L. Hamilton, J. and L. Taylor, C.M. and E.L. Burland and H.B. Eggleston.

"The Articles of faith, as published in the Minutes of the Colorado Association, were read and adopted. E.D. Townes and Isaac Eppright were recognized as deacons. Robert Masterson was elected church clerk and Brother Elledge was called to the Pastoral charge."

The following is a brief sketch written by Minnie E. Chamberlain about 1927 and copied by Mrs. D.E. Chamberlain (oldest sister of Col. G.J. Eppright):

Soon after the Civil War the Church moved to the town of Manor, and met once a month in the old Union Church situated where the cemetery now begins. This building had, prior to the war, been an Academy for boys over twelve years old. The younger boys attended the Parson's Female Seminary situated where the Manor High School now stands.

About 1878 the Baptists built a church of their own. Soon after this the Union Church was torn down and the Union Sunday School was held in the Baptist Church until the different denominations organized Sunday Schools of their own. In 1890 this was torn down and a new church was built on the same site, which is the building now in use. At that time we had about 200 members and consequently needed a larger church.

The WMU was organized around 1892 and has functioned since that time. The church had periods of growth and periods of recession from 1890 on and was in a period of recession when Brother George Losuk became Pastor in 1948. The church prospered under his leadership. A Brotherhood was organized in March 1955 and is active as an auxiliary of the church. The educational wing of our building was completed in September of 1955. Bro. Losuk and his wife then became missionaries to South America.

The Manor Baptist Church is now designated by our State Convention as a Five Star Church. That is, it has the four basic units of organization (Sunday School, Training Union, Brotherhood, and WMU) and is full-time so far as preaching is concerned. There are at present 194 members of the Church, 151 enrolled in Sunday School, 55 enrolled in Training Union, 38 in W.M. U. and 25 in Brotherhood.

Many of the descendants of the charter members are present members and are active in the Church. Isaac Eppright was the first deacon in 1857. Our senior deacon now 100 years later, is Bro. C.C. Eppright. Members of the Harris family, the Eppright family and the Chamberlain family are descendants of the charter members. The Church has had an interesting past, but also has a thrilling future.

Manor Methodist Church: A history

Revised and updated by Janel Moye

In the year 1854, in the schoolhouse on the southeast corner of what was to be Dr. Field's farm, the Methodist Church in Manor had its beginning. The Rev. J.W. Whipple preached and a Union Sunday School was held to serve all the denominations in the area. In 1857 the services were moved to the Parson Seminary, which was located where the old high school was later built. Three years later, in 1860, a Union church was built on the south end of the cemetery. For the next 20 years, even through the Civil War, the Methodists remained faithful and active in the community.

After the Civil War and Reconstruction, conditions improved, and, in 1879, under Rev. W.G. Nelms, a committee was appointed to raise the funds for a church for the Methodists in Manor. Many were skeptical but two years later the new building was under construction. Then on Sunday, May 14, 1882, Dr. John H. McLean preached the dedication sermon in the new Methodist church building. Though the walls were yet to be painted and the benches were hard and straight, hymns of praise and celebration were sung from the Methodist Hymnal. And the songs were sung a capella since there was still no organ for the new building. The Rev. George Nelms served as the first pastor in this new building with Dr. D.E. Smith the presiding Elder. Mrs. M.T. Darlington and T.M. Rector were members at this time and they were still on the rolls 40 years later.

