Editor's Message

Randy W. Whited

I recently read an editorial on the economy's effect on various industries. Second on the list of recession-proof markets (after gas stations...) was the hobby business. The belief is that people look for comfort in pocket-book friendly pursuits and keep their money and time close to home.

That bit of information gave me pause to think of the similarities with genealogy societies and like efforts. In this age of 'pajama-genealogy' and tight budgets, what does a local society have to offer its membership? A brief review of the contents of this Quarterly provides a cursory enumeration.

In 2009 AGS will host more than sixteen hours of quality, informative lectures and presentations, not including an excellent lineup for our annual seminar in May. Our twice-annual education classes resume this spring with a revamped curriculum and new instructors. A more hands-on service also starts this spring with Saturday Potpourri, a combination of mini-lectures and guidance/education segments.

The Society is also a focal point for volunteer efforts and personal development. The Travis County Cemetery Transcriptions project is still going strong. Nancy Hickman's Creedmoor Community Cemetery transcription found on page 105 is a recent example. In a similar vein, one can find the first segment of Robert Sage's excellent work in providing a listing of early Travis County marriages on page 116.

As always, I would like to stress that the Quarterly is the membership journal for your Society. All membership contributions are welcomed and encouraged without concern as to geographical location.

Whatever your talents, interests or background, AGS has a lot to offer in 2009 and beyond. By the time you receive this final issue of 2008, it will likely be early January. In the regard, please accept a belated Happy Holidays and have a prosperous New Year.

Sincerely,

Kandy Whited

Papa was a Preacher... and his papa was one too

Carolyn Roth Spillers, AGS Member

Dundenheim, Baden, Germany is grape growing country in the southeastern part of the country, and about 8 miles north of Kehl which lies across the river from Straussberg, France. My grandfather, Karl Roth was born in Dundenheim in 1869. He joined the army but was released after 3 weeks. We never knew why, but have a photo of him in his uniform.

Karl was the youngest son of Johann Jacob Roth Jr. born 1816 and Catharina Huck born 1832. Eight children were born to this family: Johann Jacob, born 1860; Johann Michael, born 1862; Georg Friedrich, born 1863; Gottlieb, born 1865; Katharina, born 1866; Karolina, born 1867; Karl, born 1869 and a baby girl stillborn in 1872. Karolina died as an infant.

The German immigration into Texas that started about 1851 brought a lot of Lutherans into the area, especially Fredericksburg, New Braunfels and South Texas. When the letters home to Germany expressed the need for pastors and a religious community, St. Chrischona in Basel, Switzerland added classes to prepare young men as pastors. My grandfather was one of 121 young men who came to Texas as pastors to answer the call of the rural communities. This group arrived singly or sometimes in groups of an entire class over a period of about 45 years.

After four years at St. Chrischona, Pastor Karl Roth arrived on Ellis Island. September 17, 1895, and from there came to Texas arriving in Galveston. We have a letter he wrote while still aboard the steamship EMS the day before he arrived. Once in Texas, he went to Brenham where he met with the President of the Texas Synod, the Reverend A. H. Falkenberg. He was sent to Bushdale, a small community in South Texas. In April 1896, he went back to Galveston to meet Elizabeth Gerber when she arrived. They went to Brenham where they were married by Pastor G. Langner on April 6th. We have no family history as to when or where they met. Elizabeth often remarked that she got so seasick on her trip, she wanted to die.

Elizabeth was born in 1866 in Kehl, the oldest daughter of Johann Gerber born 1834 and Elizabeth Keller born 1838. Her six sisters all stayed in Germany. Prior to coming to America, Elizabeth was a Home Economics teacher and later taught fine needlework in the Hoeheren Toehter Schul for more "advanced daughters" in Karlsruhe, Germany for eight years. We have samples of her needlework, some of which are dated 1883.

Their first son was born in Bushdale, Milam County in 1898. He was named Theophil John, but was always called T.J. In 1901, Carl Nathaniel was born. Both young men followed their father into the ministry. Because the family could not afford both sons in college at the same time, my father, Carl N. took a test, passed and taught school for a year in 1918 at the age of 17. He chose to teach the younger grades because the higher grades had young men who were friends and close to the same age.

Pastor Karl Roth served parishes in Bushdale, Sublime, Bushdale (a second time), Shive-Pottsville, and his final parish, Charlottenburg from 1929 to 1934 where he died. He was a talented young man evidenced by the altar he carved for the church in Sublime which has a Historical Marker.

About 20 years ago, my sister Johanna Roth Lange and my parents made a trip to visit the old church only to find it gone. Researching historical documents and notations, and from conversations with local residents, she found the church in Charlottenburg had closed in 1948, the congregation merged with a congregation in Shiner and the building sold. It was disappointing and heartbreaking.

In the fall of 2005, she learned where the building had been moved. She was determined to find the church her grandfather had served. Sold and moved several times, it now rests about a mile from the original location, but when she and her husband got there, it looked like a big barn with storage sheds attached.

The building which had been stripped of the tower and narthex, boarded up in tin and plywood just didn't look like a church. However, once inside, it still felt like a church. It was inspiring and she has said, "It talked to me." They discovered the original paint applied in 1890, if faded and worn, was still visible in places including the hand painted scroll work along the wainscoting. The stained glass windows had been boarded up, protected and preserved in their original frames. Some still had the original shutters.

The balcony with two flights of stairs was still intact and there was a hole in the ceiling for the bell rope.

Johanna had been in charge of the gardens at the Texas Agriculture Education and Heritage Center north of Seguin, and they was looking for a historical church to add to the buildings they were collecting for a pioneer village. That was when Johanna suggested Zion Lutheran Church of Charlottenburg as a possibility. This was an opportunity to honor our grandfather as well as the other pioneer pastors who came to Texas. Eleven of these early pastors served the congregation in Charlottenburg. The down payment has been made and fund-raising begun to relocate the church to Seguin and eventually restore it to its former use.

Our sincere hope is that descendants of former members will share their memories, mementoes and financial assistance to this effort to honor a vital part of Texas History.

AUSTIN GRADED SCHOOL Its Operation and Other Items of Interest Concerning it.

It has been the pleasure of a STATESMAN reporter to make a thorough visitation within the walls of the Austin graded school building. It was opened for scholars on Monday, the second of October, and on yesterday over two hundred pupils had been enrolled in all the grades, and the number will increase from week to week until its capacity is fully attained. The idea of establishing a graded school and erecting a building therefor is probably to be attributed more to Mr. S. G. Sneed than any other man in the community. Major C. R. Johns, Mr. S. G. Sneed and Mr. Joe Harrell, the faithful trustees of the public fund which has been created for its establishment, and who, as a board of directors, set on foot and accomplished this good work for Austin, should be held in grateful remembrance by community. These men were originators, and they now have associated with them a most worthy set of gentlemen to carry out the working of the institution. The present are C. R. Johns, president; Walter Tips, vice president; D. W. C. Baker, secretary; S. G. Sneed, treasurer; Jos. Harrell, N. G. Shelley, T. D. Wooten, B. Melasky, E. Christian, C. S. West, J. H. Robinson, Sr., R. H. Lowry, and are a guarantee within these names themselves that nothing will be left undone which may tend to add to the merits of this splendid institution. It is one of those things which must grow as the years increase, and we predict that this is but the commencement of an era which will produce men and women, even here in Austin, ready for the severest conflicts of life. They will grow up here and be educated here; they will love home, and Austin's greatness, it may be expected, will be their aim and their pride.

THE SUPERINTENDENT

Mr. D. W. C. Baker has been elected, on the part of the directory, superintendent of the Austin graded school, and the selection of this gentleman gives double assurance that the institution will be well conducted. Mr. Baker has had much experience superintending and conducting school, and is just the man who will take great interest in making the school a success. He is now looking especially into the grading of the school, and is instituting such rules and regulations for its management as will make it a model in every respect.