The Rev. Porter followed as pastor of the Manor Methodist Church for the next four years. The church was on the Webberville circuit at the time and was designated a half-station at the Annual Conference. The Rev. J.B. Cocran served as the pastor for Manor and Elgin and made his residence in Elgin. Next came Rev. Hayne with J.B. Sears serving as the presiding Elder. Then the Rev. S.H. Morgan, who was also the Chaplain for the Texas State Senate, served for one year. The Methodist Church in Manor regained its full-station status in 1894 when Rev. Kilor was pastor, but he resigned after the death of his wife. The Rev. Dewitt Hotchkiss was appointed to fill the vacancy. Under his leadership, a parsonage was planned for himself and his bride, the Miss Lizzie Nixon from Manor. Unfortunately the couple was sent to another charge before the parsonage was completed. In the years that followed, a succession of pastors served the Methodist Church in Manor, including: Rev. Carrol Rector, Rev. F.M. Hammond, Rev. F.O. Favor, Rev. T.B. Graves, Rev. Harmond, Rev. M.C. Raba, Rev. Martin, Rev. Pierce and Rev. Garrett.

When the next pastor, Rev. Goddard, resigned to go to work for the YMCA, the Rev. T.S. Ogle was sent to finish the year at the church. At Annual Conference the next year, with Nat Reed as presiding Elder, the Rev. J.J. Mason was appointed to the Manor Methodist Church. Rev. Mason worked tirelessly during 1920 and 1921 to get the current sanctuary building constructed on the site of the old church building. In those years, the membership numbered 204, with 169 on the Sunday School rolls and 31 members in the Missionary Society.

In the fall of 1922, Rev. Manly was appointed to the church. He was followed by: Rev. Daniel Crowder, Rev. Thomson, Rev. Foersted, Rev. Mitchel, Rev. Nicholson, Rev. Bell, Rev. Griffin, Rev. Miller and Rev. Pane. This succession of pastors served up to the time of World War II when Rev. Gordon Van Sickle was serving the church. Rev. Van Sickle resigned in March of 1945 to serve as a chaplain in the U.S. Marines. The Rev. Shirley was sent to fill out the remainder of his term and continued to serve into 1946. In June 1946 Rev. Van Sickle was discharged from the Marines and returned to Manor Methodist Church. He served only a short time and Rev. Joe Adar came to take his place. In the fall of 1947, the Southwest Texas Conference changed the time of Annual Conference from October to June, and Rev. Martin was appointed to the church in September 1948.

Rev. Reeves served the church for four years and in that time endeared himself to the people of Manor. He sought to help all the people of the Manor community regardless of their church affiliation. In 1952 Rev. Wendell T. Howard came to serve the church in Manor. It was during this time that the old parsonage, built in 1896, was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Schroeder who moved it to a vacant lot to be used as a rent home. In 1953, as part of the church Centennial Celebration, the groundbreaking ceremonies were held for the construction of the current parsonage. The Rev. James E. Caffey served Manor Methodist in 1954 and 1955, and he and his family were the first to live in this new parsonage when it was complete. The next pastor of Manor Methodist Church was Rev. Oscar E. Linstrum. He served until 1962 and made more than just spiritual contributions to the church. Brother Linstrum, as he is affectionately known, believed the world should be made more beautiful. He planted fruit trees and flowers blooming on the church property. Brother Linstrum secured a $1,000 donation from the Southwest Texas Conference Board of Missions in order to begin construction on the Education Building. The construction was complete in April 1960.

In 1962, Rev. Dan C. Baker was appointed to Manor Methodist Church. Rev. Baker is known as the pastor who came a bachelor and left a married man. Then in 1963, Rev. Bill Hughes came to Manor. Rev. Bobby C. Palmos was appointed to Manor Methodist for 1964 and 1965. Rev. Louis Sterling followed him in January 1966. He served as the pastor while continuing to hold down a full-time job in Austin. Since the parsonage had only three bedrooms, Rev. Sterling purchased a larger home in Austin for his entire family. The parsonage was then rented out and the rental funds were used for special projects in the church.

During his almost fifteen years here, Rev. Sterling worked to make many improvements in the maintenance and appearance of the church facilities. The sanctuary had central heat and air conditioning installed and an electric organ was purchased. The note on the Education Building was paid off and a note-burning ceremony was held.