THE BUILDING

is located on Rio Grande street, five squares west of Capitol Square, and occupies a commanding position upon intermediate ground. From its windows, and more perfectly from its roof, is visible some of the grandest scenery encircling Austin, while about its halls and corridors play in freedom and purity the balmy breeze from the Gulf of Mexico. The building is admirably constructed for its purposes, sixty feet from front with a depth of eighty-six feet give it ample room, and while all parts of it can be made close and comfortable in the coldest weather, it is so ventilated as to be pleasant during even the warmest seasons. Its main entrance is upon Rio Grande street, facing to the east. An ample portal admits you to a large and airy hall upon each side of which there are two class rooms admirably arranged with modern school appliances. The second story rises above a basement which will be described hereafter. Out at the west end of the second story hall is another wide portal from which descends a broad pair of stairs to the sloping hillside, where are scattered clumps of native oaks. and other trees. In the valley just beyond this winds Shoal Creek and out upon the elevated plateau beyond stands the massive turreted walls of the Texas Military Institute. For beauty and even sublimity of location no spot could have been selected surpassing that upon which stands this school edifice. But we are writing of its construction. Two tasteful flights of stairs ascend to the second story, one from the front and the other from the rear entrance. The second story is an exact plan of the one below, and above this rises a mansard roof, in which are located large water tanks. The basement is divided into four compartments. Those in front are to be held as a reserve for schoolrooms, while the two in the rear and the wood rooms, in which are also located the furnaces for heating the entire building. Hot air conductors penetrate every room, and each one is supplied with both hot and cold air registers. The Austin City Water Works Company have laid one of the mains to the building, and supply pipes penetrate every part of it. We almost forgot to mention the little apartments formed out of the east and west ends of the hall of the third story. The one in front is the superintendent's room, while that one looking to the west is the janitor's, whose duty it is to remain in the building at all times as a sort of housekeeper.

CAPACITY

The eight class rooms will each accommodate sixty pupils, making a capacity on the second and third stories for 480 scholars. The basement story stand up well above the ground, and the two font rooms will, if it be required, five room for 120 pupils more, making a complete capacity for 600. The school rooms are of uniform size, twenty by thirty-eight feet, and the halls are twenty by eighty-six feet. The figures show that space and comfort have been taken properly into consideration.

THE CLASS ROOMS

The female scholars occupy the first story, the males the second. There are four class rooms on each floor, with accommodations for sixty scholars in each room. There rooms are well ventilated and especially comfortable, and are supplied with the most approved modern school furniture. There are thirty desks in every department, and room at each desk for two scholars to remain comfortably seated. A new contrivance in the way of a patent slating laid upon the walls, between the window frames, answers the purpose of blackboards with admirable fitness. One teacher presides in each room, and the teacher's desk and chair is located in a corner of the entrance side of the apartment, and at a glance there can made a thorough survey of the room and scholars.

GRADES, TEACHERS AND CLASSES

Both the male and female departments are divided into four grades, each grade into two divisions, and every grade is assigned a separate room.

The first division of the first grade is assigned a course of study in articulation, spelling, reading, writing and oral drills in geography and arithmetic, with Miss Ciara Burnham as principal of the male, and Mrs. Georgia Donnan of the female department. The second division of the grade carries the young mind farther into these elementary studies.

In the second grade, first and second division, are taught reading, writing, spelling, elementary geography, arithmetic and composition; principal in male department, Mrs. M. F. Smith; in female, Mrs. Anna M. Stewart.

In the third grade are taught the previously named studies in more advanced form, together with geology, English grammar, comprehensive and physical geography, chemistry and Latin, with Miss Gertrude Bacon as principal in the female and Miss Fannie Campbell in the male department.

The fourth grade embraces a course of in elocution, study English grammar. composition. rhetoric, English literature, natural philosophy, arithmetic, algebra, Latin, astronomy, physiology and hygiene, geometry, philosophy mental and science government. The principals in this grade are, of the female department, Mrs. R. W. Lowry, and of the male, Mr. W. H. Russel.

TUITION FEES

The rates to be charged for tuition are placed very low: First grade, per month, $1.50; second grade, $2; third grade $2.50; fourth grade, $3, placing it within the power of every one to obtain a good education at home.

DIVISION OF THE SEXES

The second story is used as the female department, the third for the male. There is a complete division of the sexes in the schoolrooms, and during recreations the pupils of each grade will remain under special charge of its teacher. It is acknowledged, however, that a wholesome admixture of the sexes conduces good manners and neatness, and they will be occasionally brought together at recitations and lectures with this object in view. The meeting of the sexes will be sufficiently rare to simulate the classes to proficiency in the presence of each other.

MISCELLANEOUS

Lectures will be an important feature in the course of instruction. Gen. N. G. Shelley will be heard upon the science of government, Pro. A. Goldmann will lecture on the demonstrate chemistry; Dr. J. W. McLaughlin will tell the young people a part of what he knows about physiology and hygiene, while Prof S. G. Sneed will talk to them about the earth's construction and of the wonders of the heavens. The institution is supplied with chemical and philosophical apparatus, and the demonstrations connected with some of these lecture will be highly interesting. Instructions in music may be taken up in the future.

We will say more of the Austin graded school and its conduct at some other time.

Texas' Oldest School To Host 2nd Alumni Celebration

The oldest public school in the State of Texas — Austin's Pease Elementary located at 1106 Rio Grande Street — will welcome former students in a 2nd Annual Alumni Celebration at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 5.

Pease Elementary stands on land first chartered by Austin founders for a 1839. As school in the growing community and new Texas Constitution called for public schools to be available to all children. Pease opened its doors to 200 students on October 2, 1876. The school's role in the history of Austin and the State of Texas was formally recognized when it was awarded a State Historical Marker in 1971.

The school has also borne several names. Originally the Austin Graded School, Pease became the West Austin Ward School in 1881, and, in 1902, was renamed again in honor of former Governor E. M. Pease, a strong advocate for public education.

By 1916, enrollment reached 800 students and additional classrooms were added to the school's face on Rio Grande, creating its current appearance. Later renovations brought indoor plumbing, a cafeteria, auditorium, heating, more classrooms, a child care center, and, in 1999, a gymnasium.

Genealogical Proof Standard

Harold Hudnall, AGS Member

Whether you call it Genealogy, Family History, or just searching for your roots, we all have embarked on a journey to find out who we are and where we came from. The journey starts easily enough; that is if we start with ourselves, as we are told to do by the professionals. We know when and where we were born, when and to whom we married (and possibly divorced) and have documents to prove it. Usually we have the same for our parents and sometimes our siblings, including death certificates if they have passed away.

However as we go farther back in time those documents become more scarce. So how do we prove that someone is our ancestor? In the past, the recommended practice was called the "preponderance of evidence." In Civil Law, the side with the heaviest evidence, i.e., a "preponderance of evidence" usually wins the case. This minimal measure of evidence is no longer considered adequate for genealogical proof.

The "Genealogical Proof Standard" (GPS) is now the accepted standard necessary to build a solid case. We can apply the measure when there is no direct evidence of an event.

What is the GPS? It is a five-step process as set forth in the Board for Certification's "BCG Genealogical Standards Manual." Simply put, it holds that proof requires:

- we conduct a reasonably exhaustive search for all information that is or may be pertinent to the identity, relationship, event, or situation in question;
- we collect and include in our compilation a complete, accurate citation to the source or sources of each item of information we use;
- we analyze and correlate the collected information to assess its quality of evidence;
- we resolve any conflicts caused by items of evidence that contradict each other or are contrary to a proposed (hypothetical) solution to the question; and
- 5. we arrive at a soundly reasoned, coherently written conclusion.

Sources — Information — Evidence

Sources provide information from which we select evidence for analysis. Sources may be original or derivative. An original source is the first recording of an event. A derivative source is one that provides information that was transcribed, abstracted, summarized or duplicated from an original source.

Information considers the degree of personal involvement by the informant. A record is either primary or secondary information. It is primary if it was made at or near the time of the event by someone in a position to know firsthand, or it was made in writing by an officer charged by law, cannon or by-laws with creating an accurate record. It may be made orally, in writing or even pictorially as in a painting or photograph. All other information must be considered as secondary.

Evidence evaluates the relevance of information and adequacy to answer the question. Direct evidence must be sufficient on its own to prove an event without the necessity of introducing other records.

Austin Genealogical Society Quarterly, 49 (3/4)

Indirect evidence, or circumstantial evidence as it is sometimes called, requires the Elizabeth Shown Mills, in a lecture on the GPS, states that we need to use an ACTION PLAN!

- ✓ Assess what you have.
- ✓ Complete the research.
- ✓ Trust nobody!
- ✓ Integrate & correlate details.
- ✓ Outline a theory then try to disprove it! If it survives...
- ✓ Now, write a convincing argument.

Making the Assessment

Identify the problem precisely. What are we trying to prove?

Analyze the data and weigh the evidence.

- Are there other ways to interpret specific statements?
- How much weight does each "fact" earn, when measured by BCG's Research Process Map?
- Where are weaknesses in our evidence? How can they be strengthened?
- What was the quality of research that produced this evidence?