In 1980, Rev. Richard (Dick) Strait came to serve the Manor Church until 1982. Then Rev. John Gibbs began his ministry in Manor and is remembered as a fine, dedicated pastor who served until 1984. Then Rev. Kathryn Edwards, the first female to serve as pastor in Manor, was appointed. Rev. Edwards taught and coached the archery team at the University of Texas while she served as pastor of the church until 1988. In 1988, Rev. David King came to serve Manor Methodist Church. Rev. King began serving on a part-time basis while working full-time in Austin. In the fall of 1988, he renovated and moved into the parsonage. He worked to beautify the parsonage and church grounds with new landscaping. In 1994 he left for a new church.

In 1994 Rev. Keith Robinson began his appointment, living in the parsonage and bringing the gift of music to the church. During the next several years, Manor had interim pastors: Rev. Jack Hooper and Rev. Charles Hahn. In 1998, Rev. Tom Gibbons came to serve. During this period a building committee was formed to plan the construction of a Fellowship Hall. In June 2000, Rev. Ken Greene began his appointment and currently serves the church.

Manor United Methodist Church continues to build upon its foundations laid almost 150 years ago. The church had been faithful in its commitment to God by building the spiritual lives of its members and serving actively in the community.

Report of Board of Managers and Superintendent of the Texas Confederate Women's Home, 1916

Extracted by Kay Dunlap Boyd, Austin, Texas

The Confederate Woman's Home was a gift to the State of Texas from the Texas Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, an organization composed of the wives, widows, and daughters of Confederate soldiers. The Constitution of the State of Texas provided that the State maintain the indigent wife and widows of Confederate soldier and sailors. Also the women who, themselves, gave service such as nursing wounded Confederate soldiers, or preparing clothing and food for them were eligible for care in this facility. The Home was located on the corner of Thirty-eighth and Cedar Streets opening June 3, 1908. The old ladies who died at the Confederate Woman's Home were laid away for their last long sleep in a beautiful plot in the State Cemetery, where rest the bodies of the soldiers who died in the Confederate Home. Husband and wife were buried side by side.

Texas Confederate Women's Home in the news

Extracted by Kay Dunlap Boyd, Austin, Texas

From Austin Statesman, November 26, 1911

There is one place in Austin where a "grandmother party" is held every day... mothers and wives of two or three generations back. Some among them were "young and chic and full of cupid's wiles" before the hoop skirts were ever heard of, and others remember before the invention of matches when it was necessary to go to the neighbors to borrow, "a chuck of fire." These grandmothers are "residents" of the Texas Confederate Woman's Home. The Home is barren of all pets. Some few of them like flowers and a greater number will sit by the hour to listen to good music. Two of them are able to play the piano. All the grandmothers write and receive letters, sometimes from relatives and friends, sometimes only from kinsmen.

From Austin American, Jan. 10, 1916

Mrs. Samantha C. Cumby died at the Confederate Women's Home yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. She was born at Moulton, Alabama in 1825 and was married to John C. Cumby in 1847. She was admitted to the Home from Temple in November 1909.

Funeral services will be held from the Home this afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. B. W. Allen of the Allen Memorial Church officiating. Pallbearers will be chosen from the Veterans at the Confederate home.

From Austin American, March 9, 1918

Mrs. Amelia Wilson died at the Confederate Women's Home Thursday night at 9:30. She was born in 1856 in Poke [Polk?] County, Alabama and came to Texas in 1879. She has been at the Home for two years.

From Austin American, Tuesday, March 18, 1926

Mr. Jefferson Davis is said to be as feeble as a sick man can be. He is bent with care and years. His voice is weak and piping, and he is pronounced almost decrepid. Many years ago he lost the sight in one eye and now the other is rapidly losing its power of sight. Certainly the old man will live but a short while longer.