Reappraise prior conclusions. Can we make other hypotheses from the same evidence?

Completing the Research

Identify all relevant records that have not been used yet.

Not just those on microfilm, but all that

Austin Genealogical Society Quarterly, 49 (3/4)

introduction of other information to prove an event.

exists!

- Not just those conveniently available, but all that exists!
- Not just those that are nicely indexed, but all that exists!
- Not just those in paper form, but also what is online!
- Not just databases, but also the actual records!
- Not just ordinary sources such as censuses or newspapers or NARA's compiled service records, but tract books, estray books, and NARA's military hospital records and daily post reports – for starters!

Make a work plan.

Do that work!

Now proceed with rest of Action Plan until case is adequately proved.

So how do I build a case?

Use original records whenever possible.

 A valid case cannot be built on defective evidence.

Do exhaustive research.

 We cannot make a reliable decision from part of the evidence. Overlooked records are time bombs waiting to explode our theories.

Gather every detail - and document it!

 All those details that seem trivial when we first encounter them may later mesh with new evidence to provide clues or help prove a point.

Play Devil's Advocate.

• As a theory takes shape, we go back to the evidence and try to disprove that theory. We do additional research from an adversarial viewpoint. Not everyone will be awed by our conclusion – especially if it contradicts theirs! So let us anticipate arguments. We might even disprove our own theory in the process!

Write it up.

 We build a case on paper, step-by-step, with thorough documentation, so others can judge the completeness of our research and the quality of our conclusions. No one will just "take our word" for anything. Nor is it enough to just say we have "looked at everything and the weight of the evidence shows . . ." We must present a convincing, written argument.

Publish the paper.

 This assures wider and more permanent distribution. Readers may have other data or viewpoints to contribute. Also, the published word has power! Conclusions accepted by journals of stature carry considerable credibility.

Do not trust this conclusion as the final word.

 It is never possible in genealogy to prove parentage, identity, or origins. We merely strive to reach logical and convincing conclusions through thorough research and sound analysis.

Mental Boosters

(Power Suggestions from Other Players)

Think like an INVESTOR:

Self-defeating habits to avoid at all costs:

- Short-term thinking
- Speculation
- Mental shortcuts
- Race for information
- Tainted objectivity
- Emotional potholes

Think like an INVESTIGATIVE JOURNALIST

Feed your curiosity
 Austin Genealogical Society Quarterly, 49 (3/4)

- Don't rely on second-hand information
- Get everything in writing
- Question "conventional wisdom"
- Don't count on finding the smoking gun!

Think like a PROFILER

- Study human nature
- Study the circumstances
- Know what's "normal" and what's "out of norm"

Think like an ARTIST

Think abstractly

(There are no absolutes in genealogy!)

- Look for the characteristics that make up a person not just a name
- Consider the setting as well as the central subject

Think like SHERLOCK

- Collect all of the facts
- Look beyond the obvious
- Be an independent thinker
- Consider the context
- Build a broad knowledge base

Think like a DOCTOR

Diagnosis is a 3-stage process

(Get the history; do a complete exam; then analyze your findings and order tests)

A pattern is not a diagnosis

(Patterns suggest possibilities; they do not identify the disease)

• Symptoms have to be considered in context

Think like a FARMER

- Rotate your crops or you will deplete your soil
- Fertilize your brain do not just plant seeds and pull weeds
- Let the field lie fallow periodically

(When you are stuck, take a break from the problem.

While your brain is idling, it will subconsciously work on the solution.

CHALLENGE:

How many ways can you think of to apply these concepts to genealogy?

Narrative: Obituaries

Richard Robertson, Member of AGS and Lifetime Learning Classes

It is my understanding that one or more members of the Memoirs Class years ago wrote their own obituaries. The purpose, of course, was to say what one thought should be said for posterity.

I have toyed with the idea of drafting my obituary but have not yet made a final decision.

In the genealogy world we are encouraged to give complete names of the deceased, the names and relationships of the descendants, and pertinent facts about education, employment, and activities in the community that would give a well-rounded view of the person. And a fine line needs to be drawn between bragging and informing.

I have a wonderful obituary of my maternal great grandmother, who died in 1917 at the age of 95. Of course she was living in the small town of Jacksonville, Texas, and in a different age. But the information in the obituary is so valuable to her descendants. Covering two and a half columns of the paper it included details about her birth, marriage, movement from Tennessee to Texas during the days of the Republic of Texas, and a small paragraph about each of her children. One of the interesting paragraphs of the obit said: "The history of Mrs Sory's life is one of unusual interest, and if we could today give a list of her descendants we feel sure the number would be near 200. In September 1897, nearly twenty years ago, Robt. L. March, a grand-son of deceased, compiled a list of her descendants, and at that date there were 97 living, including 8 children, 50 grand children and 39 great grand children. There had then been only 11 deaths in the family, and this included one of Mrs. Sory's children, who died in infancy. The descendants now extend into the fifth generation."

Her son, my grandfather William Harris Sory, died six months later in August 1917. As a former Mayor of Jacksonville and active civic leader, he was given over three columns in his obituary. I learned a lot about him by reading this, including all of his business ventures, his leadership in uniting two local Presbyterian churches, and his passion for the temperance cause. Part of this topic said: "...many years ago he had the satisfaction of seeing the saloon driven from the borders of his home town and county...."

We often learn more about a person in death than we knew in life. An obituary often tells us something about a phase of the deceased person's life that someone else knew but we did not. And it brings diverse groups together who have one beloved person in common.

However, there is a lot of things different relating to obituaries today than there were in 1917. For one, the newspaper charges for printing them and the rates are not cheap. Secondly, the majority of obituaries I read have a picture of the deceased. This is good, depending upon the vintage of the photograph. I prefer a reasonably recent photo rather than a fifty year old version. Currently we seem to see a number of obituary pictures with the young shot and the current.

A third difference between now and 1917 is Identity Theft. This rash of thievery has now reached the obituary section of the paper. It has been reported that these thieves will take vital information given in the obituary, somehow even get the social security number from the leads, and then assume the identity of the deceased with credit cards etc., running up considerable uncontested debt. We are now told that we should file a copy of our loved one's death certificate with the three credit reporting agencies and any financial institution the deceased dealt with.

So should I write my own obituary in advance? And if so, should I provide the details a good genealogist would. Or should I be so brief that there is just a glimpse for the public record? Or should our genealogical societies come up with some alternative to provide to family and friends?

I await recommendations.

PIONEER FAMILIES OF TRAVIS COUNTY

Austin Genealogical Society will issue a pioneer certificate to those who can prove their ancestors lived in Travis County, Texas, prior to the close of 1880. To qualify for the certificate, you must be a direct descendant of people who lived here on or before Dec. 31, 1880, proved with birth, death and marriage certificates; probate, census and military records; and obituaries and Bible records.

Applications for Pioneer Families of Travis County can be found at www.AusTxGenSoc.org or from Kay Dunlap Boyd, P.O. Box 10010, Austin, Texas 78766-1010.

Each application is $20 and the certificates make nice gifts.

You do not have to be a Travis County resident or a member of Austin Genealogical Society – although membership in the society is another fine bargain at $20 a year.

Sorting out the Dallas Family Connections

Marshaleigh Orr Bahan, AGS Member

The Dallas family of the Austin Colony has been a confusing project due to much unverified information which has been accepted, passed on and defended or ignored. Alarm bells start going off when one looks at the dates and charted information. Eventually the project was abandoned because the researcher lost interest in the family.

For some unknown reason, the project was revisited in July 2008. Accepted information is that the James Loraine Dallas family and friends came to Texas from Hopkinsville, Christian County, Kentucky in 1832 or 33. James Loraine Dallas was born in 1788 in Baltimore County, Maryland, moved to and married in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania where several children were born. The family moved to Kentucky between 1818 and 1820. James Loraine Dallas died in 1835 in Washington County, Texas.

The review timing was good because new information is available online and a workable theory has evolved. This information may contribute to the family history of some early Texans. His son, Walter Riddle Dallas fought at the battle of San Jacinto and was a Texas Ranger; another son, James Loraine Dallas, a Republic of Texas Veteran and Texas Ranger, is buried in the Texas State Cemetery, in Austin, Texas. Some accounts report that the city of Dallas was named for one of these brothers who were sons of James Loraine and Elizabeth Reed (Reid) Dallas. Another son, Alexander James Dallas was prominent in Bell County, Texas.