Round Rock Tidbits from the Austin Daily Statesman
Friday Morning, April 18, 1884

They Will Marry

And, Having Wed, It is Meet They

Should Have a Wedding Tour

Special Telegram to The Statesman

Round Rock, April 17 – The southbound Missouri-Pacific carried off two bridal parties from this county, Mr. J.W. Whittle and bride, nee Miss Ada Talbott, post mistress of Georgetown, and left on a bridal tour to Galveston.

Also Mr. Charles T. Hall, formerly of Round Rock, now of Kyle and his bride, nee Miss Eliza F. Miller, who left for Kyle, their future home. They were married at Liberty Hill this morning.

Col. Gurley passed through here today from Georgetown. He had sold a large tract of land near Granger to Mr. A.S. Fisher of Georgetown.

April 23, 1884, From Round Rock

Gen. Walker, of the New Capitol, on a Tour of Inspection-Masonic News, Etc. Special Telegram to The Statesman

Round Rock, April 22 –The masons have purchased the two-story stone building, corner Mays street and Bagdad avenue, for a lodge.

A large herd of cattle passed north yesterday.

Wm. Whittle's large ice house in the east end of town is about completed. He will deal largely in lake ice and keep the Round Rockers cool this summer.

Gen. Walker, supervising architect of the state capitol, with Mr. Dickenson, was here to-day examining the rock at Governor Davis' quarry near this place. He pronounces one stratum the finest rock for building purposes yet found by the board. He also examined and took with him specimens of our hydraulic cement rock, which, when burnt, crushed and ground makes a superior quality of hydraulic cement. The quality of the rock is inexhaustible, and the cement can be manufactured at about fifty cents per barrel.

A new telegraph line belonging to the Telephone-Telegraph company was completed to this place from Belton yesterday.

Dr. Milt. Tucker, sheriff of Williamson county, passed through town yesterday en route to Belton. It is surmised that he went to attend the meeting of the medical association which met at that place to-day. Drs. Cain and Black both left to-day for Belton where they will attend the association.

Miss Jodie Northington, daughter of Hon. A.J. Northington, left to-day for her home in Lampasas.

Index to naturalization records to 1906 in Travis County, Texas

Recorded by Kay Dunlap Boyd

This index began in the November 2002 issue, which ran names Juan Aballos through Alfred Boles. The March 2003 issue ran names Carl O. Bollman through Phillipp Doppenschitt, and June's names ran from Ramon Dorado to Hugo Erzkus.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 names are on this complete index, which was entered from a microfilm copy of the WPA Index at the Austin Public Library's Austin History Center. The microfilm is available at Austin History Center and through LDS Family History Centers. Complete recorded paper copies are on file at Austin History Center and at Texas State Library Genealogy Collection. The entire file has been entered electronically and will soon be at www.austintxgensoc.org.

The microfilm record contains this statement:

"Complete Index to Naturalization Records of Travis County, prepared by the State Wide Records Project of the WPA, sponsored by the Department of Justice through the Naturalization and Immigration division of the Federal Government. It took several months to compile this record by a staff of workers under the direction of Mr. E.C. Duke, District Supervisor (without cost to Travis County). This is a complete record of naturalization proceedings in the Probate, County and District Court of Travis County; at the time the County was organized, either of the three courts handled naturalization matters. Since 1906, all such matters have been handled by the U.S. District Courts. The preparation of this record was in line with a general program over the entire Country, and the copy of the record was given the District Clerk's Office for the cooperation it gave the Staff that worked here on the project.

"Requests for information in regard to Naturalization Records have been numerous recently, due to Social Security Laws, Old Age Assistance Benefits and war conditions requiring the establishment of citizenship."

The Austin Genealogical Society

General Information

PURPOSE Austin Genealogical Society was organized in 1960 as a not-for-profit corporation chartered by the State of Texas. Its purposes are to collect and preserve genealogical and historical information about the people of Texas, particularly pertaining to the City of Austin and to Travis and surrounding counties; to instruct and assist members in genealogical research; and to publish public and private records of genealogical interest. In addition, the AGS supports the Genealogical Collection, Texas State Library by donations of books and other genealogical material. Gifts and bequests to AGS are tax-deductible to the full extent permitted by law.

MEMBERSHIP is open to all upon payment of annual dues. Classes: Individual: $20; Family (two in the same household): $30; Patron of AGS: $100; Lifetime: $500 ($300 if over age 65). All classes entitle one copy of each issue of the Quarterly and the monthly Newsletter, as well as two pages apiece (a total of four pages for Family or higher whether one or two people submit listings) in the Ancestor Listing issue, the June Quarterly. After July 1, dues are $10 for the balance of the year, but you will receive only the publications produced after the date you join. Membership includes a copy the annual Membership Handbook, which is published each spring.

DUES FOR EXISTING MEMBERS are payable on or before January 1 of each year for the ensuing year. If dues are not received by February 1, the name must be dropped from the mailing list. If membership is reinstated later and Quarterlies and Newsletters have to be mailed individually, postage must be charged. (Back Quarterlies are supplied only if available – very few extras are printed). Send dues payments to AGS Treasurer, P.O. Box 1507, Austin Texas 78767-1507.

MEETINGS of the general membership begin at 7:30 p.m. on the fourth Tuesday of each month except August and December. Members are encouraged to come as early as 6:30 to socialize with each other. Meeting Place: Highland Park Baptist Church, 5206 Balcones Dr. Take Northland (RR 2222) exit off Loop1 (Mopac). Go west one block to Balcones Dr., then left 1½ blocks. The church and parking lot are on right. Visitors are always welcome. The Board of Directors meets at 6:15 in a separate room.

BOOK REVIEW POLICY Books on subjects of interest to genealogists will be reviewed, but cannot be reviewed in AGS Quarterly on the basis of advertising alone. Review copies received by the Quarterly Editor at 3310 Hancock Dr., Austin, Texas 78731, by the first of February, May, August or October will be reviewed in the next Quarterly, space permitting. Review books are donated to the Texas State Library's Genealogy Collection.

CHECK RETURN POLICY Members and other payees must pay AGS the cost of any returned check (currently $5) over and above the charge their bank may impose.

AGS QUARTERLY is issued about the middle of March, June, September and November. Contributions are welcome, subject to editing for style and length. Contributor is completely responsible for accuracy and any copyright infringement. AGS assumes no responsibility for content of submitted material. See inside front cover for address.

ANCESTOR LISTING PAGES for the June issue of Quarterly must reach the Editor at 3310 Hancock Dr., Austin, Texas 78731, or alanasuzy@earthlink.net by May 10. They must be BLACK and LEGIBLE, whether typed, hand-written, computer-printed or in superior calligraphy. Months must be SPELLED or abbreviated, not in figures. DATES SHOULD BE SHOWN in accepted genealogical style, that is, DAY, MONTH, COMPLETE YEAR. Leave 1-inch margins at both sides and at top and bottom. Carefully check horizontal pages (reading in the 11-inch direction). Otherwise, the Editor has to position some pages upside down to prevent loss of data in the stapling-punching process. NO 8½ x14 sheets, please. You may submit lineage or family group charts, ahnentafels, narratives, cemetery inscriptions, Bible records, census data, queries, or a combination of material, just so it is not under copyright. BE SURE to proofread your material for accuracy and clarity so we will not publish faulty or incorrect data. Consult a recent June AGS Quarterly for suggestions. Remember that reproductions are dimmer than originals so try to provide good quality originals.

Remember, individual membership secures two facing pages, and family or higher membership allows you four pages.

AGS QUARTERLY DEADLINES: 10th of February, May, August and October. Send material to AGS Quarterly, Alana Moehring Mallard, editor, 3310 Hancock Dr., Austin, Texas 78731 or alanasuzy@earthlink.net or call 512-453-1117.