The following is an outline of some basic, sourced, Dallas family data which was made to help determine who the parents of James Loraine Dallas were and what, if any, was his connection to George Mifflin Dallas, Vice President of the United States in 1844. It is followed by some conclusions and speculations. This is a work in progress and suggestions are welcome.

Alexander James born 15 May 1791, married 8 January 1821 to Henrietta Constantia Meade; 4. George Mifflin Dallas born 10 July 1792, died 31 December 1864 in Philadelphia, PA. George Mifflin Dallas held various high offices and was elected Vice President of U. S. in 1844 with James Polk as President.

NOTES

James Loraine Dallas and George Mifflin Dallas were not brothers; George Mifflin Dallas' family is well documented and his only surviving brother was Alexander James Dallas, born 1791. James Loraine Dallas' sons were not nephews of George Mifflin Dallas as reported in unverified Texas histories. It is likely that James L. Dallas, Sr.'s great grandfather and George Mifflin Dallas' grandfather were sons of James Dallas of St Martin, Scotland by different mothers. This would make then half cousins once removed.

James Loraine Dallas could have been the son of Walter Riddle and Catherine Crook Dallas. Nothing more is known than the marriage date of 7 March 1786 in Baltimore, MD. Siblings could have been Priscilla, Sarah, and Cloe E. (Chloe).

Walter Dallas (husband of Chloe Crook) had died by August 1758.

This same Walter Dallas had two sons listed in records, Nathan and Keith. Nathan and his sisters, Ann, Rachel and Catherine Reid filed a suit against Alexander Dallas, silk dyer in Edinburgh, Scotland 21 July 1773. The other children (Clere probably Chloe, Sarah, Elizabeth, Keith) are not named as plaintiffs and Catherine Reid had not been listed in 1756 suit against James Dallas by Walter, his children and Robert Dallas, surgeon in Jamaica, his half brother. Catherine Reid was probably Nathan's aunt who left him 1000 merks Scots in her will dated 25 August 1772. She died 15 January 1776.

Nathan Dallas could be the father of Walter Riddle Dallas but no records have been located.

Why was James Loraine Dallas in Pittsburgh, PA when his kinsmen lived in Philadelphia, PA?

Maryland Marriages and Deaths from the Maryland Gazette 1727-1839 has the announcement from a Philadelphia paper of 17 January 1817 that Dallas, Alex J. died early this morning after a short illness of 24 hours.

It appears likely that Catherine Crooke was the daughter of Joseph and Priscilla James Galloway Crook who were married 24 April 1757 in Baltimore, Maryland. Joseph Crook was the son of Charles Crook, the son of James Crook, brother of Chloe Crook wife of Walter Dallas. Priscilla's maiden name was James; she was widow of Salathiel Galloway.

1872 Austin City Directory, Surnames A-C

Transcription by Kay Boyd, AGS Board Member

INTRODUCTORY

A complete Directory of Austin is herewith offered to the public. Our city has grown so extensive-the population so great, such a work has become almost indispensable. The incomplete efforts to compile a Directory. made by strangers, men not identified with Austin nor her interests, have somewhat served to impede us in our labor. Nevertheless. having undertaken enterprise, the publishers determined to push it through to a successful issue; and we are gratified at the support that been extended to us by the thoughtful and considerate portion of the community.

... The city has been thoroughly canvassedevery home within the corporate limits has been visited, and every effort made to get the name, residence and occupation of the head of families and citizens generally. In spite, however, of all the precautions taken, a few errors and omissions, doubtless, have occurred. Through the inexplicable motive of some who refuse to give the required information, the perversity of others who intentionally or innocently mislead the canvassers, and the difficulty of spelling proper names as pronounced by some of our foreign born citizens, it cannot be wondered at if an occasional error or omission is detected.

... It was the intention of the publishers to have given a complete and full census of Austin, ...The Directory contains about fourteen hundred names, and as six inhabitants for every single name is considered a low estimate, it can be assumed that the total population of Austin amounts to about 8,500.

[The 1870 population of Austin was 4,428. "City Population History, 1850-2000." Texas Almanac, 2002-2003- AGS Editor]

It must not be forgotten, however, that this estimate does not include our large colored population, for, as a general thing, it has been found impossible to number them or fix their habitations. In many instances a single room or shanty is made to contain ten or more of them, large and small; and as they do not abide in any location for any great length of time, we have generally omitted the names of all except those who have a local habitation and occupation.

... We have endeavored to impress upon our citizens the necessity of informing us of any change they might make in location after our canvassers had visited them, but have not been materially assisted in this particular; if an error, therefore, should be discovered from failure to notify us of any change we disclaim all blame in the matter.

In the miscellaneous portions of the work, the Municipal, County and State officer have been published in such form as will be found quite useful for reference.

AUSTIN GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

P.O. BOX 10010, AUSTIN, TEXAS 78766-1010 www.AustinTxGenSoc.org

PURPOSE Austin Genealogical Society was organized in 1960 as a not-for-profit corporation chartered by the State of Texas. Its purposes are to collect and preserve genealogical and historical information about the people of Texas, particularly pertaining to the City of Austin and to Travis and surrounding counties; to instruct and assist members in genealogical research; and to publish public and private records of genealogical interest. In addition, the AGS supports the Texas State Library's Genealogical Collection and Austin Public Library's Austin History Center by donations of books and other genealogical material. Gifts and bequests to AGS are tax-deductible to the full extent permitted by law.

MEMBERSHIP is open to all upon payment of annual dues. Classes: Individual: $20; Family (two in the same household): $30; Patron of AGS: $100; Lifetime: $500 ($300 if over age 65). All classes entitle one copy of each issue of the Quarterly and the monthly Newsletter, as well as two pages apiece (a total of four pages for Family or higher whether one or two people submit listings) in the Ancestor Listing issue, the June Quarterly. After July 1, dues are $10 for the balance of the year, but you will receive only the publications produced after the date you join. Membership includes a copy the annual Membership Directory, which is published each spring.

DUES FOR EXISTING MEMBERS are payable on or before January 1 of each year for the ensuing year. If dues are not received by February 1, the name must be dropped from the mailing list. If membership is reinstated later and Quarterlies and Newsletters have to be mailed individually, postage must be charged. (Back Quarterly issues are supplied only if available). Send dues payments to AGS Treasurer, P.O. Box 10010, Austin, Texas 78766-1010.

MEETINGS of the general membership begin at 7:15 p.m. on the fourth Tuesday of each month except December. Members are encouraged to come at 6:30 p.m. Meeting Place: Highland Park Baptist Church, 5206 Balcones Dr. Take Northland (RR 2222) exit off Loop 1 (Mopac). Go west one block to Balcones Dr., then left 12 blocks. The church and parking lot are on right. Visitors are always welcome. The Board of Directors meets at 6 p.m.

CHECK RETURN POLICY Members and other payees must pay AGS the cost of any returned check (currently $5) over and above the charge their bank may impose.

AGS QUARTERLY is issued about the middle of March, June, September and November. Contributions are always welcome, subject to editing for style and length. Contributor is completely responsible for accuracy and any copyright infringement. AGS assumes no responsibility for content of submitted material. Some Quarterly articles are posted to our Website at www.AustinTxGenSoc.org.

ANCESTOR LISTING PAGES for the June issue of the Quarterly must reach the Editor at P. O. Box 10010, Austin, Texas 78766-1010, or quarterly@AustinTxGenSoc.org by May 20, preferably by electronic means, either in an email or as an attachment to an e-mail. When an electronic version is not possible, typing, handwriting or printing must be black and legible. Months must be spelled or abbreviated, not in figures. Show dates in accepted genealogical style: day, month. Leave 1-inch margins at both sides and at top and bottom, and hand-number pages on the back of each page. Carefully check horizontal pages (reading in the 11-inch direction) so that one-inch margins are on top, bottom and both sides so no information is lost in stapling. No 82 x14 sheets, please. You may submit lineage or family group charts, ahnentafels, narratives, memoirs, letters, cemetery inscriptions, Bible records, census data, queries or a combination of material, just so it is not under copyright. Proofread your material for accuracy and clarity so we will not publish faulty or incorrect data. Consult a recent June AGS Quarterly for suggestions.

Remember, individual membership secures two facing pages, and family or higher membership allows you four pages.

AGS QUARTERLY DEADLINES: 20th of February, May, August and October. Send material to AGS Quarterly, P. O. Box 10010, Austin, Texas 78766-1010 or email quarterly@AustinTxGenSoc.org.
